

New Interchange at Broad Street/ Memorial Boulevard/ Old Fort Parkway

Contractor: Bell & Associates Construction

Project Update

The project has undergone significant changes during the third quarter of this year.

Eastbound traffic on Old Fort Parkway/ Memorial Boulevard was moved onto the newly constructed ramps on the south side of the intersection. Northbound traffic on Broad Street was also shifted to its new curb line which allowed Bell & Associates to repair the utility and storm drainage trenches that cross the middle portion of the facility.

Concrete work has been completed on all but one of the project's ten retaining walls.

Last but not least, the northwest ramp has taken shape with the completion of storm drainage installation and fill placement. Bell is planning to shift southbound traffic on Broad Street away from the existing curb line and toward the center of the roadway in the near future. This change in alignment will provide room for a new work zone along the west side of the facility so widening activities can begin.

The contractor will begin work on some of the footings for the new bridge this month.

The primary focus for the next few months will be the construction of the northern ramps. Westbound traffic on Old Fort Parkway / Memorial Boulevard will be diverted onto these ramps once they are completed. The change in the traffic pattern will be similar to the pattern for the southern ramps. This will leave a work zone in the existing roadway that will be used for abutment and bridge construction.

Drivers are reminded to use caution, reduce speed and be alert to changing conditions in the construction zone.
