

Center for Financial Responsibility Personal Financial Literacy Certification

Aligned Programs of Study:

- Accounting
- Agribusiness
- Banking & Finance

Description

Texas Tech University's Center for Financial Responsibility focuses on expanding research efforts and educational outreach to enhance the financial well-being of individuals and families. In addition to the Personal Financial Literacy High School Certification, the Center for Financial Responsibility offers various other educational outreach initiatives, including the Financial Planning Academy, Knowledge Empowering You (KEY) Outreach, Women's Advocacy Circle, and Financial Planning Women Connect. The Personal Financial Literacy High School Certification offers students an in-depth understanding of financial concepts and products as they relate to credit cards, loans, retirement, investments, and mortgages. This certification prepares individuals to master key industry standards, including, for example, common budget strategies, assets & liabilities, saving & investing, risk-return tradeoff, estate planning, sources & types of credit, financial institutions, workers compensation, tax liability, and balloon & reverse mortgages. Students who earn this certification will be prepared to make informed financial choices to help them improve their workplace performance and achieve personal long-term financial success.
