<sup>2</sup>Memphis combined its initial $7,014,356 QECB allocation and its RFP suballocation of $3,657,644 to support energy improvement projects under its Green Communities Program.

Bond issuance closed for one project, Sears Crosstown ($8,316,000), on February 18, 2015. Bond issuance for two other projects, Universal Life Insurance Building / Self Tucker ($2,015,300) and Knowledge Quest ($340,700), closed on April 29, 2015.

<sup>4</sup>Hamilton County has not yet identified a project for which they will use QECBs.

<sup>5</sup>Metropolitan Nashville issued its QECB allocation ($6,440,000) in August 2012 for energy improvements to its arena.

<sup>6</sup>The suballocation project for Knox County ($12,450,000), which will fund the installation of solar PV on 13 targeted sites across the county, closed on June 30, 2015.

<sup>7</sup>Lebanon's suballocation project ($3,500,000), to construct and install a waste-to-energy gasification unit, closed on April 24, 2015.
