

Bank Fishing

The following bank fishing locations were compiled by TWRA staff to inform anglers of areas where you can fish without a boat. The types of waters vary from small ponds and streams to large reservoirs. You might catch bluegill, bass, crappie, trout, catfish, or striped bass depending on the location, time of year, and your skill or luck.

All waters are open to the public. Some locations are privately owned and operated, and in these areas a fee is required for fishing. It is recommended that you call ahead if you are interested in visiting these areas. We have included these fee areas, because many of them they are regularly stocked and are great places to take kids fishing.

Bank Fishing Tips

1. Fish are often near the shore in the spring and fall. During the summer the best times to fish are early morning, evening and after dark.
2. Fish near unique features such as points that extend out into the water, docks, piers, any type of wood cover (logs, stumps, tree tops), rocks or rocky areas, aquatic vegetation, shaded areas created by shoreline trees and any creek that enters or exits the waterbody.
3. When fishing in moving water such as a stream, look at the surface for boils and breaks. This means there is some sort of structure blocking the current. Fish are likely to be found in these areas.
4. Fish are very sensitive to sounds and shadows and can see and hear an angler standing on the bank. It is good to fish several feet back from the water's edge instead of on the shoreline and move quietly, staying 20 to 30 feet away from the shoreline as you walk (no running) from one area to the other. Point your rod towards the sky when walking. Wearing clothing that blends in with the surroundings may also make it less likely for fish to be spooked.
5. Begin fishing (casting) close and parallel to the bank and then work out (fan-casting) toward deeper water. If you're fishing for catfish, keep your bait near the bottom. Look around for people and obstructions before you cast.
6. When you do not get any "bites" or action slows, try varying the fishing depth or switching baits. If this does not work, move to another location along the bank.
7. Wearing polarized sunglasses can help you see fish and submerged objects more clearly and protect eyes from terminal tackle.
8. Always ask permission to cross or fish on someone's property.
9. CAUTION! When fishing in tailwaters of dams, be aware of water release schedules. These schedules are available by calling 1-800-238-2264.

How To Read The Bank Fishing Tables

The locations listed are separated into the four TWRA regions (see map below) and are listed alphabetically by county within each region. Either the waterbody and/or name of the general area or owner is listed along with the location and, where available, a phone number. Where applicable, the acreage, not the total available bank fishing acreage, of the waterbody is listed. Other sportfish such as striped and white bass, walleye and sauger may also be found at some of the larger lakes, rivers, dams and tailwater areas. Bullhead catfish, suckers, drum and carp may also be present at many of these locations. The User Fee column refers to any additional fees besides a regular fishing license required to either fish or park at the location. These fees vary but usually range from $2 to $5.

These tables are based on information available at the time of printing. Please notify the TWRA Fisheries Division office at 1-615/781-6575 about any omissions or errors or if you operate a fishing (catch-out) area and would like it to be included in future printings. Visit www.tnwildlife.org for the complete bank fishing brochure, Take It To The Bank.

Fishing Access Table Key

♿ – Unless listed otherwise, locations with this symbol in the Wheelchair Accessible column refer to fishing accessibility, not parking or restroom accessibility.

However, fishing on the launching dock or boat ramp is not allowed. Other regulations will generally be posted at the access area. For more information about these areas, request a copy of the Tennessee Waterways Guide by calling the TWRA Boating Division at 615/781-6682.
