

NEWS

July 2025

ISSUE 1

Students can work and keep their benefits!

That's right, students regularly attending school, college, or a course of vocational or technical training can work part-time without it affecting their benefits. As one Social Security Administration official said, "This allows a person who is under the age of 22 and regularly attending school to exclude earnings from income." That, for an SSI recipient is welcome news. Stay tuned to DDA's Benefits Counseling Program for updates on this important story....

Top stories

Benefits Counseling launches new resources to help individuals understand how employment impacts insurance and benefits.

For more information contact our roving reporter at DDA's Benefits Counseling Program: by scanning the QR code or click the links below

tn.gov/disability-and-aging

ssa.gov/ssi/spotlights

