SECTION I

Alignment to Shifts

Materials must meet 100% of indicators in Section I.

The instructional shifts are key to understanding the increased rigor of the standards. They reflect the skills and knowledge students need to be successful in the postsecondary or workforce arena. In an English language arts course, students should experience: building knowledge through content-rich literary and informational text; regular practice with complex text and its academic vocabulary; and reading and writing grounded in evidence from both literary and informational text.

Knowledge: Materials are specifically chosen to build knowledge through content-rich literary and informational texts.	Yes	No	Evidence/Notes
a. Text sets: Materials provide a strategic sequence of texts organized around a variety of concepts or topics. Students build knowledge systematically through interacting with the texts.
b. Vocabulary: Materials provide direct and contextual instruction for Tier 2 and Tier 3 vocabulary that support knowledge building.
c. End-of-unit/culminating tasks: Materials provide students with multiple opportunities to demonstrate their literacy skills and convey their knowledge acquisition.
Text Complexity: Materials ensure students engage in regular practice with complex text and its academic vocabulary.	Yes	No	Evidence/Notes
d. Anchor Texts are at grade level as determined by quantitative and qualitative measurements. See Appendix A of the Tennessee English Language Arts Standards for further guidance on text complexity metrics.
e. Text plays a central role in the English class/block.
f. Text selection should include a balanced representation of both literature and informational text across the year as indicated by the grade-level standards.
Evidence: Materials ensure that reading and writing are grounded in evidence from both literary and informational text.	Yes	No
g. Text-dependent questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Most questions and tasks require students to draw on textual evidence to support inferences and conclusions. High-quality questions are strategically sequenced to scaffold students in building a deeper understanding of a text.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS SCREENING INSTRUMENT

English IV

h. Writing to sources: The majority of writing tasks require students to respond to texts and/or include textual evidence.
i. Evidence-based discussions: Materials provide students regular and frequent opportunities to engage in collaborative discussions that are grounded in text.
Additional comments on the three instructional shifts within the materials:
Materials meet 100% alignment with Section I: Shifts in instruction? This means that all boxes in this section were marked "Yes" and no boxes were marked "No" . If any "No" boxes are marked, then this program does not pass.	Yes 	No

SECTION II

Alignment to Tennessee English Language Arts Standards

Materials must meet at least 90% of indicators in Section II.

The instructional materials represent alignment with the Tennessee English Language Arts Standards and explicitly focus teaching and learning on the grade-level standards, at the rigor necessary for students to reach mastery. Tennessee expects the full breadth and depth of the standards to be taught in an integrated and spiraled manner throughout the school year.

READING STANDARDS		Meets Expectations?		Evidence/Notes
		Yes	No
Standard 1 Category Key Ideas and Details Cornerstone Read closely to determine what a text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.	Literature: 11-12.RL.KID.1 Analyze what a text says explicitly and draw inferences; support an interpretation of a text by citing and synthesizing relevant textual evidence from multiple sources.
	Informational Text: 11-12.RI.KID.1 Analyze what a text says explicitly and draw inferences; support an interpretation of a text by citing and synthesizing relevant textual evidence from multiple sources.
Standard 2 Category Key Ideas and Details Cornerstone Determine central ideas or themes of a text and analyze their development; summarize the key supporting details and ideas.	Literature: 11-12.RL.KID.2 Determine multiple themes or central ideas of a text or texts and analyze their development; provide a critical summary.
	Informational Text: 11-12.RI.KID.2 Determine multiple central ideas of a text or texts and analyze their development; provide a critical summary.

SECTION III

High-Quality Instruction: Unit Design, Text Sets, Questions, and Tasks

Materials meet at least 80% of indicators in Section III.

Standards are taught in an integrated fashion to support students in developing proficiency as readers and writers as they make meaning of texts through reading, writing, speaking and listening. Instructional decisions for standards instruction centers on the texts that have been selected to strategically build students' knowledge, and the standards are spiraled throughout the year to promote continued practice and application with ever increasing text complexity.

Indicator	Yes	No	Evidence/Notes
a. Units are built around a concept, topic, or theme, and include essential questions and enduring understandings.
b. Each lesson integrates two or more strands of the Tennessee English Language Arts standards.
c. Most texts used for core instruction must be authentic and previously published. All commissioned texts are of publishable quality.
d. Materials provide a wide array of texts and genres, including full-length texts and strategically excerpted texts.
e. Materials include texts that are culturally relevant and/or are reflective of the varied experiences of adolescents.
f. Materials provide high-quality texts from diverse and multicultural perspectives (e.g., gender, cultural, age, geographical, time period) while appealing to students' interests.
g. Students have varied opportunities to engage with text, such as read-alouds, small-group reading, and independent reading.
h. Materials include multiple opportunities for students to engage in repeated reads of a text with varying purposes for each reading (i.e., close reading).
i. Materials provide instructions, accountability structures, and recommended texts to support students in reading a high volume of text.
j. Materials embed regular opportunities for students to engage in writing as they respond to reading, synthesize learning, and explain their thinking.

k. Within and across units, writing assignments, including both shorter on-demand writing, and lengthier, recursive, process-based writing, progress in breadth, depth, and development.
l. Writing tasks are balanced across writing modes (narrative, informative/explanatory, argument).
m. Materials provide explicit instruction about the writing process, organization/structure, and writing craft.
n. Instruction in conventions, syntax, and style is direct and contextual (mentor texts), increases in sophistication, and is applied to authentic writing experiences.
o. Explicit vocabulary instruction includes morphology and Latin or Greek roots.
p. Materials provide instruction in specific academic language and structures associated with different modes of writing (e.g., use of flashback in narrative, chronological vs. descriptive techniques in informative/explanatory, and rhetoric in opinion/argumentative).
q. Lessons promote academic discussions around appropriate grade-level concepts and texts and include listening prompts, questions, and evaluation tools to strengthen students' ability to listen to and respond in increasingly sophisticated ways with relevant evidence.
r. Units and lessons clearly consider student learning differences in the design of instruction, activities, and the classroom environment to provide access for all students, including English Learners, students with disabilities, and students performing below grade level.
s. Formative and summative assessments are embedded throughout instructional materials and include multiple methods to measure what students know and are able to do. Possible formats include, but are not limited to, checks for understanding, pre-assessments, student self-assessments, selected response (multiple choice, multiple select), constructed responses (short and extended), performance tasks, open-ended questions, etc.
t. Publisher-produced assessment alignment documents clearly indicate which standards are being addressed by specific questions, tasks, and assessment items.

SECTION IV: Additional Components

These components are areas that districts consider when making purchasing decisions to meet the unique needs of their districts. Although these additional components do not prevent publishers from being on the state-approved adoption list, they do provide districts with additional information to use during their decision-making process.

Teacher Support	Yes	No	Evidence/Notes
a. Teacher-facing materials provide background information about previously published texts, including author, content, context, and information about illustrations, if any, to support teacher delivery of lessons.
b. Close reading passages include extensive annotations aligned to the Tennessee English Language Arts Standards.
c. Standards and learning objectives in teacher-facing materials are explicitly and readily identifiable.
d. When appropriate, topics and/or enduring understandings are connected to grade-level content from other Tennessee Academic Standards (e.g., science, social studies, health, and fine arts). Standards connections are clearly documented.
e. Lessons include teacher think-alouds to model appropriate application of literacy skills.
f. Teacher-facing materials provide guidance to support teachers in identifying student misconceptions that may prevent student mastery of the Tennessee English Language Arts Standards.
g. The program includes extensions for advanced students already meeting mastery and/or students with high interest.
h. Extended learning opportunities (e.g., homework) should reinforce classroom instruction and provide additional practice of skills that have already been taught.
i. Teacher-facing materials provide suggestions in daily lessons or units of instruction on appropriate opportunities for formative assessments and adjusting lessons if necessary.
j. Materials provide protocols (e.g., cooperative talk structures) for text-based discussions.
k. Materials promote use of multimedia and technology to enhance teaching and learning of Tennessee English Language Arts Standards.

Monitoring Student Progress
l. Materials provide scoring guides and tools such as rubrics, portfolios, teacher observation checklist, and anchor papers.
m. Materials include tools, routines, and guidance that allow for the monitoring of student progress.
n. Materials include quarterly benchmark assessments aligned to the Tennessee English Language Arts Standards.
o. Materials include suggestions and tools to keep students and parents informed about students' progress.
Organization
p. Content is sufficient to provide instruction across the school year and includes daily lessons organized into coherent units of study.
q. Units and instructional sequences are coherent and organized in a logical manner that build upon knowledge and skills learned in prior grade levels or earlier in the grade.
r. Program components, lesson plans, and the relationships among the parts are clear.
s. Program materials provide a scope and sequence aligned with the Tennessee English Language Arts Standards for the academic instructional year.
t. Each lesson contains a list of required materials.
u. Lessons, chapters, and units contain estimated instructional times.
v. Student materials provide for individual students to have access to text (classroom sets of texts and/or digital platform texts).
w. Teacher and student materials include an overview of chapters, table of contents, indexes, and glossaries that contain important ELA terms.
x. Materials contain an explanation of the research behind the program, including instructional approaches within the program.
y. A list of Tennessee English Language Arts Standards is provided in teacher-facing materials.
