GREATER NASHVILLE TECHNOLOGY COUNCIL

So much of the Greater Nashville Technology Council's work is around building our tech workforce. Building on the Knoxville Tech Council's "Politicode" program , we wanted to help policy makers understand what tech skills are needed for the future, and who better to explain than students who are learning those skills today!We wanted to help policy makers understand what tech skills are needed for the future, and who better to explain than students who are learning those skills today!

Join us for Lunch on Thursday Feb. 27 at 11am in 8C Cordell Hull Building and Learn to Code . Presenting interactive tech projects will be students from Middle Tennessee public schools, and a chance for you to sample the skills needed for tech jobs. This experience will give you a better understanding of importance of good public policy to support tech education of local Tennessee students - the future of our tech workforce !

The Greater Nashville Technology Council is thankful for the support of this program, presented by the Nashville Software School , Tokenize Tennessee , and Vanderbilt University .
