

TECB Text-to-9-1-1 Radio Spot

Scripts

15 Second Spot

Did you know that if you have an emergency and are not able to safely place a 9-1-1 call, you can now text to 9-1-1 in {name of county}?

Only text to 9-1-1 if it is a life-threatening emergency and remember-- Never text and drive!

30 Second Spot

Did you know that if you have an emergency and are not able to safely place a 9-1-1 call, you can now text to 9-1-1 in {name of county}? For example, if you are home alone and someone is breaking into your home; if you are deaf or hard or hearing and need help; or any other situation where speaking may put you in danger—you can now use text-to-9-1-1.

Only text to 9-1-1 if it is a life-threatening emergency and remember-- Never text and drive!

Again, call if you can, text if you can't!

90 Second Spot

Did you know that if you have an emergency and are not able to safely place a 9-1-1 call, you can now text to 9-1-1 in {name of county}? For example, if you are home alone and someone is breaking into your home; if you are deaf or hard or hearing and need help; or any other situation where speaking may put you in danger—you can now use text-to-9-1-1.

Some things to remember when texting 9-1-1--

- Always text in SIMPLE words – Send a short text message WITHOUT abbreviations or slang. Right now, text to 9-1-1 is only available in English.
- In the first text message send your LOCATION and what TYPE of emergency you are experiencing.
- Be prepared to answer questions and follow instructions from the 9-1-1 call taker.
- If you do not receive a text response from 9-1-1, try to contact 9-1-1 by another means.
- A text or data plan is required to place a Text-to-9-1-1, so verify your plan with your carrier.
- Only text to 9-1-1 if it is a life-threatening emergency and remember-- Never text and drive!
- As with all text messages, messages to 9-1-1 may take longer to receive, may get out of order, or may not be received at all. So Voice Calls to 9-1-1 Are Still the Best and Fastest Way to Contact 9-1-1. So, call if you can, text if you can't!

Text-to-9-1-1 is currently available in {name of county} for subscribers of AT&T, Sprint, T-Mobile and Verizon {other carriers if appropriate}. Not all counties offer text to 911, so make sure service is available in your area before placing a text.

Again, call if you can, text if you can't!