Good afternoon!

Fastest-improving state in education. That is the title that Tennessee earned in 2013 thanks to the hard work and dedication of Tennessee's policymakers, educators, parents, and students. Over the past ten years, Tennessee students have made record-breaking gains in math, science, and reading – but we still have much to do to ensure that all students are prepared for the future.

Before the start of legislative session, the State Collaborative on Reforming Education (SCORE) will host a half-day educational seminar on Tennessee education policy on Tuesday, December 4, at the Hermitage Hotel in Nashville.

Policymakers will have the opportunity to interact with education policy experts, gain knowledge on the state of education in Tennessee, and reflect on Tennessee's work to improve student achievement over the last decade. A light breakfast and lunch will be provided for all registered attendees.

If you have any questions or to register for the legislative retreat, please RSVP to Kristin Kenlaw at Kristin@tnscore.org or 615.727.1545 no later than Friday, November 30.

I hope that you can join us for this important event.

Very sincerely,
