The Tennessee Department of Transportation (TDOT) will host a public meeting on January 08, 2024, to update the public on the proposed Widening of U.S. 31A (S.R. 11, Nolensville Pike) from north of the Mill Creek bridge to S.R. 254 (Old Hickory Boulevard) in Davidson County. This project includes modifying the existing roadway to a five-lane curb and gutter section which includes two twelve-foot-wide travel lanes in each direction, a center turn lane, six and a half foot wide sidewalks with cross walks at signalized intersections, ten-foot-wide shoulders, and additional turn lanes at major intersections. The purpose of this project is to increase the roadway capacity to accommodate traffic growth and development. The meeting is being held to inform the general public of the construction for the proposed widening and to provide the public an opportunity to provide comments regarding the proposed improvements. Representatives of TDOT will be available to provide information and answer any questions on various aspects of this project.
