Create a web with three or more activities you are interested in or talents you have. Then think about what you can do in elementary school and beyond to develop those interests and talents. Your interests and talents may lead to a college scholarship one day.