

TN STRONG FAMILIES GRANT PROGRAM

CONTRACT TYPES

Goals

What are the two contract types?

How much is the contract liability?

What projects are supported under each contract type?

Can I apply for both contract types?

Supplies & Assistance Contracts

- Scope template is in Section 2.1. of the solicitation
- Maximum liability not to exceed $100,000.00
- Goods Assistance- New baby equipment, furniture, diapers, food, clothes, and supplies for maternity care, postnatal care, and breastfeeding.
- Subcontracted services (interpreters, counselors, doulas, etc.)

*Refer to Section 4.3 of the Solicitation and allowables/unallowables in the Grants Manual for equipment and supplies that can be purchased.

Support Services Contracts

- Scope template is in Section 2.1. of the solicitation.
- Maximum liability not to exceed $1,000,000.00
- Funds may be used to provide support services including the following:
 - Direct services for pregnancy support, which can include medical, mental health, or other counseling services
 - Support for Tennesseans who are considering adoption
 - Workforce assistance to prepare new moms for self-sufficiency
 - Housing assistance to help moms in crisis find a safe and stable place to live
 - Additional wraparound services to support vulnerable mothers and their children

- Applicants are encouraged to use evidence-based or evidence-informed programming to support families, which can be found on the Results First Clearinghouse Results First Clearinghouse Database | The Pew Charitable Trusts \(pewtrusts.org\).
- All Support Services grants must allocate at least 20% of the maximum liability to Goods Assistance (i.e., new baby equipment, furniture, diapers, food, clothes, and supplies for maternity care, postnatal care, and breastfeeding) in their budget.

*Refer to Section 4.3 of the Solicitation, the allowables/unallowables in the Grants Manual, and the specific fund source chapter for equipment and supplies that can be purchased.
