WELCOME!

It's a pleasure to provide you with the enclosed enrollment materials regarding LTC-TN, the State of Tennessee Employee and Retiree Long-Term Care Insurance Program. You are among the millions of Americans who recognize the value of protecting their families and their financial futures from the significant expense of long-term care services. You are also among the thousands of state and local government and education employees, retirees and extended family members of those employees who are fortunate enough to be associated with an employer that recognizes the importance of offering optional long-term care protection at affordable group rates.

To get started, please review the informational materials in this enrollment kit. Inside, you will find information that will help you decide if long-term care insurance is right for you. Your kit contains all of the materials that you will need to enroll.

Now that you've considered the benefits of long-term care insurance for yourself, consider protection for your loved ones! Members of your family may also be eligible to enroll at these discounted group rates. Be sure to share this information with your spouse and other family members. Additional enrollment kits may be requested by contacting MedAmerica's Customer Service Center.

The initial open enrollment period provides a one-time opportunity for active employees for guaranteed issue – there are no medical questions or qualifications. The opportunity to apply for coverage for other family members (spouse, dependents, parents and parents-in-law) and retirees is only available by full medical underwriting.

And there's more... You and your spouse each receive a 10% discount when both of you are insured under the LTC-TN Plan.

MedAmerica's Customer Service staff will be happy to walk you through the enrollment form and answer any questions you might have. You may contact MedAmerica toll free at 1-866-615-LTCI(5824). You can also visit MedAmerica's Tennessee Long-Term Care website at www.ltc-tn.com.

Enroll Now! ... You owe it to yourself and your family to plan for a secure future by providing important protection from the potentially devastating costs associated with long-term care.

Benefit Selections

Daily Benefit Amount

This is the maximum benefit amount the policy will pay per day for covered services. Actual charges for nursing facility, assisted living facility, bed reservation and respite care are paid at 100% of your daily benefit amount. Home care, adult day care, and hospice program benefits are paid at 60% of your daily benefit amount. Options include:

- $100/$60
- $150/$90
- $200/$120

Benefit Period

This is the number of days for which daily benefits are payable. Choose from 1,095 Days (3 years) or 1,825 Days (5 years).

Lifetime Benefit Amount

The lifetime benefit amount, also called a “pool of money,” is the total amount of money available for benefits. It is determined by multiplying the daily benefit amount by the benefit period.

Lifetime Benefit Amount Calculation Example:

Benefit Period	1,095 Days (3 years)	1,825 Days (5 years)
x Daily Benefit	$100/Day	$100/Day
= Lifetime Benefit Amount	$109,500	$182,500

Inflation Protection

Inflation protection protects the value of the coverage you buy today to offset future increases in the costs for long-term care. Your CareDirections® Premier inflation protection options are:

- Compound Inflation 5% Annually
- No Inflation

Lifetime Elimination Period

This once-in-a-lifetime elimination period is similar to a deductible. It is the period of time you must pay for covered services before we begin to pay benefits. It begins on the 1st day you are certified as meeting benefit eligibility. Your CareDirections® Premier lifetime elimination period is 90 calendar days.

Premium Payment

Your CareDirections® Premier payment plan is lifetime. Premiums will be waived during any period you are receiving benefits.

LTC-TN qualifies for the Tennessee Long-Term Care Partnership plan.*

This means that every dollar the policy pays in benefits equals a dollar of assets that will be protected if you ever need to apply for the Medicaid long-term care benefit. Without a partnership-certified policy, Medicaid (TennCare in Tennessee) will pay benefits only after you have spent down most of your assets to financially qualify. Keep in mind, every dollar not paid by Medicaid (TennCare in Tennessee) is a dollar that can stay in the state budget for education, public works and to fund jobs for public employees.

* You must select the 5% compound inflation rider in order for your policy to be partnership-certified.

Features — LTC-TN CareDirections® Premier

Premier Protection — security and peace of mind for all levels of long-term care services.

Portability

Coverage anywhere in the United States and its possessions.

Level Premiums

Your premium is based on your age at the time of enrollment and cannot be increased in the future based on age or health. Your premium could possibly increase if the premium is increased for everyone enrolled in the group.

Guaranteed Renewability

Your coverage continues as long as premiums are paid on time.

Premium Waiver

Your premium payments will be waived on a monthly basis, starting on the 1st day you are certified as meeting benefit eligibility, have satisfied the lifetime elimination period and have been approved for benefits. The premium waiver ends when you are no longer benefit eligible for a period of 90 calendar days.

Spousal Discount

10% premium reduction for each spouse when both spouses are issued coverage.

Benefit Planning

Our expert personal care advisors may assist in defining your plan of care and arranging for long-term care services. This service is optional and does not reduce your lifetime benefit amount.

Alternate Care

We may pay for alternate qualified long-term care services that are medically acceptable, cost effective, and agreed to by you and us.

Bed Reservation

We will pay benefits up to 21 days per calendar year to reserve a nursing facility, assisted living facility or hospice facility bed if you are temporarily hospitalized.

Hospice Program

Coverage is provided for hospice program services if you are terminally ill. These services may be provided in a nursing facility, assisted living facility or in your home. The elimination period does not apply to this benefit.

Respite Care

We will pay benefits up to 21 days per calendar year for respite care services to provide temporary covered long-term care services for you while your regular caregiver in your home takes a brief rest. The elimination period does not apply to this benefit.

Tax Qualification

This plan is designed to provide potential tax advantages. Please consult your tax advisor for more information.

For additional details, please review the LTC-TN Group Outline of Coverage included in your enrollment booklet.

Benefit Eligibility

To be eligible for benefits, we must receive periodic proof from a licensed health care practitioner that:

- You need substantial assistance with at least two of the six activities of daily living for a period expected to last at least 90 days; or
- You need substantial supervision to protect you from threats to your health and safety due to severe cognitive impairment.

Payment of benefits for qualified long-term care services are subject to benefit eligibility, terms and conditions.

Our customer service specialists are available to answer any questions you might have.

Long-Term Care: Risk & Need

What is long-term care?

Long-term care is the assistance you need if you are unable to carry out the basic activities of everyday living — bathing, continence, dressing, toileting, eating, or transferring, such as from a chair or bed. The need could arise from an accident, injury, debilitating illness, or it could be simply the natural result of aging. This type of care is different from the skilled, short term care you would receive in a hospital. It is extended care you would receive at your home, in an assisted living or nursing facility, adult day care center or hospice program. You could need long-term care at any time, at any age.

In fact, one in three people who need long-term care are under age 65.¹ And, studies show that if you reach age 65 without having a long-term care event, your odds become greater than one in two (61%) to need extended care at some point in your life.²

Preparing for long-term care is essential for families today. Without planning, your loved ones may be faced with the burden of making decisions for you, not to mention having to provide care or pay the bills for your care themselves.

What is LTC-TN?

LTC-TN is the State of Tennessee Employee and Retiree Group Long-Term Care Insurance Plan available to state and local government and education employees, retirees, and extended family members of those employees.

Who pays for long-term care?

Only a small portion of the long-term care services you are likely to need are covered by health insurance, Medicare or Medicaid (TennCare). Individuals pay for most of this expense themselves with their own savings.

How much does long-term care cost?

Long-term care is expensive and can range from $3,000 to $6,000 per month depending on what type of care you choose to receive. A recent study shows that the average cost of care is:³

- $18 an hour for a home health aide
- $100 per day for assisted living
- $60 per day for adult day care
- $175 per day for a semi-private room in a nursing home, $200 per day for private room

Think about what would happen if you or your spouse was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease. The average time span for care needed by an Alzheimer's patient is eight years, but can stretch from three to 20 years, according to the Alzheimer's Association website. Sometimes both spouses wind up needing some form of long-term care, which can greatly increase these expenses. Clearly, the financial impact of needing long-term care could be devastating. How would you pay for this care should you need it?

Why consider long-term care insurance?

Protect Your Assets

Protecting your financial future is important, and long-term care insurance is a vital component of your financial plan. It is a cost-effective way to help pay for your care while helping to protect the savings and assets you've spent a lifetime accumulating.

Protect Your Independence

If you're like most people, you don't want to rely on others or burden your family with the unexpected responsibility of caring for you at home, or paying for your care in a facility. With long-term care insurance, you will have choices in how and where you will receive care. Long-term care insurance provides coverage for home care, nursing facility or assisted living facility and community-based expenses, offering you a full range of long-term care options that help you stay in control.

Benefits

CareDirections Premier®, offered through the LTC-TN plan, is a tax-qualified policy that offers flexible design and quality comprehensive benefits. With CareDirections Premier, you can design the plan that's right for you.

Coverage includes:

- Home Care
- Assisted Living Facility Care
- Adult Day Care
- Nursing Facility Care
- Hospice Program Services

Protect your loved ones!

Spouses, dependent children ages 18 to 26, parents, parents-in-law, and dependent survivors are eligible to apply for coverage under the LTC-TN Program at the same discounted rates, regardless of whether or not the employee or retiree applies.

Design a Plan to Fit Your Needs

Here's How You Design a Plan:

1. Choose Your Daily Benefit Amount.

The daily benefit amount is the maximum benefit the policy will pay per day for covered services. You should select your daily benefit based on the estimated cost of care where you live or where you plan to retire, and a premium you are comfortable with. With the LTC-TN plan, actual charges for nursing facility, assisted living facility, bed reservation and respite care are paid at 100% of your daily benefit amount. Home care, adult day care, and hospice program benefits are paid at 60% of your daily benefit amount. Benefit options include:

- $100/$60
- $150/$90
- $200/$120

2. Choose Your Benefit Period.

This is the number of days for which daily benefits are payable. The LTC-TN plan offers two choices:

- 1,095 Days (3 years)
- 1,825 Days (5 years).

3. Choose Your Lifetime Benefit Amount — “Pool of Money.”

All benefit payments are deducted from a lifetime benefit amount, commonly referred to as a “pool of money.” Coverage continues until the lifetime benefit amount is exhausted. The lifetime benefit amount is determined by selecting a daily benefit amount and multiplying it by your benefit period.

Lifetime Benefit Amount Calculation Example:

Benefit Period	1,095 Days (3 years)	1,825 Days (5 years)
x Daily Benefit	$100/Day	$100/Day
= Lifetime Benefit Amount	$109,500	$182,500

4. What About Inflation Protection?

The value of the coverage you buy today should be protected from increases in long-term care costs that may occur over the years. Choosing inflation protection builds both the daily benefit amount and “pool of money” over time. You must select the 5% compound inflation option available with this plan in order for your policy to qualify for the TN Partnership (described on the next page) if you are under age 76. Applicants age 76 and older do not need to purchase inflation protection in order for their policy to be partnership-qualified. The LTC-TN Plan offers the following inflation protection options:

- Compound Inflation 5% Annually
- No Inflation

LTC-TN qualifies for the Tennessee Long-Term Care Partnership plan.*

Not to be confused with the State Group Health Insurance PPO Partnership Program, the Tennessee Long-Term Care Partnership Program rewards the purchase of long-term care insurance by protecting assets equal to the long-term care insurance benefits paid when Medicaid (TennCare in Tennessee) is accessed. Without a partnership-certified policy, Medicaid will pay benefits only after you have spent down most of your assets to financially qualify. Keep in mind, every dollar not paid by TennCare is a dollar that can stay in the state budget for education, public works and to fund jobs for public employees.

* Applicants under age 76 must select the 5% compound inflation rider in order for their policy to be partnership-certified. Those age 76 and older do not need to purchase the inflation rider for partnership protection.

Buying Now Builds Value

Issue Age	Initial Lifetime Benefit Amount	Lifetime Pay Annual Premium Rates	Total Premiums Paid to Age 80	Value of Lifetime Benefits at Age 80
40	$164,250	$ 872	$34,880	$1,277,865
50	$164,250	$1,318	$39,540	$ 764,310
60	$164,250	$2,101	$42,020	$ 457,710

Illustrative purposes only. Premium rates based on $150 Daily Benefit Amount, 3-year Benefit, 90 Day Elimination Period. Calculations assume 5% compound inflation. Assume need care at age 80.

Act now!

Remember, the younger you are when purchasing long-term care insurance, the lower your annual premium, and your premium dollars will yield a greater return. So act now and take advantage of the LTC-TN Plan's special group rates and guaranteed issue during the open enrollment period. Guaranteed issue means that you do not have to answer health questions to be issued a policy.

Enroll Now!

If you're looking forward to the day when you can spend more time with your children, travel the globe or pursue the hobby of your youth, you should consider protecting your priorities with long-term care insurance. Keep in mind these significant reasons for enrolling in the LTC-TN Plan now:

- The risk of needing long-term care is significant, regardless of age.
- Long-term care is expensive, often causing depletion of assets.
- The ideal time to purchase long-term care insurance is now, because rates are based on your age when you apply. The younger you are, the lower your premium. Plus, the premium is designed to remain level throughout the term of payment. This means that your long-term care insurance premium will not change in the future based on your age or health. Premiums can only increase if there is a rate increase on the entire group of policyholders.
- If you buy now, you can take advantage of the lowest rate available to you under this plan.
- Also, keep in mind that once you are accepted for coverage, your coverage cannot be cancelled due to a change in health.

Two Ways To Enroll

1. Visit www.LTC-TN.com to enroll online!

Employees and their family members can visit the website to access the LTC-TN rate calculator and apply online with electronic signature.

2. Complete a paper application.

A paper enrollment booklet is included behind the "Enrollment Materials" tab in your self-enrollment kit. If you do not have a paper enrollment booklet, call 866-615-LTCi (5824) or e-mail info@ltcconsultants.com to request one.

How to Enroll

This information is designed to help you complete your enrollment form.

Note: Each person applying must complete an Enrollment Form. Additional Enrollment Forms are available by contacting Customer Service at 1-866-615-LTCi (5824) toll free.

Step 1: Review the information in your kit and tear out the appropriate Enrollment Form from this booklet. There are two Enrollment Forms (Enrollment Form A & Enrollment Form B).

- Enrollment Form A is for active employees enrolling during the initial open enrollment period and new employees enrolling within 90 days of date of hire.
- Enrollment Form B is for retirees, eligible family members and active employees enrolling after their initial open enrollment period.

Please look at Section A of each enrollment form that defines who is eligible to enroll. Use the form that applies to you and check the box that describes who you are.

Also, if you are completing Enrollment Form B be sure to complete the Standard Issue Health Statement.

Step 2: Complete Section A with the General Information for the person who is the member of the group.

Step 3: If you are completing Enrollment Form B, complete Section A-1 with the Enrollee Information for the person who is applying for this insurance.

Note: The answers to Sections B through H should be for the Enrollee (the person applying for insurance).

Use the information below to help you enroll in your long-term care insurance plan.

Go to Section B of the Enrollment Form, Benefit Selections.

Decision 1: (B1) Benefit Period:

Choose from the options in Section B1.

On to Decision 2.

Decision 2: (B2) Daily Benefit Amount: What Daily Benefit Amount is right for you?

Choose from the options in Section B2.

After choosing your Daily Benefit Amount, refer to the Monthly Rate Sheet for that amount.

On to Decision 3.

QUESTIONS?

CALL OUR CUSTOMER SERVICE CENTER toll-free: 1-866-615-LTCi (5824)

Decision 3: Inflation Protection: Inflation Protection increases your Lifetime Benefit Amount and Daily Benefit each year to offset future increases in the cost of long-term care services.

Choose from the options in Section C.

Your Monthly Rate Sheet includes rates for these options.

Sections E to H:

Section E – Payment Method: Choose a payment method and payment frequency.

Section F – Insurance Information: Please provide the insurance information requested in this section.

Section F-1 – Enrollment Form B: Physician Information. Please provide information for each of your physicians.

Section G - Enrollment Form A and B – Options and Signatures: SIGN and DATE the Enrollment Form.

Section H - Enrollment Form A and B – HIPAA Medical Authorization: SIGN and DATE the Authorization Form.

If you are completing Enrollment Form B: You must also complete the Standard Issue Health Statement.
Be sure to SIGN and DATE the Health Statement.

HIPAA MEDICAL AUTHORIZATION (Uses and Disclosures of Medical Information) Must be signed by all applicants.

This is a HIPAA compliant authorization. "HIPAA" is the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, as amended.

I hereby authorize the following uses and disclosures of medical information about me.

From Me. I agree to permit company representatives to contact me to ascertain my health status to determine if my application is accepted.

From My Health Care Providers. I authorize any physician, medical practitioner, hospital, clinic, pharmacy or pharmacy benefit manager, or other health care provider or health related facility, including but not limited to those listed above, insurance or reinsurance company or employer, including the Medical Information Bureau, having information available as to any diagnosis, treatment and prognosis with respect to any of my physical or mental conditions and/or treatments (including prescriptions and medications), to furnish MedAmerica Insurance Company and/or designated business associates acting as insurance support organizations on MedAmerica Insurance Company's behalf any such protected health information, which may include my entire medical record, needed to determine my eligibility for insurance. THIS AUTHORIZATION EXPRESSLY INCLUDES INFORMATION ABOUT DRUGS, ALCOHOLISM, MENTAL ILLNESS AND COMMUNICABLE DISEASES. This authorization does not include psychotherapy notes. Regulations require a separate authorization for psychotherapy notes. We will contact you if we determine that such an authorization is needed.

For 24 Months. I agree that this authorization will be valid for 24 months from the date signed below and that a photocopy shall be as valid as this original. You may revoke this authorization at any time by giving written notice of revocation to the LTC Privacy Officer, PO Box 41930, Rochester, New York 14604 or LTCPrivacy.Officer@MedAmericaLTC.com. Revocation will not affect any action taken in reliance on this authorization before written notice of revocation is received.

Your Rights. Although voluntary, this authorization is required to determine your eligibility for enrollment. If you choose not to complete this authorization, we will be unable to determine your eligibility for insurance. By signing this authorization, you acknowledge that if you authorize a person or organization to receive your protected health information that is not a health plan, covered health care provider or health care clearinghouse subject to federal health information privacy laws or subject to the prohibitions of a Business Associate Agreement, they may further disclose the protected health information and it may no longer be protected by federal health information privacy laws.

GROUP LONG-TERM CARE INSURANCE CERTIFICATE OUTLINE OF COVERAGE

State of Tennessee Employee and Retiree Long-Term Care Insurance Program
Certificate Form Number TGR11-342-MA-TN-601
Group Number 60

This Policy is intended to be a qualified long-term care insurance contract under section 7702B(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Caution: The issuance of this long-term care Certificate is based upon your responses to the questions on your enrollment form. A copy of your enrollment form is enclosed. If your answers are incorrect or untrue, the Company has the right to deny Benefits or rescind your Certificate. The best time to clear up any questions is now, before a claim arises! If, for any reason, any of your answers are incorrect, contact the Company at the address above.

Notice to Buyer: This Certificate may not cover all of the costs associated with long-term care incurred by the buyer during the period of coverage. The buyer is advised to review carefully all Certificate limitations.

1. POLICY. This is a Group Policy which was issued in Tennessee.
2. PURPOSE OF OUTLINE OF COVERAGE. This Outline of Coverage provides a very brief description of the important features of the Group Policy. You should compare this outline of coverage to outlines of coverage for other policies available to you. This is not an insurance contract, but only a summary of coverage. Only the Group Policy contains governing contractual provisions. This means that the Group Policy sets forth in detail the rights and obligations of both you and the insurance company. Therefore, if you purchase this coverage, or any other coverage, it is important that you READ YOUR CERTIFICATE CAREFULLY!
3. TERMS UNDER WHICH THE CERTIFICATE MAY BE RETURNED AND PREMIUM REFUNDED. If you feel this Certificate does not meet your insurance needs, return it to us within 30 days. If you do so, we will return any premium you may have paid. We also will void your Certificate from its effective date.

When we are notified of your death, we will make a pro-rata refund to your estate of any premium paid for the period beyond your death. There is no refund when the Certificate is surrendered.

4. THIS IS NOT MEDICARE SUPPLEMENT COVERAGE. If you are eligible for Medicare, review the Medicare Supplement Buyer's Guide available from the insurance company. Neither MedAmerica Insurance Company nor its agents represent Medicare, the federal government, or any state government.

5. LONG-TERM CARE COVERAGE. Policies of this category are designed to provide coverage for one or more necessary or medically necessary diagnostic, preventive, therapeutic, rehabilitative, maintenance, or personal care services. These services must be provided in a setting other than an acute care unit of a hospital, such as a nursing facility, in the community, or in the home.

This Certificate provides coverage of 100% of actual charges incurred up to the Daily Benefit Amount as listed on the Schedule page of your Certificate, for qualified long-term care services. Coverage is subject to Group Policy and Certificate limitations and an elimination period.

6. BENEFITS PROVIDED BY THIS POLICY.

- (a) Benefit Eligibility: To be eligible for Benefits provided by the Group Policy, we must receive periodic proof from a Licensed Health Care Practitioner that you are a person who meets the following conditions:

- You need Substantial Assistance from another person to perform at least two of the Activities of Daily Living (Bathing, Dressing, Eating, Toileting, Transferring, Continence) for a period expected to last at least 90 days; or
- You need Substantial Supervision to protect you from threats to health and safety due to Severe Cognitive Impairment. This is deterioration or irreversible loss in Your intellectual capacity that requires substantial supervision to protect Yourself or others. This is established by clinical evidence and standardized tests that reliably measure Your impairment in the areas of:
 1. Your short or long-term memory; and
 2. Your orientation as to person (such as who You and others are), place (such as Your location) and time (such as day, date and year); and
 3. Your deductive or abstract reasoning.

Note: Severe Cognitive Impairment can result from Alzheimer's Disease.

Consistent with medical practice, the standardized tests employed in the benefit determination assessment are the Short Portable Mental Status Questionnaire (SPMSQ) and the Folstein Mini-Mental State Exam.

- An insured is considered to have Severe Cognitive Impairment if they meet one of the following:
- Incorrectly answer 4 or more questions on the SPMSQ.
- Achieve a score of 23 lower on the Folstein Mini-Mental State Exam. Exhibit specific behavioral problems requiring daily supervision, including, but not limited to, wandering, abusive or assultive behavior, poor judgement or uncooperativeness which poses a danger to themselves or others, extreme or bizarre personal hygiene habits. These behaviors are evaluated clinically by our Licensed Health Care Practitioner working cooperatively with the insured's physician, family and other health care providers.

Each of the following is an Activity of Daily Living:

Bathing: This means washing Yourself by sponge bath; or in either a tub or shower, including the task of getting into or out of the tub or shower.

Continence: This means the ability to maintain control of bowel or bladder functions; or when unable to maintain control of bowel or bladder function, the ability to perform associated personal hygiene (including caring for catheter or colostomy bag).

Dressing: This means the ability to put on and take off all items of clothing and any necessary braces, fasteners or artificial limbs.

Eating: This means the ability to feed oneself by getting food into Your body from a receptacle (such as plate, cup or table) or by a feeding tube or intravenously.

Toileting: This means the ability to go to and from the toilet, getting on and off the toilet, and performing associated personal hygiene.

Transferring: This means the ability to move into or out of a bed, chair or wheelchair.

We will work with you, your family and your physician when we need information about your condition. We will review the status of your Activities of Daily Living and cognitive function. We will use this information to make an evaluation of your condition to determine whether you qualify or continue to qualify for Benefits under the Group Policy. This information may be gathered by us or one of our representatives.

We must receive certification from a Licensed Health Care Practitioner at least every 12 months that you meet the above conditions.

- (b) This is a once per Lifetime Elimination Period of 90 calendar days, as shown in Your Schedule, before benefit payments shall begin. The Elimination Period begins on the first day You are certified as meeting Benefit Eligibility as defined in this Certificate. The Elimination Period continues until the first such calendar day you are no longer Benefit Eligible or you reach the 90 Calendar days. Days used to satisfy Your Lifetime Elimination Period do not need to be consecutive as long as they are accumulated within a period of one calendar year (365/366 days).
There is no Lifetime Elimination Period for Respite Care Benefits. This Benefit may not be used to satisfy the Lifetime Elimination Period. If You are receiving Hospice Program Benefits paid by another insurer, We will waive the Lifetime Elimination Period for all covered services as outlined in this Certificate.
- (c) To calculate your Lifetime Benefit Amount, multiply the daily benefit amount listed in your Certificate schedule, by the number of days which you have selected. We will deduct from this amount all Benefits we pay for all covered services provided under this Certificate.
- (d) Our Personal Care Advisor is available to help you and/or your family members plan for your care through our benefit planning service. This service is provided at your option and without cost to you.
- (e) Qualified Long-Term Care Services must be provided by Approved Providers in order to be reimbursed. Approved Providers are any of the following:

- Nursing Facility;
- Assisted Living Facility;
- Hospice Program;
- Home Health Care Agency; or
- Adult Day Care Center; or
- Alternate Care.

- (f) The maximum amount We will pay for all charges You incur on any one day, whether under one or more of the categories of Benefits described below, is the Daily Benefit Amount shown in Your Schedule.
- (g) If you meet Benefit Eligibility, we will reimburse the actual charges incurred up to the Daily Benefit Amount as chosen on your enrollment form for services provided in a Nursing Facility or Assisted Living Facility that are Qualified Long-Term Care Services.
- (h) If you meet Benefit Eligibility, we will reimburse the actual charges incurred up to the Daily Benefit Amount as chosen on your enrollment form for services provided for Home Care, an Adult Day Care Center, or a Hospice Program that are Qualified Long-Term Care Services. Home Care Services are Qualified Long-Term Care Services provided in your home by a Home Health Care Agency and are:
- nursing services;
 - physical, occupational, respiratory and speech therapy and nutritional services;
 - home health aide or personal care attendant services including such things as: personal hygiene, performing Activities of Daily Living, managing medications, and other related supportive services; or
 - homemaker services including light work, household tasks, preparing meals, doing laundry and other incidental household tasks that do not require the services of a trained aide or attendant.
- (i) We will reimburse for Bed Reservation Benefits up to the Daily Benefit Amount shown on your enrollment form, if you are hospitalized and we are paying for Benefits in a Nursing Facility or Assisted Living Facility and that facility charges you a fee to reserve your bed. We will pay to reserve your bed for up to 21 days per calendar year.
- (j) If you meet Benefit Eligibility and you are at Home, Respite Care Benefits will be paid for Respite Care provided in your Home, in a Nursing Facility, or in an Assisted Living Facility.

We will pay Benefits for up to the Daily Benefit Amount shown in your Schedule for a maximum of 21 days per calendar year. Benefits paid for Respite Care will be deducted from your Lifetime Benefit Amount. This Benefit is not subject to, and may not be used to satisfy, the Lifetime Elimination Period.

- (k) If you meet Benefit Eligibility, We may reimburse for Alternate Care Benefits for Qualified Long-Term Care Services that are medically acceptable, and agreed to by You, an authorized legal representative and/or Your physician, and by Us. This may include medically necessary transportation to and from Adult Day Care and/or unlicensed providers.
- (l) This coverage is provided anywhere within the United States and its possessions.

7. LIMITATIONS AND EXCLUSIONS.

- (a) Pre-existing conditions: There are no pre-existing condition limitations in this Certificate.
- (b) Exclusions: Expenses for the following will not be covered under this Certificate:
 - 1. Substance abuse treatment for alcohol or drug addiction.
 - 2. Treatment for illness or medical condition arising out of:
 - War or any act of war, declared or undeclared.
 - Participation in a felony, riot or insurrection.
 - Service in the armed forces or auxiliary units thereto.
 - 3. Services for which any Benefits are provided under Workers' Compensation, employer's liability program, occupational disease law or mandatory no-fault insurance.
 - 4. Services provided by a member of Your Family.
 - 5. Services for which no charge is normally made in the absence of insurance.
 - 6. Services while the Insured is outside the United States and its possessions.
- (c) Nonduplication: We will not pay Benefits for services or expenses to the extent that they are reimbursable under Medicare or under any other federal, state, or other governmental health care plan or law (except Medicaid). This exclusion also applies to services or expenses that would be reimbursable by Medicare but have been applied to a deductible or coinsurance amount, except where Medicare is secondary.

THIS CERTIFICATE MAY NOT COVER ALL THE EXPENSES ASSOCIATED WITH YOUR LONG-TERM CARE NEEDS.

8. RELATIONSHIP OF COST OF CARE AND BENEFITS.

Because the costs of long-term care services will likely increase over time, you should consider whether and how the Benefits of this plan may be adjusted.

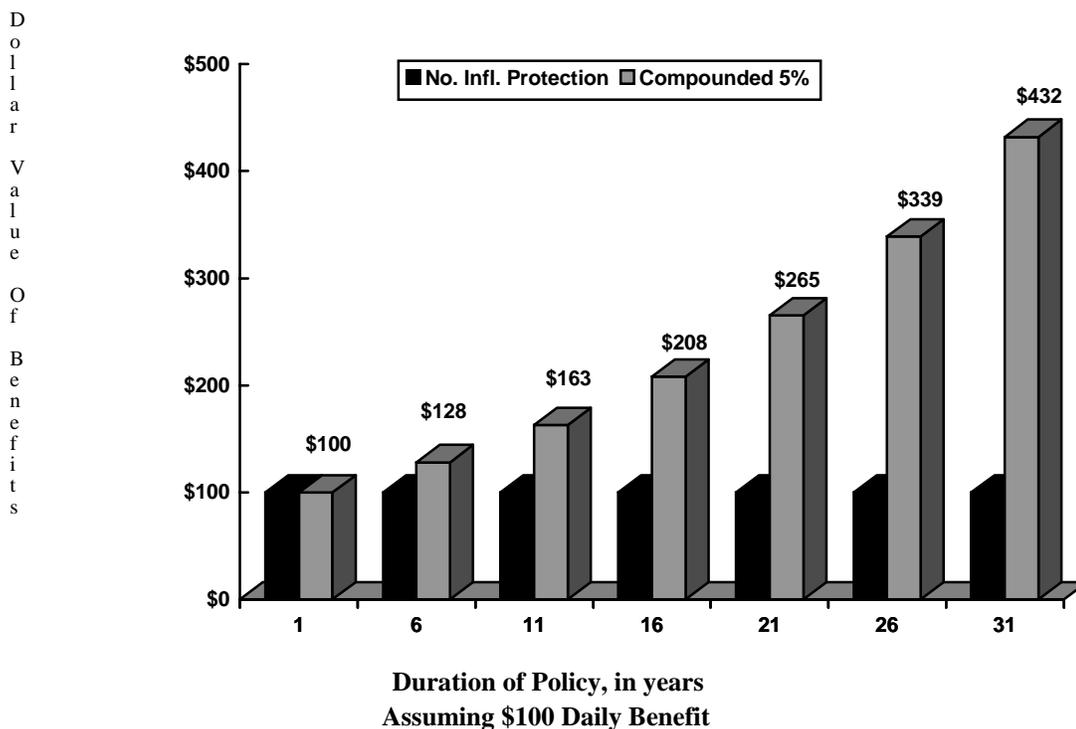

(a) Benefits will not increase over time if you do not purchase inflation protection.

(b) Benefit adjustment provision:

If you purchase $100 per day nursing facility coverage, following are your Benefits over time:

(c) If you purchase compound indexing Benefits, your Lifetime Benefit Amount and Daily Benefit Amount will each increase on every anniversary of the effective date of your Certificate. Annual increases will apply to Benefits payable for any expenses you incur on or after the date of the increase. This first increase will be equal to 5% of your original amounts. Each increase thereafter will be equal to 5% of the increased amounts that applied on the date of the prior increase. Benefits increase without regard to health status.

Comparison of Daily Benefit Level with and without Inflation Protection
Compounded 5% Interest - Lifetime Duration

(d) The difference in premium for a certificate with or without inflation protection is based on the differences of the expected Benefits over your lifetime.

9. TERMS UNDER WHICH THE CERTIFICATE MAY BE CONTINUED IN FORCE OR DISCONTINUED.

(a) RENEWABILITY: THIS CERTIFICATE IS GUARANTEED RENEWABLE. This means that you have the right, subject to the terms of your Certificate, to continue your coverage as long as you pay your premiums on time. MedAmerica Insurance Company cannot change any of the terms of your Certificate on its own, except that, in the future, IT MAY CHANGE THE PREMIUM YOU PAY AS LONG AS THE CHANGES ARE CONSISTENT WITH THE PREMIUM CHANGES IN THE GROUP MASTER POLICY.

(b) CONTINUATION OF COVERAGE: If We are notified that You are no longer eligible for coverage under the Group Policy for any reason, You may continue coverage without interruption as long as You pay all premiums when due. If Your premium was paid by payroll deduction, You must pay premiums directly to us.

You will not be eligible for continuation of coverage if the Group Policy terminates.

(c) CONVERSION: If the Group Policy terminates, You may elect to purchase a new individual direct payment contract which provides benefits identical to the benefits provided under the Group Policy without proof of insurability and at the same premium rates. In order to purchase such coverage You must make written application for the conversion policy and pay the first premium due within thirty-one (31) days of the termination date of the Group Policy.

The new policy will be effective on the date your coverage under the Group Policy ended and will be guaranteed renewable.

(d) WAIVER OF PREMIUM. Your premium payments will be waived on a monthly basis starting:

- On the first day You are certified as meeting Benefit Eligibility, You have satisfied the Lifetime Elimination Period, and We have approved benefits.

This waiver of premium payment ends when You are no longer Benefit Eligible as defined in the Certificate for a period of 90 calendar days.

(e) OUR RIGHT TO CHANGE PREMIUM. We can change your premium with thirty (30) days written notice, but only if we change the premiums for all persons in the same payment class consistent with premium changes made in the Group Master Policy.

10. ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE AND OTHER ORGANIC BRAIN DISORDERS. The Group Policy provides coverage if you are clinically diagnosed as having Alzheimer's disease or related degenerative and dementing illnesses. Coverage is contingent upon documentation by a licensed health care practitioner that you are severely cognitively impaired requiring substantial supervision. This Benefit is subject to the same benefit eligibility provisions and lifetime elimination period limitations as other Benefits.

11. PREMIUM.

- (a) The total annual premium for your long-term care coverage is shown in your Certificate Schedule. The cost of any optional benefits or riders is also shown.
- (b) An initial grace period of 31 days will be granted for each premium that is unpaid on the date due. After 30 days, a notice will be sent to you, if you pay premium to us directly, explaining that a payment has been missed and that your Certificate risks lapsing. You will have an additional 35 days from the date we mail notice to you during which any unpaid premium must be paid. Payment will allow your Certificate to continue in force without interruption. Failure to pay any unpaid premium by the end of this Grace Period will result in the termination of your Certificate as of the premium due date.

12. ADDITIONAL FEATURES.

- (a) Medical underwriting of your enrollment form is used to determine your eligibility for long-term care insurance, unless you qualify for guaranteed issue.
- (b) Benefits may be available after termination if you are receiving Benefits covered under the Group Policy. See the “Extension of Benefits” section of your Certificate for specific requirements.
- (c) If the coverage under your Certificate terminates because of non-payment of premium, you may apply for reinstatement of your Certificate.
- (d) No prior hospitalization is required before you can receive coverage for services under this Certificate.
- (e) Appeal rights are available if you disagree with a claim decision.

Things You Should Know Before You Buy Long Term Care Insurance

Long-Term Care Insurance

- A long term care insurance policy may pay most of the costs for your care in a nursing home. Many policies also pay for care at home or other community settings. Since policies can vary in coverage, you should read this policy and make sure you understand what it covers before you buy it.
- You should not buy this insurance policy unless you can afford to pay the premiums every year. Remember that the company can increase premiums in the future.
- The personal worksheet includes questions designed to help you and the company determine whether this policy is suitable for your needs.

Medicare

- Medicare does not pay for most long term care.

Medicaid

- Medicaid will generally pay for long term care if you have very little income and few assets. You should not buy this policy if you are now eligible for Medicaid.
- Many people become eligible for Medicaid after they have used up their own financial resources by paying for long term care services.
- When Medicaid pays your spouse's nursing home bills, you are allowed to keep your house and furniture, a living allowance, and some of your joint assets.
- Your choice of long term care services may be limited if you are receiving Medicaid. To learn more about Medicaid, contact your local County Department of Social Services.

Shopper's Guide

- Make sure the insurance company or agent gives you a copy of the appropriate Shopper's Guide regarding Long Term Care Insurance approved by Your States Commissioner of Insurance. Read it carefully. If you have decided to apply for long term care insurance, you have the right to return the policy within 30 days and get back any premium you have paid if you are dissatisfied for any reason or choose not to purchase the policy.

Counseling

- Free counseling and additional information about long term care insurance are available through your state's insurance counseling program. Contact your state insurance department or department on aging for more information about the senior health insurance counseling program in your state.

Long Term Care Insurance Potential Rate Increase Disclosure Form

1. Premium Rate: Your premium rate that is applicable to you and that will be in effect until a request is made and filed with Your State Department of Insurance for an increase is shown on your schedule page in your policy.
2. The premium for this Policy will be shown on the schedule page of your policy.
3. Rate Schedule Adjustments: If your rates are changed, the new rates will become effective on the next billing date. The new rates will remain in effect until another request is made and filed with Your State Department of Insurance. You have the right to receive a revised schedule page if the premium rate is changed.

We have sold Long Term Care insurance since 1987 and have sold this Policy since 2003. MedAmerica Insurance Company has raised its rates for this policy form in the past 10 years. The following is a summary of the rate increase:

Policy Series	Years Available for Sale	Year of Increase/Percentage of Increase
TGR11-342-MA-TN-601	2003-Present	2011: 30%

4. Potential Rate Revision: This policy is Guaranteed Renewable. This means that the rates for this coverage may be increased in the future. Your rates CANNOT be increased due to your age or declining health, but your rates may go up based on the experience of all insureds with a policy similar to yours. If you receive a premium rate increase in the future, you will be notified of the new premium amount and you will be able to exercise at least one of the following options:
 - (a) Pay the increased premium and continue your coverage in force as is.
 - (b) Reduce your coverage benefits to a level such that your premiums will not increase.
 - (c) Exercise your long-term care nonforfeiture option, if purchased. This option is available for purchase for an additional premium.
 - (d) Exercise your contingent nonforfeiture rights. This option is available if you do not purchase a long-term care nonforfeiture option mentioned in (c) above.

Contingent Nonforfeiture Rights

If the premium rate for your policy goes up in the future and you do not buy a long-term care nonforfeiture option, you may be eligible for contingent nonforfeiture. Here's how to tell if you are eligible:

- (a) You will keep some long-term care insurance coverage, if:
 - (1) Your premium after the increase exceeds your original premium by the percentage shown, or more, in the table (provided on the next page/below); and
 - (2) You do not pay your premium within 120 days of the increase causing your policy to lapse.

- (b) The amount of coverage, new lifetime maximum benefit amount, etc., you will keep will equal the total amount of premiums you have paid since your policy was first issued. If you have already received benefits under the policy, so that the remaining maximum benefit amount is less than the total amount of premiums you have paid, the amount of coverage will be that remaining amount.
- (c) Except for this reduced lifetime maximum benefit amount, all other policy benefits will remain at the levels attained at the time of the lapse and will not increase thereafter.

Should you choose this Contingent Nonforfeiture option, your policy, with this reduced maximum benefit amount, will be considered "paid-up" with no further premiums due.

Example:

- You bought the policy at age 65 and paid the $1,000 annual premium for ten years, so you have paid a total of $10,000 in premium.
- In the eleventh year, you receive a rate increase of 50%, or $500 for a new annual premium of $1,500, and you decide to not pay any more premiums causing your policy to lapse.
- Your "paid-up" policy benefits are $10,000, provided you have at least $10,000 of benefits remaining under your policy.

TENNESSEE Long Term Care PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

Encouraging You to Plan for Your LTC Needs

Tennessee Long Term Care Partnership Program

The Long Term Care Partnership (LTCP) Program is a joint effort between the federal Medicaid Program and Long Term Care (LTC) insurers. The Long Term Care Partnership was developed to encourage people to plan for their future LTC needs, such as residing in a nursing facility or assisted living facility, or receiving LTC services in a home or community-based setting.

TennCare is Tennessee's name for the federal Medicaid program. In order to participate in TennCare's LTCP program, a person must have purchased and received the benefits of a qualified Partnership policy.

A person who requests TennCare payment of LTC services after exhausting some or all benefits of a qualified LTCP policy may have certain assets "disregarded" equal to the benefits paid by the qualified LTCP policy at the time the person is determined eligible for TennCare. These assets are not counted when the person's TennCare eligibility is determined and will not be recovered during estate recovery when the person dies. This means that with the Partnership's dollar-for-dollar asset protection, Tennesseans can protect personal assets if there is a need to apply for TennCare.

How the LTCP Program and TennCare Work Together

- 1) A LTCP participant in Tennessee is someone who either:
 - Requests TennCare payment of LTC services after exhausting all benefits of a qualified LTCP policy, OR
 - Exhausts all benefits of a LTCP policy while receiving TennCare payment of LTC services, OR
 - Receives TennCare payment of LTC services and dies before the LTCP policy benefits are exhausted.
- 2) When determining TennCare eligibility, the Department of Human Services (DHS) shall disregard an individual's assets in an amount equal to the amount of payments made by the individual's qualifying LTC policy for services covered under the policy.

It is the responsibility of the LTCP policyholder to inform the DHS eligibility worker that he or she has a Partnership policy. A TennCare applicant will also be required to submit written proof of benefits paid from his or her LTCP policy.

- 3) A LTCP participant receives the following benefits during his or her lifetime:
 - Assets may be designated for disregard in an amount equal to the benefits paid out by the qualified LTCP policy as of the date of application for Medicaid eligibility.
 - Designated assets are not counted toward the TennCare asset limit for eligibility purposes.
 - The designated assets may be transferred to any other person without penalty.
 - Additional benefits paid by the qualified LTCP policy after application for Medicaid eligibility shall not be disregarded in future review and/or determination of Medicaid eligibility.
- 4) After the LTCP participant is deceased:
 - Assets which were disregarded for purposes of Medicaid eligibility determination during the person's lifetime are also protected from estate recovery.
 - When the amount of assets disregarded during the person's lifetime was less than total benefits paid by the LTCP policy, additional assets may be protected in the estate recovery process up to the amount of payments made by the individual's qualifying LTC policy for services covered under the policy
 - If no assets were disregarded during the person's lifetime, the personal representative may designate assets to protect from estate recovery up to the lesser of the two options specified above - even if LTCP policy benefits were not completely exhausted.

- 5) When should an individual apply for TennCare?
- If the LTCP policyholder exhausts the benefits of his or her LTCP policy.
 - When the Partnership policyholder/spouse/family/friend feels that the policyholder can no longer afford to pay for the cost of care.
- 6) Does a LTCP policy guarantee access to TennCare?
- NO! Owning a LTCP policy does NOT guarantee access to TennCare – even if the policyholder exhausts his or her benefits. Individuals still must meet all other TennCare eligibility requirements in order to be eligible.

REMEMBER: Only DHS can determine whether a person will qualify for TennCare.

General Criteria for TennCare LTC Eligibility

To be eligible for TennCare, a person must qualify in one of the eligibility groups that are covered under the TennCare Medicaid program and meet specific requirements relating to residency, citizenship, income and resources. To be eligible for TennCare payment of LTC services, a person must meet all of the following criteria:

- a) Have a Pre-Admission Evaluation (PAE) that determines a need for a level of care provided in one of these settings:
 - 1) Nursing facility
 - 2) Intermediate Care Facility for people with Mental Retardation (ICF-MR)

A person who meets the level of care and eligibility requirements for care in a nursing facility or ICF-MR may then be able to choose to receive LTC services in an alternative home- and community-based setting, such as an HCBS Waiver program.

- b) Reside in a TennCare-certified Long Term Care facility or receive TennCare home-and community-based LTC services under a federally approved waiver program.
- c) Meet income and resource guidelines.
- d) Disclose an interest in an annuity for self and spouse, if married. The state must be named as remainder beneficiary of annuities owned by the person or spouse.
- e) Not be in a penalty period for an uncompensated transfer of income or assets. During a penalty period, TennCare will not pay the cost of LTC services.
- f) Have home equity of $500,000 or less unless a spouse, child under the age of 21, or blind or disabled child is lawfully residing in the home.

How to Apply for TennCare

In Tennessee, the Department of Human Services (DHS) accepts applications for TennCare through the county DHS offices. To locate local DHS offices, call DHS's Family Assistance Service Center at 1-866-311-4287 or visit the DHS website at http://www.tennessee.gov/humanserv/st_map.htm.

Those interested in applying do not need an appointment at the county office to receive an application. One can be picked up at their county DHS office or they can have one mailed to them or they can apply online. To request an application, call the county office or the Family Assistance Service Center. Individuals can also apply online by visiting TennCare's website: <http://tennessee.gov/tenncare/mem-apply.html>.

If the person does not apply online, the application must be returned to the county DHS office for processing, by mail, fax or personal delivery. DHS recommends scheduling an intake appointment with a county DHS worker once the individual has completed the application. A face-to-face interview is not required but applicants should be sure to mention that they are in need of LTC services.

APPENDIX K

LONG-TERM CARE INSURANCE PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM NOTICE

IMPORTANT CONSUMER INFORMATION REGARDING THE TENNESSEE LONG-TERM CARE INSURANCE PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

Some long-term care insurance policies sold in Tennessee may qualify for the Tennessee Long-Term Care Insurance Partnership Program (the Partnership Program). The Partnership Program is a partnership between state government and private insurance companies to assist individuals in planning their long-term care needs. Insurance companies voluntarily agree to participate in the Partnership Program by offering long-term care insurance coverage that meets certain State and Federal requirements. Long-term care insurance policies that qualify as Partnership Policies may protect the policyholder's assets through a feature known as "Asset Disregard" under TennCare, Tennessee's Medicaid program.

Asset Disregard means that an amount of the policyholder's assets equal to the amount of long-term care insurance benefits received under a qualified Partnership Policy will be disregarded for the purpose of determining the insured's eligibility for Medicaid. This generally allows a person to keep assets equal to the insurance benefits received under a qualified Partnership Policy without affecting the person's eligibility for Medicaid. All other Medicaid eligibility criteria will apply and special rules may apply to persons whose home equity exceeds $500,000. Asset Disregard is not available under a long-term care insurance policy that is not a Partnership Policy. Therefore, you should consider if Asset Disregard is important to you, and whether a Partnership Policy meets your needs. The purchase of a Partnership Policy does not automatically qualify you for Medicaid.

What are the Requirements for a Partnership Policy? In order for a policy to qualify as a Partnership Policy, it must, among other requirements:

- be issued to an individual on or after February 8, 2006;
- cover an individual who was a Tennessee resident when coverage first becomes effective under the policy;
- be a tax-qualified policy under § 7702(B)(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986;
- meet stringent consumer protection standards; and
- meet the following inflation requirements:
 - For ages 60 or younger - provides compound annual inflation protection
 - For ages 61 to 75 - provides some level of inflation protection
 - For ages 76 and older - no purchase of inflation protection is required

If you apply and are approved for long-term care insurance coverage, MedAmerica Insurance Company will provide you with written documentation as to whether or not your policy qualifies as a Partnership Policy.

What Could Disqualify a Policy as a Partnership Policy. Certain types of changes to a Partnership Policy could affect whether or not such policy continues to be a Partnership Policy. If you purchase a Partnership Policy and later decide to make any changes, you should first consult with MedAmerica Insurance Company to determine the effect of a proposed change. In addition, if you move to a state that does not maintain a Partnership Program or does not recognize your policy as a Partnership Policy, you would not receive beneficial treatment of your policy under the Medicaid program of that state. The information contained in this disclosure is based on current Tennessee and Federal laws. These laws may be subject to change. Any change in law could reduce or eliminate the beneficial treatment of your policy under Tennessee's Medicaid program.

Additional Information. If you have questions regarding long-term care insurance policies please contact MedAmerica Insurance Company. If you have questions regarding current laws governing Medicaid eligibility, you should contact the Bureau of TennCare.

The Medical Underwriting Process

As part of your application for long term care coverage, you may be asked to participate in a phone history assessment and/or a face-to-face assessment interview.

What is medical underwriting?

It is a review of your medical history and current activity level to determine your eligibility for MedAmerica long term care coverage. This information is obtained by MedAmerica staff and contracted vendors.

How is information gathered?

The following assessment tools determine your insurability:

- ① Application
- ② Phone History Interview (PHI)
- ③ Face-To-Face Interview (FTF)
- ④ Medical Records (APS—Attending Physicians Statement) from any and all physicians seen in the last 5 years.

Any applicant may be requested to participate in any or all of these assessment tools.

Important: All questions should be taken seriously and responded to honestly as the results will determine your insurability. All information obtained during this process is confidential and for coverage purposes only. Each party involved is required to protect the privacy of your personal health information and is in compliance with HIPAA.

What is a phone history assessment?

- A representative will call you on behalf of MedAmerica to schedule an interview to take your medical history.

☞ NOTE: Caller ID may show “unavailable” or an 800 number.

- While our interview times are flexible, the sooner you schedule, the quicker we will be able to finalize your request for this valuable benefit.

Call times:

To set appointments	8:30 AM to 6 PM EST
For the interview	8:00 AM to 9 PM EST

- The interview will take 30 minutes on average, sometimes more, sometimes less.
- Be attentive and in a quiet place where you won't be interrupted. Please use the worksheet provided to prepare the following information:
 - The names and dosages of all of your medicines.
 - The names, addresses and phone numbers of all physicians you have seen.
- At the end of the recorded interview you will be asked to attest to your answers. The recording of your voice will serve as the signature on your application.

What is a face-to-face assessment?

- This is an assessment of your medical history and current activity level, conducted in your home or at a quiet location convenient to you. The assessment is administered by a trained clinician, either a registered nurse or a social worker. The clinician will call to schedule a convenient time for the interview and will provide appropriate identification upon their arrival.
- The clinician will ask you questions about your application, medical history, medications and current activities. There will be questions designed to screen for cognitive impairment.

How long will the face-to-face assessment take?

The interview will take approximately 30 to 60 minutes.

What you need to know:

- No disrobing is required.
- No blood or other specimens are taken.
- Your blood pressure will be taken and height and weight recorded.
- The names and dosages of all medications you are currently taking.
- Only the assessor and you should be in the room during the interview to ensure no distractions in order to gather the most accurate information.

How are medical records obtained?

We may request your medical records from your primary doctor and/or any specialists you see. We handle the request to your doctor and pay any associated fee. We may ask you for help if we have difficulty obtaining your records.

How long does the underwriting process take before I know the final decision on my application?

Generally the process takes about 4-6 weeks. We thank you in advance for your patience and cooperation.

Reminders:

- Any applicant may be requested to participate in any or all of these assessment methods.
- The interviewers gather information only and take no part in the decision on your application.

Any questions can be directed to our Customer Service Department at: 1-800-544-0327.

Long-Term

Insurance

About the NAIC ...

The National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) is the oldest association of state government officials. Its members are the chief insurance regulators in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and five U.S. territories. State regulators' primary responsibility is to protect insurance consumers' interests, and the NAIC helps regulators do this in several different ways. This Shopper's Guide is one example of the NAIC's work to help states educate and protect consumers.

Another way the NAIC helps state regulators is by giving them a forum to develop uniform public policy when that is appropriate. It does this through a series of model laws, regulations, and guidelines developed for the states' use. States may choose to adopt the models intact or change them to meet the needs of their marketplace and consumers. As you read through this Shopper's Guide, you will find several references to NAIC model laws or regulations related to long-term care insurance. Check with your state insurance department to find out if your state has enacted these NAIC models.

About This Shopper's Guide

The National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) wrote this Shopper's Guide to help you understand long-term care and the insurance options that can help you pay for long-term care services. The decision to buy long-term care insurance is very important. You should not make it in a hurry. Most states' laws require insurance companies or agents to give you this Shopper's Guide to help you better understand long-term care insurance and decide which, if any, policy to buy. Some states produce their own shopper's guide.

Take a moment to look at the table of contents and you will see the questions this Shopper's Guide answers. Then read the Shopper's Guide carefully. If you see a term you don't understand, look in the glossary starting on page 41. (Terms in bold in the text are in the glossary.) Take your time. Decide if buying a policy might be right for you.

If you decide to shop for a long-term care insurance policy, start by getting information about the long-term care services and facilities you might use and how much they charge. Use the worksheets at the back of this Shopper's Guide to write down information. Use Worksheet 1—Availability and Cost of Long-Term Care in My Area on page 46 to collect information about the facilities and services in your area. Then, as you shop for a policy, use Worksheet 2—Compare Long-Term Care Insurance Policies on page 48 to compare long-term care insurance policies.

If you have questions, call your state insurance department or another consumer assistance agency in your state. See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging, and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.

What Is Long-Term Care?

Someone with a long physical illness, a disability, or a cognitive impairment (such as Alzheimer's disease) often needs long-term care. Many different long-term care services can help people with these conditions. Long-term care is different from medical care, because it generally helps you to live as you are instead of improving or correcting medical problems. Long-term care services may include help with activities of daily living (ADLs), home health care, respite care, hospice care, or adult day care. Care may be given in a nursing home, an assisted living facility, a hospice facility, a day care facility, or in your own home. Long-term care also may include care management services, which evaluate your needs and coordinate and monitor your long-term care services.

NOTE: Medicare has its own definition of skilled care. Visit www.medicare.gov to find out how Medicare defines skilled care, or get a copy of the current printed booklet "Medicare & You" from your state insurance department or state health insurance assistance program. (See the list of state insurance departments, state health insurance assistance programs, and agencies on aging starting on page 60.)

Someone with a physical illness or disability often needs hands-on assistance or stand-by assistance with activities of daily living (see page 22). People with cognitive impairments often need supervision, protection, or verbal reminders to do everyday activities. Medical personnel such as registered nurses or professional therapists provide skilled care for medical conditions. This care usually is needed 24 hours a day, is ordered by a physician, and follows a plan. Individuals usually get skilled care in a nursing home but also may get it in other places. For example, you might get skilled care in your home with help from visiting nurses or therapists. Skilled care includes services such as physical therapy, wound care, or a professional who gives you medicine through an IV.

Personal care (sometimes called custodial care) helps a person with activities of daily living (ADLs). These activities include bathing, eating, dressing, toileting, continence, and transferring. Personal care is less involved than skilled care and may be given in many settings.

How Much Does Long-Term Care Cost?

Long-term care can be expensive. The cost depends on the amount and type of care you need and where you get it. Below are some average annual costs for care in a nursing home, an assisted living facility, and your own home. Long-term care may cost more or less where you live.

Nursing Home Costs

In 2010, the national average cost of nursing home care was about $78,000 per year (for a semi-private room).¹ This cost doesn't include items such as therapies and medications, which could greatly increase the cost.

Assisted Living Facility Costs

In 2010, assisted living facilities reported charging $3,293 a month (for a one-bedroom unit) on average or $39,516 each year, including rent and most other fees.² Some residents in the facilities may pay more if they need more care.

Home Health Care Costs

In 2010, the cost of basic home health care averaged $21 per hour for a home health aide in the U.S.³ Skilled care from a nurse is more expensive. Annual costs for home health care depend on the number of days a week the caregiver visits, the type of care required, and the length of each visit. Home health care can be expensive if round-the-clock care is required. These costs are different across the country. Your state insurance department or the insurance counseling program in your state may know the costs for your area. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging, and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.)

Who Pays For It?

People pay for long-term care in different ways. These include individuals' or their families' personal resources, long-term care insurance, and some help from Medicaid for those who qualify. Medicare, Medicare supplement insurance, and the health insurance you may have at work usually won't pay for long-term care.

Personal Resources

Individuals and their families usually use some of their own money to pay for part or all of their long-term care costs. Many use savings and investments. Some sell assets, such as their homes, to pay for their long-term care needs.

Medicare

Medicare's skilled nursing facility (SNF) benefit covers very little of nursing home care.⁴ Medicare pays the cost of some skilled care in an approved nursing home or in your home, but only in specific situations. The SNF benefit only covers you if a medical professional says you need daily skilled care after you've been in the hospital for at least three days. You also must get that care in a nursing home that's a Medicare-certified skilled nursing facility. While Medicare may cover up to 100 days of skilled nursing home care in each benefit period when you meet the conditions, after 20 days you must pay a coinsurance fee. In 2012, that coinsurance was $144.50 per day.⁵ While Medicare sometimes pays for skilled care, it doesn't cover care in assisted living facilities.

While many people would like to receive care in their own homes, Medicare doesn't cover homemaker services. Also, Medicare doesn't pay for home health aides to give you personal care unless you're also getting skilled care, such as nursing or therapy. The personal care also must relate to treating an illness or injury. Also, you only can get a limited amount of care in any week.

You should NOT count on Medicare to pay your long-term care costs.

Medicare Supplement Insurance

Medicare supplement insurance (Medigap) is private insurance that helps pay for some of the gaps in Medicare coverage, such as hospital deductibles and physician charges greater than Medicare approves.

Medicare supplement insurance policies usually don't cover long-term care costs. However, four Medicare supplement insurance policies sold before June 1, 2010—Plans D, G, I, and J—did pay up to $1,600 each year for services to people recovering at home from an illness, injury, or surgery. The D and G plans sold after June 1, 2010 no longer include the “At-Home Recovery” benefit. The I and J plans aren't sold now but if you bought one of these plans before June 1, 2010, you could keep it.⁶ If you did and the plan has an “At-Home Recovery” benefit, it will pay for short-term, at-home help with activities of daily living. However, before you can use this benefit, you must qualify for Medicare-covered home health services.

Medicaid

Medicaid is the government-funded program that pays for nursing home care only for individuals who are low income and have spent most of their assets. Medicaid pays for nearly a third of all nursing home care in the U.S., but many people who need long-term care never qualify for Medicaid assistance.⁷ Medicaid also pays for some home- and community-based services. To get Medicaid help, you must meet federal and state guidelines for income and assets. Many people start paying for nursing home care out of their own money and “spend down” their income and assets until they are eligible for Medicaid. Medicaid then may pay part or all of their nursing home costs. You may have to use up most of your assets paying for your long-term care before Medicaid is able to help. You may be able to keep some assets and income for a spouse who stays at home. Also, you may be able to keep some of your assets if your long-term care insurance is approved by a state as a long-term care insurance partnership policy (see section on “Long-Term Care Insurance Partnership Policies” on page 12.)

State laws differ about how much income and assets you can keep and still be eligible for Medicaid. (Some assets, such as your home, may not keep you from being eligible for Medicaid.) However, federal law requires your state to recover from your estate the costs of the Medicaid benefits you receive.⁸ Contact your state Medicaid office, office on aging, or department of social services to learn about the rules in your state. The health insurance assistance program in your state also may have some Medicaid information. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.)

Will I Need Long-Term Care?

Your need for long-term care may increase over time as you need more and more help with activities of daily living, such as bathing or dressing. Or you may suddenly need long-term care after a major illness or injury, such as a stroke, heart attack, or broken hip. If you do need care, you may need nursing home or home health care for only a short time. Or, you may need these services for many months, years, or the rest of your life.

It's hard to know if and when you'll need long-term care, but the statistics that follow may help.

- Life expectancy after age 65 is now 18.6 years. In 1940, it was only 13 extra years after age 65. The longer people live, the greater the chance they'll need help due to chronic conditions.⁹
- About 70% of people who reach age 65 are expected to need some form of long-term care at least once in their lifetime.¹⁰
- About 11 million Americans of all ages require long-term care, but only 1.4 million live in nursing homes.¹¹
- About 35% of people who reach age 65 are expected to enter a nursing home at least once in their lifetime. Of those who are in a nursing home, the average stay is a year.¹²
- From 2015 to 2055, the number of people aged 85 and older will almost triple from over six million to over 18 million. This growth is certain to lead to an increase in the number of people who need long-term care.¹³

What is Long-Term Care Insurance?

Long-term care insurance is one way you may pay for long-term care. This type of insurance will pay or reimburse you for some or all of your long-term care costs. It was introduced in the 1980s as nursing home insurance but now often covers services in other facilities. The rest of this Shopper's Guide gives you information about long-term care insurance.

A federal law, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, or HIPAA, gives some federal income tax advantages to people who buy certain long-term care insurance policies. These policies are called tax-qualified long-term care insurance policies or simply qualified policies. The tax advantages of these policies are outlined on page 13. There may be other tax advantages in your state. You should check with your state insurance department or insurance counseling program for information about tax-qualified policies. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging, and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.) Check with your tax advisor to learn if the tax advantages make sense for you.

Do I Need To Buy Long-Term Care Insurance?

Whether you should buy a long-term care insurance policy depends on your age, health, overall retirement goals, income, and assets. For instance, if your only source of income is a Social Security benefit or Supplemental Security Income (SSI), you probably shouldn't buy long-term care insurance, as you may not be able to afford the premium.

On the other hand, if you have a large amount of assets but don't want to use them to pay for long-term care, you may want to buy a long-term care insurance policy. Many people buy a policy because they don't want the government or their family to have to care for them or pay for their care. However, you shouldn't buy a policy if you can't afford the premium or aren't sure you can pay the premium, including any increases, for the rest of your life.

If you already have health problems that could lead to long-term care (for example, Alzheimer's disease or Parkinson's disease), you probably won't be able to buy a policy. Insurance companies have medical underwriting standards to keep the cost of long-term care insurance affordable. If companies didn't have these standards, most people wouldn't buy insurance until they needed long-term care.

In some states, a regulation requires the insurance company and agent to go through a personal worksheet with you (see Worksheet 5—Long-Term Care Insurance Personal Worksheet on page 57) to decide if long-term care insurance is right for you. The worksheet describes the premium for the policy you're thinking about buying. It also asks you questions about the source and amount of your income and the amount of your savings and investments. Some states require you to fill out the worksheet and send it to the insurance company. Even if you aren't required to fill out the worksheet, it might help you decide if long-term care insurance is right for you.

Is Long-Term Care Insurance Right For You?

You should NOT buy long-term care insurance if:

- You can't afford the premiums.
- You don't have many assets.
- Your only source of income is a Social Security benefit or Supplemental Security Income (SSI).
- You often have trouble paying for utilities, food, medicine, or other important needs.
- You're on Medicaid.

You SHOULD consider buying long-term care insurance if:

- You have many assets and/or a good income.
- You don't want to use most or all of your assets and income to pay for long-term care.
- You can pay the insurance premiums, including possible premium increases, without a problem.
- You don't want to depend on support from others.
- You want to be able to choose where you receive care.

Remember, not everyone should buy a long-term care insurance policy. For some, a policy is affordable and worth the cost. For others, it costs too much. Or the policy they can afford doesn't offer enough benefits to make it worthwhile. You should not buy long-term care insurance if the only way you can afford to pay for it is to not pay other important bills. Look closely at your needs and resources. Talk with a trusted family member or friend to decide if long-term care insurance is right for you. (Worksheets 1–5, starting on page 46 of this Shopper's Guide, will help you make a decision about whether you should buy long-term care insurance.)

If, after careful thought, you decide that long-term care insurance is right for you, check out the company and the agent, if one is involved, before you buy a policy. Worksheet 2—Compare Long-Term Care Insurance Policies on page 48 and Worksheet 3—Facts About My Long-Term Care Insurance Policy on page 53 will help you to understand and compare policies. Insurance companies and agents must be licensed to sell long-term care insurance in your state. If you have questions about licensing, contact your state insurance department. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging, and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.)

What Types of Policies Can I Buy?

Private insurance companies sell long-term care insurance policies. You can buy an individual policy from an agent or through the mail. Or, you can buy coverage under a group plan through an employer or through membership in an association. The federal government and several state governments offer long-term care insurance coverage to their employees, retirees, and their families. This program is voluntary, and participants pay the premiums. You also can get long-term care benefits through some life insurance policies.

Individual Policies

Today, most long-term care insurance policies are sold to individuals. Insurance agents sell many of these policies, but companies also sell policies through the mail or by telephone. Individual policies can be very different from one company to the next. Also, policies from the same company may be different from each other. Shop among policies, companies, and agents to get the coverage that best fits your needs.

Policies from My Employer

Your employer may offer a group long-term care insurance plan or individual policies at a group discount. More employers now offer this benefit,¹⁴ especially since the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) gave employers a federal tax benefit when they pay for their employees' long-term care insurance.

The employer group plan may be similar to an individual policy you could buy. One advantage of an employer group plan for active employees is you may not have to meet any medical requirements to get a policy or the medical screening process may be more relaxed. Many employers also let retirees, spouses, parents, and parents-in-law apply for this coverage. Relatives usually must pass the company's medical screening to qualify for coverage and must pay the premium.

Insurance companies usually must let you keep your coverage if you leave your job, you're fired, or your employer cancels the group plan. You also must have the choice to convert your policy to another long-term care insurance policy. Your premiums and benefits may change, however.

If an employer offers long-term care insurance, think about it carefully. An employer group plan may give you options you can't find if you buy a policy on your own.

Policies from Federal or State Government

Federal and U.S. Postal Service employees and annuitants, members and retired members of the uniformed services, and qualified relatives of any of these are eligible to apply for long-term care insurance coverage under the Federal Long Term Care Insurance Program. Private insurance companies underwrite the insurance, and the federal government doesn't pay any of the premiums. The group rates under this program may or may not be lower than individual rates, and the benefits also may be different.¹⁵

If you (or a member of your family) are a state or public employee or retiree, you may be able to buy long-term care insurance under a state government program.

Association Policies

Many associations let insurance companies and agents offer long-term care insurance to their members. These policies are like other long-term care insurance policies and typically require medical underwriting. Like employer group plans, association policies usually give their members a choice of benefits. In most cases, policies sold through associations must let members keep or convert their coverage after they leave the association. Be careful about joining an association just to buy any insurance coverage. Review your rights if you or the company ends your coverage.

Policies Sponsored by Continuing Care Retirement Communities

Many Continuing Care Retirement Communities (CCRC) offer or require you to buy long-term care insurance. A CCRC is a retirement complex that offers a broad range of services and levels of care. You must be a resident or on the waiting list of a CCRC to qualify. You also must meet the insurance company's medical requirements to buy its long-term care insurance policy. The coverage is similar to other group or individual policies.

Life Insurance or Annuity Policies

Some life insurance and deferred annuity policies have a built-in benefit to pay for long-term care expenses such as home health care, assisted living, or nursing home care. Also, some companies let you buy more long-term care coverage than the amount of your death benefit or annuity value in the form of a rider. A rider is a separate benefit that's attached to the basic policy.

A life insurance death benefit you use while you're alive is an accelerated death benefit. A life insurance policy that uses an accelerated death benefit to pay for long-term care expenses also may be called a "life/long-term care" policy. It may be an individual or a group life insurance policy. The company pays you the actual charges for the long-term care you receive, but no more than a certain percent of the policy's death benefit each day or month. Policies may pay part or all of the death benefit for qualified long-term care expenses.

If your life insurance policy has a cash value, some companies offer another way to pay for long-term care. You might be able to withdraw some or all of your policy's cash value to pay long-term care expenses.

A deferred annuity often will let you withdraw some of the value to pay long-term care expenses without paying a surrender charge. Another type of built-in benefit pays for your long-term care expenses after you've spent the value of the annuity on them. For example, suppose you have $100,000 in a deferred annuity with this benefit. After you have spent the $100,000 on long-term care, the annuity would pay a fixed amount toward any future long-term care expenses.

With either option, it's important to remember that using money from your life insurance policy or annuity to pay for long-term care will have other effects. For example, if you use a deferred annuity to cover long-term care expenses, you'll have less money in the annuity. If you use money from your life insurance policy to pay for long-term care, your beneficiary will get a smaller death benefit. For example, suppose your policy has a $100,000 death benefit and you use $60,000 for long-term care. Then your beneficiary will get a $40,000 death benefit, not $100,000. The cash value of your policy also could be lower. Use Worksheet 4—Long-Term Care Riders to Life Insurance Policies on page 55 to help you evaluate using a life insurance policy to pay for long-term care services.

Long-Term Care Insurance Partnership Policies

In some states, there are long-term care insurance partnership policies that help you manage the financial impact of spending down to meet Medicaid eligibility standards. When you buy a partnership policy, you're protected from the normal Medicaid requirement to spend down your income and assets to become eligible.

In most states, you don't have to use up all of your partnership policy benefits to qualify for Medicaid. In most states, you can qualify for Medicaid and keep income and assets equal to the amount of claims your partnership policy paid.

Partnership policies must be federally tax-qualified plans and must include certain consumer protections. They must include inflation protection benefits so benefits keep up with increasing long-term care costs over time. Partnership policies are required to include inflation protection only for those who are 75 or younger when they buy the policy. The requirements are:

- Compound annual inflation protection for those younger than age 61.
- Some level of inflation protection for those ages 61 to 75.

How will you know if you have a partnership policy? The insurance company will either give you that information in writing with your policy or send you a letter. Either way, it's very important to keep this notice.

Please keep in mind that partnership policies have specific requirements. They aren't offered in every state. Check with your state insurance department or insurance assistance program to learn if these policies are available in your state. Many states with long-term care partnership policies have information about them on their websites. Use this link to locate your state's insurance department website: www.naic.org/state_web_map.htm. Also, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services maintains a website at www.longtermcare.gov with information about long-term care insurance and partnership policies.

Tax-Qualified Policies

You may have a choice between a federally “tax-qualified” long-term care insurance policy and one that’s “non-tax-qualified.” The differences between the two types of policies are important. A tax-qualified policy, or a qualified policy, offers certain federal income tax advantages. If you itemize your income tax deductions (about 35% of U.S. tax filers itemize¹⁶), you may be able to deduct part or all of the premium you pay for a qualified policy. You can deduct total medical expenses, including your long-term care insurance premium, that are greater than 7.5% of your adjusted gross income (10% in 2013). The most you can deduct for your long-term care insurance premium depends on your age, as shown in the table.

Your Age	Maximum Amount You Can Deduct
40 years old or younger	$350
Older than 40 but younger than 50	$660
Older than 50 but younger than 60	$1,310
Older than 60 but younger than 70	$3,500
Older than 70	$4,370
2012 figures. ¹⁷ These amounts will increase annually based on the Medical Consumer Price Index.

If you bought a long-term care insurance policy before Jan. 1, 1997, that policy is probably qualified. HIPAA allowed these policies to be “grandfathered,” or considered qualified, even though they may not meet all of the standards that new policies must meet to be qualified. The tax advantages are the same whether the policy was sold before or after 1997. You should carefully consider the advantages and disadvantages of trading a grandfathered policy for a new policy. In most cases, it’s to your advantage to keep your old policy.

Long-term care insurance policies sold on or after Jan. 1, 1997, as tax-qualified must meet certain federal standards. The policies must be labeled as tax-qualified, be guaranteed renewable, include a number of consumer protections, and cover only qualified long-term care services.

Qualified long-term care services usually are those from long-term care providers. You must be chronically ill. Also, the care must follow a plan that a licensed health care practitioner prescribes. You're considered chronically ill if it's expected that you'll be unable to do at least two activities of daily living without substantial assistance from another person for at least 90 days. Another way you may be considered chronically ill is if you need substantial supervision to protect your health and safety because you have a cognitive impairment. A policy issued to you before Jan. 1, 1997, doesn't have to define chronically ill this way. (See information about benefit triggers on page 21.)

Some life insurance policies with long-term care benefits may be tax-qualified. You may be able to deduct the premiums you pay for long-term care benefits from a life insurance policy. However, be sure to check with your personal tax advisor to learn how much of the premium can be deducted as a medical expense.

The long-term care benefits paid from a tax-qualified life insurance policy with long-term care benefits generally aren't taxed as income. Tax-qualified life insurance policies with long-term care benefits must meet the same federal standards as other tax-qualified policies, including the requirement that you must be chronically ill to receive benefits.

Tax-Qualified and Non-Tax-Qualified Policies

Federally Tax-Qualified Policies	Federally Non-Tax-Qualified Policies
1. You can include premiums with other uncompensated medical expenses as income tax deductions if the total is greater than 7.5% of your adjusted gross income (10% in 2013). There's a cap on how much you can claim for long-term care insurance premiums.	1. You may or may not be able to deduct any part of your annual premiums. Congress and the U.S. Department of the Treasury haven't clarified this area of the law.
2. Benefits you receive and use to pay for long-term care services generally aren't counted as income. Benefits you receive from policies that use the expense-incurred method may be taxable if the benefits are greater than the costs of long-term care services. All benefit payments up to the federally approved per diem (daily) rate are tax-free from policies that use the indemnity or disability methods , even if the benefits are greater than your expenses.	2. The benefits you receive may or may not count as income. Congress and the U.S. Department of the Treasury haven't clarified this area of the law.
3. To trigger the benefits under your policy, the federal law requires you to be unable to do two ADLs without substantial assistance .	3. Policies can offer a different combination of benefit triggers . Benefit triggers are not restricted to two ADLs.
4. Policies cannot use "medical necessity" as a benefit trigger .	4. The benefit triggers can be "medical necessity" and/or other measures of disability.
5. Policies can require that a person be chronically ill or have disability lasting at least 90 days.	5. Policies don't have to require the disability to last at least 90 days.
6. Policies that cover cognitive impairment must require " substantial supervision " as a benefit trigger .	6. Policies don't have to require " substantial supervision " to trigger benefits for cognitive impairments .

Whether you buy a tax-qualified or a non-tax-qualified policy, consult with your tax consultant or legal advisor about the tax consequences for you.

How Do Long-Term Care Insurance Policies Work?

Long-term care insurance policies aren't standardized like Medicare supplement insurance. Companies sell policies that combine benefits and coverage in different ways.

How Benefits Are Paid

Long-term care insurance policies generally pay benefits using one of three different methods: the expense-incurred method, the indemnity method, or the disability method. It's important to read the information that comes with your policy (or certificate for group policies) and to compare the benefits and premiums.

When your policy or certificate uses the expense-incurred method, it pays benefits only when you receive eligible services. The insurance company must decide if you're eligible for benefits and if your claim is for eligible services. Only then are benefits paid, either to you or your provider. The coverage pays for either the expense or the dollar limit of your policy, whichever is less. Most policies bought today pay benefits using the expense-incurred method.

When a policy or certificate uses the indemnity method, the benefit is a set dollar amount. The benefit isn't based on the specific services you received or on the expenses incurred. The insurance company only needs to decide if you're eligible for benefits and if the policy covers the services you're receiving. Once it makes that decision, the insurance company pays that set amount directly to you, up to the limit of the policy.

When a policy uses the disability method, you're only required to meet the benefit eligibility criteria. Once you do, you receive your full daily benefit, even if you aren't receiving any long-term care services.

Pooled Benefits and Joint Policies

You may be able to buy a long-term care insurance policy that covers more than just one person, or more than one kind of long-term care service. The benefits these policies provide often are called “pooled benefits.”

One type of pooled benefit covers more than one person, such as a husband and wife, or domestic partners, or two or more related adults. This type of benefit sometimes is called a “joint policy” or a “joint benefit.” The total benefit usually applies to all of the individuals the policy covers. If one covered individual collects benefits, that amount is subtracted from the total policy benefit. For example, suppose a husband and wife have a pooled benefits policy that pays $150,000 in total long-term care benefits, and the husband uses $25,000 in benefits. Then $125,000 would be left to pay benefits for either the husband or the wife or both.

Another kind of pooled benefit lets you use a total dollar amount for various long-term care services. These policies pay a daily, weekly, or monthly dollar limit for one or more covered services. You can combine benefits in ways that best meet your needs. This gives you more control over how you spend your benefits. For example, you could choose to combine the home care and community-based care benefits instead of using the nursing home benefit.

Some policies provide both types of pooled benefits. Other policies provide one or the other.

What Services Are Covered

It's important that you understand what services your long-term care insurance policy covers and how it covers the many types of services you might need to use. Policies may cover the following:

- Nursing home care
- Home health care
- Respite care
- Hospice care
- Personal care in your home
- Services in assisted living facilities
- Services in adult day care centers
- Services in other community facilities

NOTE: Some policies pay benefits to family members who give care in the home.

Policies may cover home health care in several ways. Some long-term care insurance policies only pay for care in your home from licensed home health agencies. Some pay for care from licensed health care providers who aren't from a licensed agency. These include licensed practical nurses; occupational, speech, or physical therapists; and licensed home health care aides. Other policies may pay for services from home health care aides to help with personal care who may not be licensed or aren't from licensed agencies. You may find a policy that pays for homemaker services or chore worker services. This type of benefit, though not available in all policies, would pay for someone to come to your home to cook meals and run errands. Generally, adding home care benefits to a policy also increases the cost of the policy.

Where Services Are Covered

You should know what types of facilities your long-term care policy covers. If you aren't in the right type of facility, the insurance company can refuse to pay for eligible services. There may be new kinds of facilities in the future. It's important to know if your policy will cover them.

Some policies may pay for care in any state-licensed facility. Others only pay for care in some state-licensed facilities, such as a licensed nursing facility. Still others list the types of facilities where services won't be covered, which may include state-licensed facilities. (For example, some places that care for elderly people are referred to as homes for the aged, rest homes, or personal care homes, and often aren't covered by long-term care policies.) Some policies may list specific points about the kinds of facilities they'll cover. Some say the facilities must care for a certain number of patients or give a certain kind of care.

NOTE: If you do NOT live in the kind of facility named in your policy, the insurance company may not pay for the services you require.

When you shop for a long-term care policy, carefully compare the types of services and facilities the policy covers. Also know that many states, companies, and policies define assisted living facilities differently.

Policies that cover assisted living facilities in one state may not cover services in an assisted living facility in another state. Before you move or retire to another state, ask if your policy covers the types of services and facilities available in your new state. Also, if your policy lists kinds of facilities, check if your policy requires the facility to have a license or certification from a government agency.

What Services Aren't Covered (Exclusions and Limitations)

Most long-term care insurance policies usually don't pay benefits for:

- A mental or nervous disorder or disease, other than Alzheimer's disease or other dementia.
- Alcohol or drug addiction.
- Illness or injury caused by an act of war.
- Treatment in a government facility or that the government has already paid for.
- Attempted suicide or intentionally self-inflicted injuries.

NOTE: Many policies do not cover or limit their coverage for care outside the United States.

NOTE: In most states, regulations require insurance companies to pay for covered services for Alzheimer's disease that develops after a policy is issued. Ask your state insurance department if this applies in your state. Nearly all policies specifically say they will cover Alzheimer's disease. Read about Alzheimer's disease and eligibility for benefits in the section on benefit triggers on page 22.

How Much Coverage Will I Have?

The policy or certificate may state the amount of coverage in one of several ways. A policy may pay different amounts for different types of long-term care services. Be sure you understand how much coverage you'll have and how the policy will cover long-term care services you receive.

Maximum Benefit Limit

Most policies limit the total benefit they'll pay over the life of the policy, but a few don't. Some policies state the maximum benefit limit in years (one, two, three or more, or even lifetime). Others write the policy maximum benefit limit as a total dollar amount. Policies often use words like "total lifetime benefit," "maximum lifetime benefit," or "total plan benefit" to describe their maximum benefit limit. When you look at a policy or certificate, be sure to check the total amount of coverage. In most states, the minimum benefit period is one year. Most nursing home stays are short, but illnesses that go on for several years could mean long nursing home stays. You'll have to decide if you want protection for very long stays. Policies with longer maximum benefit periods cost more. You usually can learn what the benefit period is by looking through the first few pages of the policy for the schedule page.

Daily/Weekly/Monthly Benefit Limit

Policies normally pay benefits by the day, week, or month. For example, in an expense-incurred plan, a policy might pay a daily nursing home benefit of up to $200 per day, and a weekly home health care benefit of up to $1,400 per week. Some policies pay one time for single events, such as installing a home medical alert system.

When you buy a policy, insurance companies let you choose a benefit amount (usually $50 to $350 a day, $350 to $2,450 a week, or $1,500 to $10,500 a month) for care in a nursing home. If a policy covers home care, the benefit is usually a percentage of the nursing home care benefit – for example, 50% or 75%. But, more policies now pay the same benefit amounts for care at home as in a facility. Often, you can choose the home care benefit amount you want. It's important to know how much skilled nursing homes, assisted living facilities, and home health care agencies charge for their services BEFORE you choose the benefit amounts in your long-term care insurance policy. Check the facilities in the area where you think you may be receiving care, whether they are local, near a grown child, or in a new place where you may retire. Worksheet 1—Availability and Cost of Long-Term Care in My Area on page 46 can help you track these costs.

NOTE: Companies may use different benefit triggers for home health care coverage than for nursing home care, but most don't. If they do, the benefit trigger for nursing home care is usually harder to meet than the one for home care.

When Will I Be Eligible for Benefits (Benefit Triggers)?

“Benefit triggers” is the term usually used to describe the way insurance companies decide when to pay benefits. This term refers to how the insurance company decides if you're eligible for benefits. Benefit triggers are an important part of a long-term care insurance policy. Different policies may have different benefit triggers so look at this policy feature carefully as you shop. Look for a section called “Eligibility for the Payment of Benefits” or simply “Eligibility for Benefits” in the policy and outline of coverage. Some states require certain benefit triggers. Also, the benefit triggers for tax-qualified contracts are mostly the same across insurance policies. Check with your state insurance department to find out what your state requires.

Types of Benefit Triggers

Activities of Daily Living

Being unable to do activities of daily living, or ADLs, is the most common way insurance companies decide when you're eligible for benefits. Most companies use six ADLs: bathing, continence, dressing, eating, toileting, and transferring. Typically, a policy pays benefits when you can't do a certain number of the ADLs, such as two of the six or three of the six. The more ADLs you must be unable to do, the harder it'll be for you to become eligible for benefits. The requirement for federally tax-qualified policies is being unable to do at least two of the six ADLs listed earlier as benefit triggers.

If the policy you're thinking of buying pays benefits when you can't do certain ADLs, be sure you understand what that means. Some policies spell out very clearly what it means to be unable to feed or bathe oneself. Some policies say that you must need someone to actually help you do the activities. That's known as hands-on assistance. Others say you qualify if you only need someone nearby to help you if you need it (stand-by assistance). Requiring hands-on assistance makes it harder to qualify for benefits than requiring only stand-by assistance. The more clearly a policy describes its requirements, the clearer you or your family will be when you need to file a claim.

NOTE: The six activities of daily living (ADLs) have been developed through years of research. This research also has shown that bathing usually is the first ADL that a person cannot do. While most policies use all six ADLs as benefit triggers, qualifying for benefits from a policy that uses five ADLs may be harder if bathing is not one of the five.

Cognitive Impairment

Most long-term care insurance policies also pay benefits for cognitive impairment. Coverage of cognitive impairment is especially important if you develop Alzheimer's disease or other dementia. If being unable to do ADLs is the only benefit trigger your policy uses, it may not pay benefits if you have Alzheimer's disease but can still do most of the ADLs on your own. If your policy also uses a test of your cognitive ability as a benefit trigger, it's more likely to pay benefits if you have Alzheimer's disease. Most states don't let companies limit benefits only because you have Alzheimer's disease.

Doctor Certification of Medical Necessity

Some long-term care insurance policies pay benefits only if your doctor orders or certifies that the care is medically necessary. However, tax-qualified policies can't use this benefit trigger.

NOTE: Medicare still requires a three-day hospital stay to be eligible for Medicare payment of skilled nursing facility benefits.

Prior Hospitalization

In the past, long-term care insurance policies required a hospital stay of at least three days before they would pay benefits. Most companies no longer sell policies that require a hospital stay.

When Benefits Start (Elimination Period)

With many policies, your benefits won't start the first day you go to a nursing home or start using home care. How many days you have to wait for benefits to start will depend on the elimination period (sometimes called a deductible or a waiting period) you pick when you buy your policy. During an elimination period, the policy won't pay the cost of long-term care services you receive and you may owe that cost. The elimination period can be 20, 30, 60, 90, or 100 days after you start using long-term care or become disabled. You also might be able to choose a policy with a zero-day elimination period, but expect it to cost more.

Elimination periods for nursing home and home health care may be different. Or a single elimination period may apply to any covered service. Some policies calculate the elimination period using calendar days. Other policies count only the days on which you received a covered service. Under the calendar days method, every day of the week counts toward the elimination period whether or not you received any services on those days. Under the days of service method, the only days that count toward the elimination period are the ones when you received services. For example, if you only received services three days a week, it will take longer for your benefits to start than if you received them five days a week. So, you would have more out-of-pocket expenses before your benefits begin.

You may choose to pay a higher premium for a shorter elimination period. If you choose a longer elimination period, you'll pay a lower premium. But you also must pay the cost of your care during the elimination period.

For example, if a nursing home in your area costs $150 a day and your policy has a 30-day elimination period, you would have to pay $4,500 before your policy starts to pay benefits. If you had a policy with a 60-day elimination period, you would have to pay $9,000 of your own money. With a 90-day elimination period, you would have to pay $13,500 of your own money before the policy would start to pay benefits.

If you only need care for a short time and your policy has a long elimination period, your policy may not pay any benefits. If, for example, your policy had a 10-day elimination period, and you received long-term care services for only 60 days, you wouldn't receive any benefits from your policy.

On the other hand, if you can afford to pay for long-term care services for a short time, a longer elimination period might be right for you. It would protect you if you needed care for a long time and also would help to keep the cost of your insurance down.

You also may want to think about how the policy pays if you have a repeat stay in a nursing home. Some policies count the second stay as part of the first one as long as you leave and then go back within 30, 90, or 180 days. Be sure you know how the policy defines the elimination period. Find out if the insurance company requires another elimination period for a second stay. Some policies only require you to meet the elimination period once in your lifetime. Others require you to satisfy the elimination period with each “episode of care.” Some policies let you use non-consecutive days (for example, the 10th, 12th, and 15th) to satisfy the elimination period, but others require consecutive days.

Inflation Protection

Inflation protection can be one of the most important features you can add to a long-term care insurance policy. Inflation protection increases the premium, usually by 25% to 40%. However, unless your benefits increase over time, years from now you may find that they haven't kept up with increasing long-term care costs. The cost of nursing home care has gone up by 7% a year for the past several years.¹⁸ If inflation is 5% a year, a nursing home that costs $150 a day in 2015 will cost $398 a day in 20 years. Obviously, the younger you are when you buy a policy, the more important it is for you to think about adding inflation protection. You usually can buy inflation protection in one of two ways: automatically or by special offer.

NOTE: Most states' regulations require companies to offer inflation protection. It is up to you to decide whether to buy it. If you do not buy the protection, the company may ask you to sign a statement saying you didn't want it. Be sure you know what you're signing.

Automatic Inflation Protection

With automatic inflation protection, your benefit amounts go up each year, usually with no change in your premium. The daily benefit automatically increases each year by a fixed percentage, usually 5%, for the life of the policy or for a certain period, usually 10 or 20 years.

Policies that increase benefits for inflation automatically may use "simple" or "compound" rates. Whether the inflation adjustment is simple or compound determines the dollar amount of the increase. If the inflation increase is simple, the benefit increases by the same dollar amount each year. If the increase is compounded, the dollar amount of the benefit increase goes up each year. For example, a $200 daily benefit that increases by a simple 5% a year will go up $10 a year and will be $400 a day in 20 years. If the increase is compounded, the annual increase will be a larger dollar amount each year and at 5% a year, the $200 daily benefit will be $531 a day in 20 years.

The following tables show the effects of inflation on nursing home costs over a 20-year period, assuming a daily cost of $200 in 2015.¹⁹ At a 7% rate of inflation, nursing home costs could be $774 a day in 20 years. If a long-term care policy uses 7% simple interest to increase the benefit amount, a $200 daily benefit in 2015 would be only $480 in 20 years, $284 a day less than you would need to pay for long-term care. If the inflation rate is 8%, your benefit adjusted at a simple rate of interest would be more than $400 less than the daily cost of care ($932-$520).

Compound Interest

Rate of Inflation	2015	2020	2025	2030	2035
5%	$200	$255	$326	$416	$531
6%	$200	$268	$358	$479	$641
7%	$200	$281	$393	$552	$774
8%	$200	$294	$432	$634	$932

Simple Interest

Rate of Inflation	2015	2020	2025	2030	2035
5%	$200	$250	$300	$350	$400
6%	$200	$260	$320	$380	$440
7%	$200	$270	$340	$415	$480
8%	$200	$280	$360	$440	$520

Compounded automatic inflation increases are a good idea. Some states now require policies to offer compound inflation increases but others don't so not all policies offer them. Check with your state insurance department to find out what's required in your state. All individual and some group tax-qualified policies must offer compound inflation increases as an option. Compounding can make a big difference in the size of your benefit.

Special Offer or Non-Automatic Inflation Protection

The second way to buy inflation protection lets you choose to increase your benefits from time to time, such as every two or three years. If you regularly use the special offer option, you usually don't have to prove you're in good health, if you regularly use the option. Your premium increases if you increase your benefits. How much it increases depends on your age at the time and how much you increase your benefit. Increasing your benefits every few years may help you afford the cost of increasing your benefits later. If you turn down the option to increase your benefit one year, you may not get the chance again. If you do, you may have to prove good health, or it may cost you more money. If you don't accept an offer, check your policy to see how that affects future offers. Some policies continue the inflation offers while you receive benefits, but most don't. Check your policy carefully.

Other Benefits

Third-Party Notice

The third-party notice benefit lets you name someone the insurance company would contact if your coverage is about to end because you forgot to pay the premium. People with cognitive impairments may forget to pay the premium and lose their coverage when they need it the most.

You can choose a relative, friend, or a professional (e.g., a lawyer or accountant) as your third party. After the company contacts the person you choose, he or she would have some time to arrange to pay the overdue premium. You usually can name a contact person without extra cost. Some states require insurance companies to give you the chance to name a contact and to update your list of contacts from time to time. You may be required to sign a waiver if you choose not to name anyone to be contacted if the policy is about to lapse.

Other Long-Term Care Insurance Policy Options I Might Choose

You can probably choose other policy features, but some insurers don't offer all of them. Each may increase your policy's cost.

Waiver of Premium

Premium waiver lets you stop paying the premium once you're eligible and the insurance company starts to pay benefits. Many long-term care insurance policies automatically include this feature, but some may only offer it as an optional benefit. Some companies waive the premium as soon as they make the first benefit payment. Others wait until you've received benefits for 60 to 90 days.

Premium Refund at Death

This benefit pays to your estate any premiums you paid minus any benefits the company paid. To get the refund, you must have paid premiums for a certain number of years. Also, some companies refund premiums only if the policyholder dies before a certain age, usually 65 or 75.

Downgrades

While it may not always appear in the contract, most insurers let you reduce your coverage if you have trouble paying the premium. When you downgrade your policy, it covers less and/or has lower benefits and you'll pay a lower premium. Downgrading may let you keep your policy instead of dropping it.

What If I Can't Afford the Premiums After I Buy the Policy?

Nonforfeiture Benefits

If, for whatever reason, you drop your coverage and your policy has a nonforfeiture benefit, you'll get some value for the money you've paid into the policy. Without this type of benefit, you get nothing, even if you paid premiums for 10 or 20 years before you dropped the policy. A nonforfeiture benefit can add 10%–100% (sometimes more) to a policy's cost. How much it adds depends on such things as your age at the time you bought the policy, the type of nonforfeiture benefit, and whether the policy has inflation protection.

Some states require insurance companies to offer long-term care insurance policies with a nonforfeiture benefit. If so, you may be given benefit choices, including a reduced paid-up policy, shortened benefit period policy, and an extended-term policy. With any of these, when you stop paying your premiums, the company gives you a paid-up policy. Depending on the option you choose, your paid-up policy could either have the same benefit period but with a lower daily benefit (reduced paid-up policy) or the same daily benefit but with a shorter benefit period (shortened benefit period policy or extended term policy) than your original policy. Regardless, the level of benefits depends on how long you paid premiums and how much you've paid in premiums. Since the policy is paid-up, you won't owe any more premiums. If the nonforfeiture benefit is extended term and you don't use the benefits in a certain period of time, your coverage ends. There's no time limit to use the benefits if the nonforfeiture benefit is a reduced paid-up policy.

Other insurers may offer a "return of premium" nonforfeiture benefit. They pay back all or part of the premiums that you paid in if you drop your policy after a certain number of years. This type of nonforfeiture benefit usually costs the most. You have the option to add a nonforfeiture benefit if you're buying a tax-qualified policy. The return of premium, the reduced paid-up policy, and the shortened benefit period nonforfeiture benefits could be choices when you buy a tax-qualified policy.

Contingent Nonforfeiture

In some states, if you don't accept the offer of a nonforfeiture benefit, a company is required to offer you a contingent benefit if the policy lapses. This means that when your premiums increase to a certain amount (based on a table of increases), the company must give you a way to keep your policy without paying the higher premium. For example, suppose you bought a policy at age 70 and didn't accept the insurance company's offer of a nonforfeiture benefit. Also, suppose the policy is required to offer you a contingent benefit upon lapse if the premium increases to 40% or more of the original premium. If you're offered the contingent benefit upon lapse, you could choose: 1) your current policy with reduced benefits so the premium stays the same; 2) a paid-up policy with a shorter benefit period but no future premiums; or 3) your current policy with the higher premiums.

Will My Health Affect My Ability to Buy a Policy?

Companies that sell long-term care insurance medically “underwrite” their coverage. They look at your current and past health before they decide to issue a policy. An employer or another type of group may not use medical underwriting or may have more relaxed underwriting standards. Insurance companies’ underwriting practices affect the premiums they charge you now and in the future. Some companies do what is known as “short-form” underwriting. They only ask you to answer a few questions on the insurance application about your health. For example, they may want to know if you’ve been in a nursing home or received care at home in the last 12 months.

Some companies do more underwriting. They may ask more questions, look at your current medical records, and ask your doctor for a statement about your health. These companies may insure fewer people with health problems. If you have certain conditions that are likely to mean you’ll soon need long-term care (Parkinson’s disease, for example), you probably can’t buy coverage from these companies.

Sometimes companies don’t check your medical record until you file a claim. Then they may try to refuse to pay you benefits because of information they found in your medical record after you filed your claim. This practice is called “post-claims underwriting.” It’s illegal in many states. Companies that thoroughly check your health before selling you a policy aren’t as likely to do post-claims underwriting. No matter how the company underwrites, you must answer certain questions on your application. When you fill out your application, be sure to answer all questions correctly and completely. A company depends on the information you put on your application. If the information is wrong, an insurance company may decide to rescind (or cancel) your policy and return the premiums you've paid. A company usually can do this only in the first two years after you bought the policy. Most states require the insurance company to give you a copy of your application when it delivers the policy. Then, you can review your answers again. You should keep this copy of the application with your insurance papers.

What Happens If I Have Pre-Existing Conditions?

A long-term care insurance policy usually defines a pre-existing condition as one where you got medical advice or treatment or had symptoms within a certain period before you applied for the policy. Some companies look further back in time than others. That may be important if you have a pre-existing condition. A company that learns you didn't tell it about a pre-existing condition on your application might not pay for treatment related to that condition and might even rescind your coverage. A company usually can do this only within two years after you bought the policy. But in some cases it could be longer, if you intentionally misled the insurer.

Many companies will sell a policy to someone with a pre-existing condition. However, the company may not pay benefits for long-term care related to that condition for a period after the policy goes into effect, usually six months. Some companies have longer pre-existing condition periods, while others have none.

Can I Renew My Long-Term Care Insurance Policy?

In most states, long-term care insurance policies sold today must be guaranteed renewable—the insurance company guarantees you a chance to renew the policy. This isn't a guarantee that you can renew at the same premium. Your premium may go up over time as your company pays more claims and more expensive claims.

Insurance companies can increase the premiums on their policies, but only if they increase the premiums on all policies that are the same in that state. An insurance company can't single out an individual for a premium increase, no matter whether you've filed a claim or your health has gotten worse. In some states, a company can't increase your premium just because you're older. If you buy a group policy and later leave the group, you may be able to keep your group coverage or convert it to an individual policy, but you may pay more. You can ask your state insurance department if your state requires insurers to offer you this option.

How Much Do Long-Term Care Insurance Policies Cost?

A long-term care insurance policy can be expensive. Be sure you can pay the premiums and still afford your other health insurance and other expenses.

Premiums vary based on a variety of factors. These factors include your age and health when you buy a policy and the level of coverage, benefits, and options you choose. The older you are when you buy long-term care insurance, the higher your premiums will be, as it's more likely you'll need long-term care services. (See "Will I Need Long-Term Care" on page 6.) If you buy at a younger age, your premiums will be lower, but you'll pay premiums for a longer period of time. According to recent studies, the average buyer is age 59.²⁰

If you buy a policy with a large daily benefit, a longer maximum benefit period, or a home health care benefit, it will cost more. Inflation protection and nonforfeiture benefits mean much higher premiums for long-term care insurance. Inflation protection can add 25% to 40% to the premium. Nonforfeiture benefits can add 10% to 100% to the premium, as noted on page 28. In fact, either of these options could easily double your premium, depending on your age when you buy a policy.

The table that follows shows examples of how much premiums can vary depending on your age and coverage options.²¹ It shows the average annual premiums for basic long-term care insurance ($200 daily benefit amount; four-year, six-year, and lifetime coverage; and a 20-day elimination period) with and without a 5% compound inflation protection option and with no nonforfeiture benefit option. Remember, your actual premium may be very different.

Average Annual Premium for Basic Long-Term Insurance
$200 Daily Benefit

Age When Buy	With Inflation Protection 5% Compounded Per Year
	4 Years of Benefits	6 Years of Benefits	Lifetime Benefits
50	$4,349	$5,083	$7,347
60	$5,331	$6,269	$8,927
70	$9,206	$10,549	$15,070
75	$13,500	$15,157	$20,930
	With No Inflation Protection—Benefit Stays at $200 per Day
	4 Years of Benefits	6 Years of Benefits	Lifetime Benefits
50	$1,294	$1,514	$1,997
60	$2,057	$2,426	$3,307
70	$4,914	$5,834	$7,777
75	$8,146	$8,291	$12,337

Another issue to keep in mind is that long-term care insurance policies may not cover the full cost of your care. For example, if your policy covers $110 a day in a nursing home, but the total cost of care is $150 a day, you must pay the difference. Remember, medications and therapies increase your total daily costs. Consider the long-term care costs in your state when you choose the amount of coverage to buy. (See “How Much Do Long-Term Care Insurance Policies Cost?” on page 32.)

When you buy a long-term care policy, think about how much your income is. How much can you afford to spend on a long-term care insurance policy now? A rule of thumb is that you may not be able to afford the policy if the premiums will be more than 7% of your income. Also, try to think about what your future income and living expenses are likely to be and how much premium you could pay then. If you don't expect your income to increase and you can barely afford the premium now, it probably isn't a good idea to buy a policy.

As you decide what you can afford, consider the effect if the premium goes up in the future. While a company can't raise premiums because you filed a claim or your health changed, the company can raise the premiums for an entire class of policies. Some states have laws that limit premium increases. Check with your state insurance department to learn how your state regulates premium increases. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging, and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.) Again, it probably isn't a good idea to buy a policy if you can barely afford the premiums now.

NOTE: Don't be misled by the term "level premium." You may be told that your long-term care insurance premium is "level." That doesn't mean that it will never increase. For almost all long-term care insurance policies, companies can't guarantee that premiums will never increase. Companies don't guarantee that premiums will never increase. Many states have adopted regulations that do not let insurance companies use the word "level" to sell guaranteed renewable policies. Companies must tell consumers that premiums may go up. Look for that information on the outline of coverage and the policy's face page when you shop.

What Options Do I Have to Pay the Premiums on the Policy?

If you decide you can afford to buy a long-term care insurance policy, there are two main ways you can pay your premiums—the continuous payment option and the limited payment option. Not every company offers the limited payment option in every state. Ask your state insurance department what options your state allows. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging, and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.)

Premiums usually are less with the continuous payment option. Under this option, you pay the premiums on your policy, typically monthly, quarterly, or once or twice a year, until you trigger your benefits. The company can't cancel the policy unless you don't pay the premiums.

Some companies offer a limited payment option to pay premiums. Under this option, you pay premiums for a set time period in one of the following ways:

- Single pay. You make one lump-sum payment.
- 10-pay and 20-pay. You pay premiums for either 10 or 20 years, and nothing after that. You might choose this option if your income will be lower in 10 or 20 years.
- Pay-to-65. You pay premiums until you're age 65 and nothing after that.

With any of these payment options, neither you nor the company can cancel the policy after you make the last premium payment. Limited payment option policies are more expensive than continuous payment policies, because you're paying a greater portion of your premium with each payment. Unless the contract fixes your premium for the payment period, your premium could increase. Despite the higher cost, some consumers want the guaranteed fixed payment and no-cancel features. Ask your tax advisor for information about the tax treatment of limited payment options.

If I Already Own a Policy, Should I Switch Policies or Upgrade the Coverage I Have Now?

Before you switch to a new long-term care insurance policy, be sure it's better than the one you have now. Even if your agent now works for a different company, think carefully before you make any changes. Switching may be right for you if your old policy requires you to stay in the hospital or to receive other types of care before it pays benefits. Before you decide to change, though, first ask if you can upgrade the coverage on the policy you already have. For example, you might add inflation protection or take off the requirement that you stay in the hospital. It might cost less to improve a policy you have now than to buy a new one. If not, you could replace your current policy with one that gives you more benefits, or even add a second policy. Be sure to talk about any changes in your coverage with a trusted family member or friend. Also, be sure you're in good health and can qualify for another policy.

If you decide to switch to a new long-term care insurance policy, be sure the company accepts your application and issues the new policy before you cancel the old one. When you cancel a policy in the middle of its term, many companies won't give back any premiums you've paid. If you switch policies, you may not have coverage for pre-existing conditions for a certain period.

What Shopping Tips Should I Keep in Mind?

Here are some points to keep in mind as you shop.

▶ Ask questions.

If you have questions about the agent, the insurance company, or the policy, contact your state insurance department or insurance counseling program. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.) Be sure the company is reputable and licensed to sell long-term care insurance policies in your state.

▶ Check with several companies and agents.

It's wise to contact several companies (and agents) before you buy. Compare benefits, the types of facilities you have to be in to get coverage, the limits on your coverage, what's not covered, and, of course, the premiums. (Policies that have the same coverage and benefits may not cost the same.) Worksheet 2—Compare Long-Term Care Insurance Policies on page 48 of this Shopper's Guide will be helpful.

▶ Check out the companies' premium increase histories.

Ask companies whether they have increased the premiums on the long-term care insurance policies they sell. Ask to see a company's personal worksheet (see Worksheet 5—Long-Term Care Insurance Personal Worksheet) that includes the company's premium increase history.

Some state insurance departments prepare a consumer guide for long-term care insurance each year (see Texas guide at left). These guides may include an overview of long-term care insurance, a list of companies selling long-term care insurance in your state, the types of benefits and policies you can buy (both as an individual and as a member of a group), and a premium increase history of each company that sells long-term care insurance in that state. Some guides even include examples of different coverage types and combinations and premiums to help you compare policies.

Contact your state insurance department or insurance assistance program for this information. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging, and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.)

► Take your time and compare outlines of coverage.

Ask for an outline of coverage, which describes the policy's benefits and points out important features. Compare outlines of coverage for several policies, making sure they are similar (if not the same). In most states the agent must leave an outline of coverage when he or she first contacts you. Never let anyone pressure or scare you into making a quick decision. Don't buy a policy the first time you see an agent.

► Understand the policies.

Be sure you know what the policy covers and what it doesn't. If you have any questions, call the insurance company before you buy.

If any information confuses you or is different from the information in the company literature, don't hesitate to call or write the company to ask your questions. Don't trust any sales presentation or literature that claims you have only one chance to buy a policy.

Some companies sell their policies through agents, while others sell their policies through the mail, skipping agents entirely. No matter how you buy your policy, check with the company if you don't understand how the policy works.

Talk about the policy with a trusted family member or friend. You also may want to contact your state insurance department or state health insurance assistance program (SHIP). (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging, and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.)

▶ Don't be misled by advertising.

Most celebrity endorsers are professional actors paid to advertise. They aren't insurance experts. Medicare doesn't endorse or sell long-term care insurance policies. Be wary of any advertising that suggests Medicare is involved.

Don't trust cards you get in the mail that look like official government documents until you check with the government agency identified on the card. Insurance companies or agents trying to find buyers may have sent them. Be careful if anyone asks you questions over the telephone about Medicare or your insurance. They may sell any information you give to long-term care insurance marketers, who might call you, come to your home, or try to sell you insurance by mail.

▶ Be sure you put correct and complete information on your application.

Don't be misled by long-term care insurance marketers who say your medical history isn't important—it is! Give correct information. If an agent fills out the application for you, don't sign it until you've read it. Be sure that all of the medical information is accurate and complete. If it isn't and the company used that information to decide whether to insure you, it could refuse to pay your claims and even cancel your policy.

▶ Never pay in cash.

Use a check, electronic bank draft payable to the insurance company, or credit card.

▶ Be sure to get the name, address, and telephone number of the agent and the company.

Get a local or toll-free number for both the agent and the company.

▶ If you don't get your policy within 60 days, contact the company or agent.

You have a right to expect prompt delivery of your policy. When you get it, keep it somewhere you can easily find it. Tell a trusted family member or friend where it is.

▶ Be sure you look at your policy during the free-look period.

If you decide you don't want the policy soon after you bought it, you can cancel it and get your money back. You only have a certain number of days after you get the policy to tell the company you don't want it. How many days you have depends on the "free-look" period. In some states the insurance company must tell you about the free-look period on the cover page of the policy. In most states you have 30 days to cancel, but in some you have less time. Check with your state insurance department (see the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60) to find out how long the free-look period is in your state.

If you want to cancel:

- Keep the envelope the policy was mailed in. Or ask the agent for a signed delivery receipt when he or she hands you the policy.
- Send the policy to the insurance company along with a short letter asking for a refund.
- Send both the policy and the letter by certified mail. Keep the mailing receipt.
- Keep a copy of all letters. It usually takes four to six weeks to get your refund.

▶ Read the policy again and be sure it gives you the coverage you want.

Check the policy to see if the benefits and the premiums are what you expected. If you have any questions, call the agent or company right away. Also, reread the application you signed. It's part of the policy. If it isn't filled out correctly, contact the agent or company right away. Worksheet 3—Facts About My Long-Term Care Insurance Policy on page 53 of this Shopper's Guide can help you be sure you understand your policy.

▶ Think about having the premium automatically taken out of your bank account.

Automatic withdrawal may mean that you won't lose your coverage if you forget to pay your premium. If you decide not to renew your policy, be sure you tell the bank to stop the automatic withdrawals.

▶ Check the financial stability of the insurance company.

Insurer ratings can show you how analysts see the financial health of individual insurance companies. Different rating agencies use different rating scales. Be sure to find out how the agency labels its highest ratings and the meaning of the ratings for the companies you're considering.

You can get ratings from some insurer rating services for free at most public libraries. And now you can get information from these services on the Internet.

Some companies that provide ratings of insurers are:

- A.M. Best Company
- Fitch IBCA, Duff & Phelps, Inc.
- Moody's Investor Service, Inc.
- Standard & Poor's Insurance Rating Services
- Weiss Ratings, Inc.

Glossary

Accelerated Death Benefit: A life insurance policy feature that lets you use some of the policy's death benefit before you die.

Activities of Daily Living (ADLs): Everyday functions and activities individuals usually do without help. ADLs include bathing, continence, dressing, eating, toileting, and transferring. Many policies use being unable to do a certain number of ADLs (such as two of six) to decide when to pay benefits.

Adult Day Care: Care given during the day at a community-based center for adults who need help or supervision during the day, including help with personal care, but who don't need round-the-clock care.

Alzheimer's Disease: A progressive, degenerative form of cognitive impairment that causes severe intellectual deterioration.

Assisted Living Facility: A residential living arrangement that provides personal care and health services for people who need some help with activities of daily living, but don't need the level of care that nursing homes give. Assisted living facilities can range from small homes to large apartment-style complexes and also can offer different levels of care and services.

Bathing: Washing oneself in either a tub or shower. This activity includes getting in or out of the tub or shower.

Benefit Triggers: The criteria and ways an insurer decides when a policy pays benefits, such as being unable to do two or more activities of daily living, or the need for substantial supervision due to having dementia or Alzheimer's disease.

Benefits: The amount the insurance company pays for covered services.

Care Management Services: A service in which a professional, typically a nurse or social worker, may arrange, monitor, or coordinate long-term care services (also called care coordination services).

Cash Surrender Value: The amount of money the insurance company owes you when you terminate a life insurance policy or annuity contract with this feature. The policy states the amount of the cash value.

Chronically Ill: A term used in a tax-qualified long-term care contract to describe a person who needs long-term care either because of a severe cognitive impairment or because s/he can't do everyday activities of daily living (ADLs) without help.

Cognitive Impairment: A loss of short- or long-term memory; difficulty knowing people, places, or the time or season; loss of the ability to make good decisions; or loss of safety awareness.

Community-Based Services: Services designed to help older people stay independent and in their own homes.

Continence: Being able to control bowel and bladder function or, if you can't, being able to manage needed personal hygiene (such as a catheter or colostomy bag).

Contingent Benefit Upon Lapse: A requirement in some states that companies are required to offer if premiums increase to a certain amount (based on a table of increases) to enable policyholders to keep their policy without paying the higher premium. If offered, the policyholder could choose: 1) their current policy with reduced benefits so the premium stays the same; 2) a paid-up policy with a shorter benefit period but no future premiums; or 3) their current policy with the higher premiums.

Contingent Nonforfeiture: A reduced benefit provided to some policyholders whose policies terminate, sometimes called a "lapse." The amount of the reduced benefit is the total premiums you paid for the policy, without interest. Some states require the company to offer contingent nonforfeiture to policyholders whose premiums increase by a certain percentage or more. For example, suppose you bought a policy at age 65 for $2,000 per year, and didn't buy the optional nonforfeiture benefit. Also suppose that after you paid premiums for ten years, the company raised the rates by 50% or more, and your coverage ends because you don't pay the higher premiums. If the policy has contingent nonforfeiture, then you'll be eligible for up to $20,000 (the total amount you paid in premiums) of benefits if you meet the benefit triggers in the future.

Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC): A retirement complex that offers a broad range of services and levels of care.

Continuous Payment Option: A premium payment option that requires you to pay premiums until you're eligible for benefits. You can pay premiums monthly, quarterly, or once or twice a year. The policy is guaranteed renewable, which means the only reason the company can cancel it is if the premiums aren't paid when due.

Custodial Care (Personal Care): Care to help individuals with activities of daily living such as bathing, dressing, and eating. Usually, medical training isn't needed to give this type of care.

Daily Benefit: The amount the policy will pay for each day of care, often limited to the amount charged for your care.

Dementia: Another term for significant cognitive impairment.

Disability Method: Method of paying benefits that only requires you to meet the benefit eligibility criteria. Once you do, you receive your full daily benefit, even if you aren't receiving any long-term care services.

Dressing: Putting on and taking off all items of clothing and any necessary braces, fasteners, or artificial limbs.

Eating: Feeding yourself by getting food into the body from a receptacle (such as a plate, cup, or table).

Elimination Period (Waiting Period): A type of deductible; the length of time the individual must pay for covered services before the insurance company begins to make payments. Increasing your policy's elimination period reduces the premium, because the insurance company has to pay less benefit. Another term for this is a "waiting period."

Episode of Care: The care provided by a health care facility or provider for a specific medical condition during a set time period.

Expense-Incurred Method: Once there's an expense for an eligible service, the insurer pays benefits either to you or your provider. The coverage pays either the amount of the expense or your policy's dollar limit, whichever is less. Most policies sold today use the expense-incurred method.

Extended Term Benefits: After you stop paying premiums, this coverage provides full benefits for use during a certain period of time. If you don't collect benefits during that period, the contract ends and you have no coverage.

Guaranteed Renewable: A policy that an insurance company can't cancel and must renew, unless the benefits listed in the policy have been completely used or the premiums haven't been paid. Note: The insurance company may increase premiums for a guaranteed renewable policy, but only on an entire class of policies, not just on your policy.

Hands-On Assistance: Physical help (minimal, moderate, or maximal) an individual must have to do an activity of daily living.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA): Federal health insurance legislation passed in 1996 that allows, under some conditions, long-term care insurance policies to be qualified for certain tax benefits.

Home Health Care: Services in the client's home. Can include nursing care, social services, medical care, homemaker services, and occupational, physical, respiratory, or speech therapy.

Hospice Care: Care for a person who isn't expected to live very long, so the care is designed to reduce pain and discomfort.

Hospice Facility: A healthcare facility for the terminally ill in which hospice care is provided.

Homemaker Services: Household tasks such as laundry, cleaning, or cooking.

Indemnity Method: Method of paying benefits where the benefit is a set dollar amount that isn't based on the specific service received or the expenses incurred. Once the company decides you're eligible for benefits because you're receiving eligible long-term care services, it pays the set amount up to the limit of the policy.

Inflation Protection: A policy option that increases benefits levels to cover expected increases in long-term care services' costs.

Lapse: Termination of a policy when a renewal premium isn't paid.

Limited Payment Option: A premium payment option in which you pay premiums for a set time period but the policy covers you for the rest of your life.

Medicaid: A joint federal/state program that pays for health care services for those with low incomes or very high medical bills relative to income and assets.

Medicare: The federal program that provides hospital and medical insurance to people aged 65 or older and to certain ill or disabled persons. Benefits for nursing home and home health services are limited to a short period of time.

Medicare Supplement Insurance: A private insurance policy that covers many of the gaps in Medicare coverage (also called Medigap insurance coverage).

National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC): Membership organization of state insurance commissioners. A goal is to promote uniformity of state insurance regulation and legislation.

Nonforfeiture Benefits: A policy feature that keeps some coverage available to you if the policy ends because the premiums weren't paid.

Nursing Home: A licensed facility that provides nursing care to those who are chronically ill or can't do one or more activities of daily living.

Paid-up Policy: When you stop paying your premiums but your insurance policy is considered paid-in-full. You don't pay any more premiums, and your policy benefits depend on how much you've already paid in premiums, not the level of benefits that you first bought.

Partnership Policy: A type of policy that lets you protect (keep) some of your assets if you apply for Medicaid after you use your policy's benefits. Not all states have these policies.

Personal Care (Custodial Care): Care to help individuals meet personal needs such as bathing, dressing, and eating. Someone without professional training may provide personal care.

Personal Care Home: A general term for a facility that cares for elderly people. Long-term care insurance policies often don't cover care here.

Pre-existing Condition: An illness or disability for which you were treated or advised within a time period before you applied for insurance.

Pooled Benefit: A policy covering two people who can access the same benefits until one or both people have used up the benefits.

Reduced Paid-up Policy: A nonforfeiture option that reduces your daily benefit but keeps the full benefit period on your policy until death. For example, if you bought a policy for three years of coverage with a $150 daily benefit and let the policy lapse, the daily benefit would be reduced to $100 but the benefit period still would be three years. Just how much less your benefit would be depends on how much premium you've paid on the policy. Unlike extended term benefits, which must be used in a certain amount of time after the lapse, you can use reduced paid-up benefits at any time after you lapse (until death).

Rescind: When the insurance company voids (cancels) a policy.

Respite Care: Care a third party gives to relieve family caregivers for a few hours to several days and give them an occasional break from daily caregiving responsibilities.

Skilled Care: Daily nursing and rehabilitative care that can be done only by, or under the supervision of, skilled medical personnel. This care usually is needed 24 hours a day, must be ordered by a physician, and must follow a plan of care. Individuals usually get skilled care in a nursing home but also may get it in other places.

Spend Down: A requirement that an individual use up most of his or her income and assets to meet Medicaid eligibility requirements.

Stand-by Assistance: Caregiver stays close to watch over the person and to give physical help if needed.

State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP): Federally funded program to train volunteers to counsel senior citizens about insurance needs. (See the list of state insurance departments, agencies on aging and state health insurance assistance programs starting on page 60.)

Substantial Assistance: Hands-on or stand-by help required to do ADLs.

Substantial Supervision: Help from a person who directs and watches over another who has a cognitive impairment.

Tax-Qualified Long-Term Care Insurance Policies: Long-term care policies that meet certain standards in federal law and offers certain federal tax advantages.

Third-Party Notice: A benefit that lets you name someone whom the insurance company would notify if your coverage is about to end because the premium hasn't been paid. This can be a relative, friend, or professional such as a lawyer or accountant.

Toileting: Getting to and from the toilet, getting on and off the toilet, and doing related personal hygiene.

Transferring: Moving into and out of a bed, chair, or wheelchair.

Underwriting: Collecting and reviewing information to determine whether to issue an insurance policy.

Waiver of Premium: An insurance policy feature that means an insured who's receiving benefits no longer has to pay premiums.

WORKSHEET 2

Compare Long-Term Care Insurance Policies

Fill in the information below so that you can compare long-term care insurance policies. Most of the information you need is in the policies' outlines of coverage. Even so, you'll need to calculate some information and talk to the agent or a company representative to get the rest.

Insurance Company Information

1. Name of the insurance company's agent.
2. Is the company licensed in your state?
3. Insurance rating service and rating.
(Refer to page 40)

Policy 1	Policy 2
yes/no	yes/no

What levels of care does this policy cover? (Refer to page 18)

4. Does the policy provide benefits for these levels of care?
 - Skilled nursing care?
 - Personal/Custodial care?
 (In many states, both levels of care are required)

yes/no	yes/no
yes/no	yes/no

5. Does the policy pay for any nursing home stay, no matter what level of care you receive?
 - If not, what levels aren't covered?

yes/no	yes/no

Where will this policy pay for care? (Refer to page 18)

6. Does the policy pay for care in any licensed facility?
 - If not, what doesn't it pay for?

yes/no	yes/no

7. Does the policy provide home care benefits for:
 - Skilled nursing care?
 - Personal care given by home health aides?
 - Homemaker services?
 - Other _____ ?

yes/no	yes/no

8. Does the policy pay for care received in:
 - Adult day care centers?
 - Assisted living facilities?

yes/no	yes/no
yes/no	yes/no

9. How much will the policy pay each day for:
 - Nursing home care?
 - Assisted living facility care?
 - Home care?

10. Are there limits on the number of days or visits each year for which benefits will be paid? If yes, what are the limits for:

- Nursing home care?
- Assisted living facility care?
- Home care? (days or visits)

Policy 1	Policy 2
yes/no	yes/no
days	days

11. How long is the benefit period?

yrs	yrs

12. Are there limits on how much the policy will pay during your lifetime?

If yes, what are the limits for:

- Nursing home care?
- Assisted living facility care?
- Home care? (days or visits)
- Total lifetime limit

yes/no	yes/no

* If you're considering policies that pay benefits differently, you may have to do some calculations to determine comparable amounts.

How does the policy decide when you're eligible for benefits? (Refer to page 21)

13. Which benefit triggers does the policy use to decide if you're eligible for benefits? (It may have more than one.)

- Unable to do activities of daily living (ADLs)
- Cognitive impairment
- Doctor certification of medical necessity
- Prior hospital stay
- Bathing is one of the ADLs

yes/no	yes/no

When do benefits start? (Refer to page 23)

14. How long is the waiting period before benefits begin for:

- Nursing home care?
- Assisted living facility care?
- Home health care?
- Waiting period—Covered service days or calendar days?

19. Are you allowed to buy more coverage? If yes,
 • When can you buy more coverage?
 • How much can you buy?
 • When can you no longer buy more coverage?

yes/no	yes/no

20. Do the benefits increase automatically? If yes,
 • What is the rate of increase?
 • Is it a simple or compound increase?
 • When do automatic increases stop?

yes/no	yes/no

21. If you buy inflation coverage, what daily benefit would you receive for

Nursing home care:

- 5 years from now?
- 10 years from now?

WORKSHEET 5

Long-Term Care Insurance Personal Worksheet

People buy long-term care insurance for many reasons. Some don't want to use their own assets to pay for long-term care. Some buy insurance to be sure they can choose the type of care they get. Others don't want their family to have to pay for care or don't want to go on Medicaid. But long-term care insurance may be expensive and may not be right for everyone.

By state law, the insurance company must fill out part of the information on this worksheet and ask you to fill out the rest to help you and the company decide if you should buy this policy.

Premium Information

Policy Form Numbers _____

The premium for the coverage you're considering will be [$ _____ per month, or $ _____ per year] [a one-time single premium of $ _____].

Type of Policy (non-cancelable/guaranteed renewable):

The Company's Right to Increase Premiums:

[The company cannot raise your rates on this policy.] [The company has a right to increase premiums on this policy form in the future, if it raises rates for all policies in the same class in this state.] [Insurers shall use appropriate bracketed statement. Rate guarantees shall not be shown on this form.]

Rate Increase History

The company has sold long-term care insurance since [year] and has sold this policy since [year]. [The company has never raised its rates for any long-term care policy it has sold in this state or any other state.] [The company has not raised its rates for this policy form or similar policy forms in this state or any other state in the last 10 years.] [The company has raised its premium rates on this policy form or similar policy forms in the last 10 years. Following is a summary of the rate increases.]

Drafting Note: A company may use the first bracketed sentence above only if it has never increased rates under any prior policy forms in this state or any other state. The issuer shall list each premium increase it has instituted on this or similar policy forms in this state or any other state during the last 10 years. The list shall provide the policy form, the calendar years the form was available for sale, and the calendar year and the amount (percentage) of each increase. The insurer shall provide minimum and maximum percentages if the rate increase is variable by rating characteristics. The insurer may provide, in a fair manner, additional explanatory information as appropriate.

Questions Related to Your Income

1. How will you pay each year's premium?

From my income From my savings/investments My family will pay

[Have you considered whether you could afford to keep this policy if the premiums went up, for example, by 20%?]

Drafting Note: The issuer is not required to use the bracketed sentence if the policy is fully paid up or is a noncancelable policy.

2. What is your annual income? (circle one) Under $[30,000] $[30-50,000] Over $[50,000]

Drafting Note: The issuer may choose the numbers to put in the brackets to fit its suitability standards.

3. How do you expect your income to change over the next 10 years? (check one)

No change Increase Decrease

If you'll pay premiums with money only from your own income, a rule of thumb is that you may not be able to afford this policy if the premiums will be more than 7% of your income.

4. Will you buy inflation protection? (circle one) Yes No

If not, how do you plan to pay for the difference between future costs and your daily benefit amount?
From my income From my savings/investments My family will pay

The national average annual cost of care in [insert year] was [insert $ amount], but this figure varies across the country. In 10 years the national average annual cost would be about [insert $ amount] if costs increase 5% annually.

Drafting Note: The projected cost can be based on federal estimates in a current year.

5. What elimination period are you considering? Number of days _____ Approximate cost $ _____ for that period of care.

6. How do you plan to pay for your care during the elimination period? (circle one)

From my income From my savings/investments My family will pay

Questions Related to Your Savings and Investments

7. Not counting your home, about how much are all of your assets (your savings and investments) worth? (circle one)

Under $70,000 $70,000-$100,000 $100,000-$250,000 Over $250,000

8. How do you expect your assets to change over the next 10 years? (circle one)

Stay about the same Increase Decrease

If you're buying this policy to protect your assets and your assets are less than $70,000, you may want to consider other options to pay for your long-term care.
