Entrepreneurship

Marketing, Distribution & Logistics

JOB OUTLOOK

Entrepreneurs operate small businesses in various specialty areas and industries, including construction, personal services, and maintenance and repair. According to the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development, 160,144 Tennessee small businesses had employees in 2019. For those looking to pursue a career as an entrepreneur, the occupations with the fastest growth through 2028 include marriage and family counselors at 26%, massage therapists at 23%, and HVAC mechanics and installers at 15%.

OCCUPATION PROFILE

Entrepreneurs exist in any industry, from construction to personal services and counseling, meaning that job descriptions vary widely. While construction managers must understand building materials, tools, quality control, and production processes, a marriage and family therapist must learn the methods for diagnosing and treating various behavioral and affective disorders. However, all entrepreneurs need timemanagement, problem-solving, communication, and leadership skills, as well as knowledge of business, marketing, strategic planning, human resources, and information technology.

Marketing Management

Marketing, Distribution & Logistics

JOB OUTLOOK

Advances in marketing, particularly digital marketing, continue to create a need for marketing professionals with the overall employment of advertising, promotion, and marketing managers projected to grow 6% by 2029, according to the Bureau of Labor and Statistics. In Tennessee, the job outlook is even more favorable through 2028, particularly for Marketing Analysts/Specialists and Public Relations and Fundraising Managers, with projected job growth of 24% and 15% respectively.

OCCUPATION PROFILE

Careers in marketing management integrate skills in marketing development and strategy, data analysis, campaign design, pricing strategies, and consumer analysis. The top marketing occupations interconnect—for example, marketing managers, including public relations and fundraising managers, rely on market and consumer data from marketing research analysts to help them identify target markets, plan advertising campaigns, and oversee product development. Advertising sales agents then use this information to locate customers, develop promotions, and sell products.

Supply Chain Management

Marketing, Distribution & Logistics

JOB OUTLOOK

Supply chain occupations to ensure the efficient and cost-effective production and distribution of products. Tennessee houses major distributing hubs, such as Amazon, FedEx, Nissan, and UPS. According to the Bureau of Labor and Statistics, Tennessee ranks second in states with the highest concentration of jobs and location quotients in transportation and material moving, with most occupations located in Cleveland and Memphis. Overall, the total predicted 2018-2028 employment change in Tennessee is 6,648 with 186.058 jobs by 2028.

OCCUPATION PROFILE

Supply chain management includes careers in transportation, production, material handling, mid-and-upper-level management, and operations. Logisticians, purchasing managers, and transportation, storage, and distribution managers develop and manage logistics plans, coordinate the purchasing of materials and products, and monitor a product's life cycle, including acquisition, distribution, allocation, delivery, and disposal. Individuals must know how to plan, coordinate, and direct the flow of work and materials to ensure that buyers promptly receive the right products at a fair cost.

Externship Opportunities

This program of study will be enhanced through teacher participation in externship opportunities. Opportunities will be coordinated between local employers and individual programs. The department will provide guidance whenever possible to increase and improve externship opportunities.

Additional Resources

Other recommendations for Supply Chain Management include:

- Course name changes, which will clarify the course progression within the Supply Chain Management POS.
  - $\circ \quad \text{Change "Foundations of Supply Chain Management" to "Supply Chain Management I: Principles and Foundations"}\$
  - o Change "Supply Chain Management I" to "Supply Chain Management II: Warehousing & Distribution"
  - o Change "Supply Chain Management II" to "Supply Chain Management III: Management & Logistics"
- Add the Certified Logistics Associate (CLA) to the promoted industry credential list. The CLA is needed before students can earn the Certified Logistics Technician (CLT) certification. We currently have the CLT as one of our TN promoted industry credentials, but students cannot earn their CLT without their CLA.
