

Old Stone Fort Archaeological Society

October 2012

The Old Stone Fort Archaeological Society will meet Thursday, October 11th at 6:00 pm at the Old Stone Fort Museum in Manchester, Tennessee. The purpose of this Society is to learn more about prehistoric Native American cultures and the early historic period of Tennessee. Our meetings are on the second Thursday of each month and are Free and open to the public.

Ms. Stephanie Hayes

who will present

Pompeii

The volcano Vesuvius erupted in AD 79, covering The City of Pompeii, Italy with volcanic ash. Unfortunate to say the least for the residents, but this tragedy allows archeologists the opportunity to interpret the everyday lives of people during the Roman Empire. Stephanie will share her photographs and experiences of roaming through the streets of Pompeii. Warning: this presentation could trigger the spontaneous travel-bug...

Thanks to Phillip Hodge for his excellent presentation on The Corridor K Archaeological Project at the September meeting. See you Thursday, October 11th, Mark

Good Luck to Rangers' Stephanie Hayes and Hobart Akin

Old Stone Fort is losing two great Rangers – Stephanie Hayes and Hobart Akin. Stephanie Hayes, a ten-year veteran of Tennessee State Parks will be leaving Old Stone Fort in October, moving with husband Jeff and son Fin to Okinawa, Japan.

Hobart has accepted the Interpretive Specialist job at Fort Loudoun State Park in Loudon County, Tennessee. Stephanie and Hobart have helped make our meeting nights possible and have worked well beyond their job descriptions in making the park a wonderful place to visit. Stephanie and Hobart will be missed, and we wish them all the best and hope they will visit our meetings when they are in the area.
