NOTE REGARDING THE FOLLOWING COMPLAINT NUMBERS 9 AND 10:

Beginning in or around September, 2018, the Commission started receiving complaints from individuals stating they were contacted (and in some cases, scammed) by entities and individuals claiming to be licensed Tennessee firms and brokers. In each instance, the fraudulent entity or individual was able to provide the name and license number for actual licensees, but provided different contact information. Commission staff and Legal have been working in conjunction with an investigator from the Attorney General’s office to locate the perpetrators of this fraud as complaints continue to come in, both against and from licensees. Counsel recommends the Commission direct these matters go into “litigation monitoring” so that sufficient time may be afforded to resolve the issues for both the consumers and licensees involved.
