

Tennessee Financial Literacy Commission

The Tennessee Financial Literacy Commission (TNFLC) strives to equip Tennesseans to make sound financial decisions in regard to planning, saving and investing.

Financial Empowerment Resource Library

The Tennessee Financial Literacy Commission launched the Financial Empowerment Resource Library this month, expanding our educational resources to adults. With the Financial Empowerment Resource Library, the Commission now provides financial education for the whole family at no cost to the user. You can access our online educational resources at TNFLC.org.

For Youth

Vault—Understanding Money is an online financial education program designed for students grades 3-8. Through Vault, students learn about basic money management like the difference between needs and wants and how money is used in daily life.

Education and Resources
for Youth

For Adults

The Financial Empower Resource Library leads Tennesseans through 18 unique, interactive modules covering topics like credit scores, budgeting, and retirement. Each module contains practical tips for everyday life.

Education and Resources
for Adults

For Teachers

TNFLC offers trainings to integrate financial literacy in the classroom. K-8 educators can attend through school in-service and free Saturday summits. Attendees will receive all necessary supplies and may be eligible for professional development credit.

Education and Resources
for Teachers

Contact Us
TN.FLC@TN.gov

 @TNTreasury
 @TNTreasuryDept

Visit Our Website
TNFLC.org

David H. Lillard, Jr.
State Treasurer

