Stop the Spread of MRSA

- Wash your hands often
- Do not touch skin infections
- Cover infections with a bandage taped on all sides
- Do not share clothing or personal hygiene items (make-up, deodorant, razors, bar soap)
- Take antibiotics until all gone
- Report skin infections to your school nurse

MRSA is a type of “Staph” infection resistant to many antibiotics.

This fact sheet was partially supported by Cooperative Agreement Number U50/CCU023808-01 from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of CDC. 3/2007