Staff Review

Note to Commission members: This staff review is an analysis of the statutory criteria of Need, Consumer Advantage Attributed to Competition, and Quality Standards, including data verification of the original application and, if applicable, supplemental responses submitted by the applicant. Any Health Facilities Commission Staff comments will be presented as a "Note to Commission members" in bold italic.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION:

This applicant is requesting approval for the establishment of a home care organization and the initiation of home health services located at 9041 Executive Park Dr., Suite 250, Room 6, Knoxville (Knox County), Tennessee 37923. The project will be limited to home infusion services. The proposed service area will consist of 95 counties including CON-exempt Grundy and Lake Counties.

Executive Summary

- If approved, the applicant projects the project will open for service in September 2026.
- The applicant currently operates as a skilled nursing staffing agency in all 50 states specializing in infusion nursing care. The applicant operates fifteen licensed home health agencies providing home infusion services in California, Florida, North Carolina, New Jersey, Ohio, Texas, and Virginia. Infusion care in these states is provided by registered nurses who are directly employed rather than as contract staff.
- The applicant operates as a staffing agency with a network of over 70 nurses in Tennessee through partnerships with over 30 pharmacies and existing home health agencies focused on home infusion care, including Coram CVS Specialty Infusion Services, Optum Infusion Services, and Vanderbilt HC Option Care IV Services. The applicant's reimbursement under its staffing agency is based on a fee for service model charged directly to its pharmacy parters for nursing services provided. It will continue to operate as a staffing agency for ambulatory infusion centers, once it is licensed as a home health agency.
- The applicant is ultimately owned by Option Care Enterprises, Inc., which operates a home health agency as Vanderbilt HC Option Care IV Services, located in Nashville – (License #604). Option Care also operates specialty pharmacies in Nashville, Knoxville and Memphis as well as ambulatory infusion centers in Chattanooga, Clarksville, Knoxville, Memphis, and Nashville. The applicant provides nursing staff to these affiliates as well as other specialty pharmacies identified in Attachment 1N-4R.
- The applicant states that, once licensed as a home health agency, it will directly admit and discharge home health patients, but it will continue to operate on a contractor fee basis for infusion nursing services with its specialty pharmacy partners, rather than directly enrolling with any governmental, non-governmental payor sources. The applicant states that its specialty pharmacy partners will continue to hold primary responsibility for seeking and receiving reimbursement from all payors. The applicant will not accept direct payment from self-pay patients.
- The applicant states that as a licensed home health agency, it will improve care coordination and efficiencies for home infusion patients by consolidating clinical and administrative responsibilities and enabling direct oversight of each patient's plan of care.

Note to Commission members: The applicant states that its specialty pharmacy partners will continue to bill payors directly for home infusion nursing services, and the applicant will continue to bill these partners on a fee for service basis which is not affected by the individual payor sources of its patients. The applicant does not articulate the extent to which its pharmacy partners will receive reimbursement for the nursing services provided through specific payors, or what the specific payor mix (Medicare, Medicaid, Commercial, Self-Pay) of its historical patient base has been. The applicant has not provided a projected payor mix outside of its (Other – Fee for Service) revenue, and therefore cannot articulate the extent to which Medicare, Medicaid, TennCare, medically indigent, charity care patients and low-income patients will be served by the project.

HFC staff compiled payor mix for the applicant's primary affiliate specialty pharmacy in 2025 - Vanderbilt HC Option Care IV Services, located in Nashville – (License #604) for Commission member reference: Commercial (65%); Charity Care (21%); Self-Pay (8%); TennCare – UHC (5%); and Tricare (2%).

- Please see application Item 1E. on page 6 for the applicant's executive summary overview that includes project description, ownership, service area, existing similar service providers, project cost, and staffing.

Facility Information

- The project office site, Suite B16 is being leased to the applicant, Naven Health, Inc., through the landlord, K&N Office Limited Partnership. See Attachment 9A, Lease Agreement and the Floor plan attached as Attachment 10A.
- The applicant is not proposing to establish any branch offices.

Ownership

- The applicant is owned by SPNN Holdings, LLC which is ultimately owned by Option Care Enterprises, Inc. See Attachment 7A.

Project Cost Chart

- The total project cost is $142,733. Of this amount, the highest line-item costs of the project are Legal, Administrative, Consultant Fees Costs ($100,000); Facility Lease Costs ($38,633); and Office Supplies Costs ($1,100).
- Please see the Project Cost Chart on Page 9 of the application.

NEED

The applicant provided the following supporting the need for the proposed project:

- The limited number of home health agencies – only 13 statewide that provide home infusion therapy, with many of these being limited to serving only patients of their own pharmacy. Infusion treatments often require multiple visits, over multiple weeks. The applicant has experienced rapid patient growth, specifically for Immunoglobulin (IG) therapy, the delivery of which requires nursing staff with specialized training and scheduling flexibility to manage extended, recurring care episodes.

- The need to expand coverage of home infusion nursing care beyond the seventy counties where the applicant currently operates in its capacity as a nurse staffing agency to all counties in the state. The project will allow the applicant to directly admit home infusion nursing patients without being limited to referrals of patients of their own affiliated specialty pharmacies as is the case with many other providers in Tennessee.
- The need to reduce administrative burden and improve the efficiency of care by becoming a directly licensed home health agency capable of directly admitting, discharging and coordinating the plan of care for its home infusion patients.

(For applicant discussion, see the Original Application, Pages 7-8)

SERVICE SPECIFIC CRITERIA AND STANDARD REVIEW

Home Health Services:
All applicable criteria and standards were met except for the following:

- Did not meet the standard of #1. Determination of Need "In a given county, 1.5 percent of the total population will be considered as the need estimate for home health services in that county. This 1.5 percent formula will be applied as a general guideline, as a means of comparison within the proposed Service Area." This project proposes to initiate home health services on a statewide basis. The statewide service area cumulatively reflects a surplus of (58,918) home health admissions according to the standard of (1.5%) of the total population of the counties included in the project service area. The three counties included in the service area which show the largest surplus are the following: Hamilton County (4,032), Davidson County (3,601), and Sullivan County (3,035). See Attachment 1N, Home Health Services Standards and Criteria #1 Determination of Need.

  Please see Attachment 1N for a full listing of the criteria and standards and the applicant's responses.

Charges

- The applicants' proposed charges are listed on Page 22. The applicant's unit of measure for calculating charge information is home infusion visits.

- The applicant states that it will not establish any direct relationships with payors and will instead operate on a fee for service basis billing pharmacy providers directly.
- The applicant provides a comparison of service area provider charges in Attachment 8C. of the application.
- The applicant's fee-for-service charges are based on visit length, with a standard rate for the first two hours, then an hourly rate for every hour thereafter. The applicant's fees will not change based on the payor source directly served by the referring pharmacies.

CRITERIA AND STANDARDS

STATE OF TENNESSEE

STATE HEALTH PLAN

CERTIFICATE OF NEED STANDARDS AND CRITERIA FOR

HOME HEALTH SERVICES

1. Determination of Need: In a given county, 1.5 percent of the total population will be considered as the need estimate for home health services in that county. This 1.5 percent formula will be applied as a general guideline, as a means of comparison within the proposed Service Area.

   Response: Please see Table 1N-2R below, which uses the 1.5 percent formula for 2025 (the latest available year of JAR data) and projects need for three years to 2028. Naven notes that the underlying rationale stated for this standard is expressly conservative, which is borne out by the analysis herein.

   Further, Naven asserts that the home health services determination of need formula is not applicable to the services it proposes to develop – home health services limited to delivering home infusion therapies. As such, the need for the proposed project is supported by qualitative factors beyond the quantitative determination of need formula defined above. These factors are discussed in detail in the response to #4 below.

   It should also be noted that, in recent years, the Health Facilities Commission ("HFC") has consistently approved CON applications proposing to establish home care organizations limited to home infusion services, despite the 1.5 percent formula. Most recently, the HFC approved an application from OPTIV Infusion, LLC to develop a home care organization limited to home infusion and related nursing services for pharmacy patients of OPTIVRX, LLC (CN2602-006A). The HFC has also recently approved CON applications from River City Infusion, LLC (CN2511-042A), Amerita, Inc. (CN2503-008A), and KabaFusion TN (CN2405-012A and CN2408-021A), among others, that proposed to provide home infusion services. As with these past projects, the HFC should not rely solely on the need formula above to evaluate the need for Naven's project.

   For a detailed discussion of the need for Naven's proposed project, see the response to #4 of the Standards and Criteria below.

2. The need for home health services should be projected three years from the latest available year of final JAR data.

Response: Please see Table 1N-2R below for the current and future estimated need in each of the 95 proposed service area counties, including CON-exempt Grundy County and Lake County, using the 1.5 percent formula.

3. The use rate of existing home health agencies in each county of the Service Area will be determined by examining the latest utilization rate as calculated from the JARs of existing home health agencies in the Service Area. Based on the number of patients served by home health agencies in the Service Area, an estimation will be made as to how many patients could be served in the future.

Response: Please see Table 1N-3R below for the home health patient utilization rate by county for 2025, as well as the use rate per 1,000 patients.

Note: Totals may not equate due to computer rounding.

Additionally, please see Attachment 1N-3R for supplemental use rate data, including the number of HHAs reporting patients served in 2025 and projections for each county's home health capacities in 2028. Because Naven proposes to offer exclusively home infusion services, any home health surpluses suggested in Attachment 1N-3R do not reflect the need for Naven's proposed project. The majority of Tennessee HHAs, including those licensed in the counties listed in Attachment 1N-3R, do not offer home infusion services; a majority of the small number of HHAs that do offer home infusion services are limited to patients of their own specialty pharmacies. Thus, Naven is certain there is a need for additional home health infusion services and that it has the expertise to deliver this care efficiently and effectively.

4. County Need Standard: The applicant should demonstrate that there is a need for home health services in each county in the proposed Service Area by providing documentation (e.g., letters) where: a) health care providers had difficulty or were unable successfully to refer a patient to a home care organization and/or were dissatisfied with the quality of services provided by existing home care organizations based on Medicare's system Home Health Compare and/or similar data; b) potential patients or providers in the proposed Service Area attempted to find appropriate home health services but were not able to secure such services; c) providers supply an estimate of the potential number of patients that they might refer to the applicant.

   Response: As previously noted above, Attachment 1N-3R does not capture the specific need for home infusion therapy services, as very few HHAs in Tennessee offer such services. In fact, as shown in Attachment 5N, of the 175 Tennessee HHAs reported in the 2025 JARs for Home Health Agencies, only 13, or seven percent, provided home infusion therapy services. Additionally, many of the HHAs that provide home infusion therapy services can only serve patients of their own specialty pharmacies. For example, TwelveStone Infusion Support's CON (CN2205-025A) is limited to serving "pharmacy patients of pharmacies which are subsidiaries of TwelveStone Holdings, Inc." Similarly, KabaFusion TN (CN2405-012A and CN2408-021A) was approved to serve "pharmacy patients of pharmacies which are subsidiaries of KabaFusion Holdings LLC." The utilization of these two existing HHAs in the 2025 JAR for Home Health Agencies – 80 unduplicated patients for TwelveStone Infusion Support and 10 unduplicated patients for KabaFusion TN – supports this exclusivity.

   Many recently approved but not yet implemented CONs to initiate home infusion services in Tennessee have a similar restriction on their patient populations. For example, Amerita, Inc. (CN2503-008A) is limited to providing home infusion and related nursing services for patients of pharmacies owned by Amerita, Inc.; River City Infusion, LLC (CN2511-042A) is limited to home infusion and related nursing services for pharmacy patients of RCIV, LLC; and OPTIV Infusion, LLC (CN2602-006A) is limited to home infusion and related nursing services for pharmacy patients of OPTIVRX, LLC. In other words, many existing or approved home infusion providers do not have the ability to provide home infusion care to any patient requiring such care.

   Given the limitations of the need formula discussed in the response to #1 above and the limited access to home infusion services noted above, the need for Naven's project is well-supported by a series of qualitative factors: its experience in Tennessee and across the U.S. delivering home infusion services, including home infusion services to specialty pharmacies with home health licenses; inadequate access to home infusion services for patients of Naven's specialty pharmacy partners that lack home health licenses; and the accessibility and cost of care benefits associated with chronically ill patients receiving specialty infusion services at home. These factors are discussed

Naven's Infusion Care Experience

Naven is a nationwide skilled nursing staffing agency that specializes in delivering infusion care to patients with chronic conditions. Through its network of skilled nurses, Naven partners with over 90 specialty pharmacies across the United States to provide the following infusion services for chronically ill patients:

- Alpha 1 Therapy
- Antibiotics
- Hemophilia Therapy
- Steroids
- Enzyme Replacement
- Immunotherapies
- Biologics
- Inotropes
- HIV Therapy
- First-Dosing

Naven also assists pharmaceutical manufacturers with patient access and adherence services, which includes the management of custom programs featuring highly specialized nurse support, patient education programs, drug administration training, and therapy adherence programs, among other services. Naven also provides clinical trial nurse training for Clinical/Contract Research Organizations.[1]

In Tennessee, Naven contracts with over 30 existing specialty pharmacies to provide comprehensive infusion services, including home infusion for those pharmacies that hold home health licenses, as well as ambulatory infusion center staffing and patient education and support. In 2025, for those specialty pharmacies with Tennessee home health licenses – which include Coram CVS Specialty Infusion Services, Optum Infusion Services, and Option Care[2] – Naven delivered home-based, specialty infusion care to over 300 patients across 70 Tennessee counties. This care was provided through a network of 70 nurses, supporting the breadth of Naven's existing nursing network for its current services and the proposed project. Naven also currently operates 15 licensed HHAs nationwide, as well as two HHAs with pending accreditation. Thus, Naven is well-positioned to deliver more expansive home infusion services through the proposed project.

Specialty Pharmacy Partners Need for Home Health Providers

As mentioned throughout the application, very few existing HHAs in Tennessee provide home infusion services. This is largely due to the specialization needed to provide this type of care. Home infusion care, which involves administering specialty drugs, is typically delivered frequently, often several times a week over a period of multiple weeks. This requires complex coordination of care and nursing staff who are familiar with infusion medications and administration methods. Traditional HHAs generally do not have the professional expertise or capacity to deliver this type of care. As such, home infusion requires a specialized provider with appropriately trained staff and the staffing necessary to support infusion medication administration.

In addition, many of Naven's specialty pharmacy partners in Tennessee lack home health licenses, leaving a significant gap in infusion care for patients of these pharmacies. Currently, these specialty pharmacies do not have the ability to administer medications to patients in the comfort of their own homes. Thus, they require Naven's staffing support to provide these medications at outpatient infusion centers or, in some cases, inpatient settings. Given that specialty pharmacy patients typically receive medications for chronic and other debilitating conditions, such as autoimmune diseases and neurological disorders, the majority of these pharmacies' patients are chronically ill and may face difficulties travelling to an outpatient location to receive infusion services. Additionally, for patients living in more rural areas, it is often infeasible to travel a significant distance to receive infusion care in an outpatient setting, necessitating time away from home or work and travel coordination with family members or caregivers.

Specialty pharmacies' demand for high quality home infusion providers and, as a result, the need for Naven's project, are made clear through the significant growth in infusion patient volume Naven has experienced since it began operating in Tennessee in May 2023. Based on internal data, Naven provided home infusion care to 270 Tennessee patients in 2024 and 303 patients in 2025 via its partnerships with existing specialty pharmacies with home health licenses. In other words, the total number of Tennessee patients Naven served increased by 12.2 percent over only one year. Naven also continues to serve a growing portion of Tennessee counties. In its first year of operation, Naven cared for patients across 52 Tennessee counties; this number increased to 69 counties in 2024 and to 70 counties in 2025. This rapid growth is indicative of the need for Naven's project, particularly in counties where it does not yet serve patients; Naven's high quality services; and its ability to scale its staff appropriately to meet patient needs across Tennessee.

Accessibility and Care Benefits of Home Infusion Services

Naven's Tennessee patient population covers the majority of the state, including many rural service area counties. Based on the latest available U.S.

Census data, 78 of the 95 counties in Tennessee are rural (82 percent);[3] of the 70 counties Naven served in 2025, 53 (more than 75 percent) were considered rural. These counties are noted in Table 6N-1 included in Attachment 6N.

Rural patient populations have more difficulty accessing healthcare services and an overall greater need for healthcare services. Compared to patients in urban areas, rural patients are more likely to suffer from chronic diseases and worse health outcomes, which leads to elevated rates of morbidity and excess mortality.[4] Residents in these areas also face multiple barriers to accessing vital medical care, including longer travel distances to healthcare providers, higher uninsured rates, and poorer health literacy.[5] Importantly for this project, research also shows that rural areas are far less likely than urban areas to have adequate access to home health services. Findings from the Rural & Minority Health Research Center indicated that 10.3 percent of rural ZIP Code Tabulation Areas ("ZCTAs")[6] lack any home health services, compared to only 2.2 percent of urban ZCTAs.[7]

Given that patients receiving specialty infusion medications are likely sicker and may have greater difficulties travelling to a specific location for care, it is important that these chronically ill patients have readily accessible healthcare options, including the opportunity to receive infusion care in their homes. Further, the advantages of home-based infusion extend well beyond the improvement of patient choice. For patients managing chronic or complex conditions – the majority of patients Naven serves today – the ability to receive infusion therapy in the home setting represents a meaningful clinical and quality-of-life benefit that cannot be replicated in an ambulatory infusion center. In the home setting, patients can receive their prescribed therapies on a schedule that accommodates their daily lives, reducing the disruptions to work, family obligations, and routine that are an unavoidable consequence of repeated visits to an outpatient facility. This flexibility supports patient adherence to prescribed treatment regimens – a critical factor in achieving positive health outcomes for patients managing conditions requiring long-term infusion therapy.

Home infusion also facilitates a more personalized and continuous care relationship between the patient and the clinical team. Skilled nurses who deliver home infusion services develop an intimate familiarity with the patient's living environment, support systems, and day-to-day health status – insights that are difficult to develop through periodic visits to an outpatient facility. This continuity of care enables clinicians to identify changes in a patient's condition more quickly, intervene proactively, and communicate more effectively with the broader care team, all of which contribute to better health outcomes and reduced rates of preventable hospitalization.

More generally, given the relatively small number of home infusion providers in Tennessee, adding a provider capable of serving patients in all 95 service area counties promotes care that is cost-effective. As noted above, the medications provided by Naven's specialty pharmacy partners are largely for chronically ill patients. If patients cannot receive their medications at home, they must instead travel to receive these medications in an outpatient setting. This results in unnecessary travel for the patient or a patient's caregivers, costing both time and expenses for travel. For rural patients, this is especially significant. Worse, in some cases, patients who do not receive their medications in a timely manner may have to be admitted to an acute care facility and receive their medications on an inpatient basis. This is a much more costly means of receiving care and may result in undue stress for that patient and their loved ones. Administering these infusions in the home setting is more cost-effective than other settings, especially for patients receiving multiple infusion treatments for an extended period of time.

By operating its own licensed HHA, Naven will be able to provide home infusion services to all patients within its expansive existing network of specialty pharmacies partners – not just those that currently hold their own home health licenses. Naven already has a track record demonstrating its ability to deliver home infusion care to patients across the state, including those in rural areas. Expanded access to home infusion services promotes more timely, convenient and cost-effective care that reduces burdens on patients and their families. Overall, Naven believes these qualitative factors demonstrate the need for the proposed project and Naven's ability to meet this need.

5. Current Service Area Utilization: The applicant should document by county: a) all existing providers of home health services within the proposed Service Area; and b) the number of patients served during the most recent 12-month period for which data are available. To characterize existing providers located within Tennessee, the applicant should use final data provided by the JARs maintained by the Tennessee Department of Health. In each county of the proposed Service Area, the applicant should identify home health agencies that have reported serving 5 or fewer patients for each of the last three years based on final and available JAR data. If an agency in the proposed Service Area who serves few or no patients is opposing the application, that opponent agency should provide evidence as to why it does not serve a larger number of patients.

   Response: Please see Attachment 5N. HHAs that reported serving five or fewer patients for each of the last three years are highlighted in yellow. Attachment 5N also indicates whether an HHA treating patients in the proposed service area provides infusion therapy services, according to data those agencies submitted for the JAR. For those that do, the visits and hours per patient have been included.

6. Adequate Staffing: Using TDH Licensure data, the applicant should document a plan demonstrating the intent and ability to recruit, hire, train, assess competencies of, supervise, and retain the appropriate numbers of qualified personnel to provide the services described in the application and document that such personnel are available to work in the proposed Service Area. The applicant should state the percentage of qualified personnel directly employed or employed through a third party staffing agency.

   Response: Please see the response to Question 8Q for a detailed discussion of the staffing needs of the proposed project. Naven believes it will require 29.00 FTEs of staff in its first full project year. This includes 21.00 FTEs of direct care positions and 8.00 FTEs of non-patient care positions. Of note, 26.75 of these 29.00 FTEs are existing FTEs currently employed by or contracted with Naven; as such, the project will only require 2.25 additional FTEs.

   Please note the Infusion Nurse FTEs represented in the table included with Question 8Q account for per diem nursing positions and are adjusted for full FTEs. Each Infusion Nurse in Naven's existing nurse network accounts for 0.25 FTEs. Generally, given Naven's extensive staffing network, it has the ability to flex existing employed and contracted nurses to provide home infusion services and meet the needs of the projected patient population. Naven will also be able to hire additional nursing staff as necessary and anticipates needing approximately 2.25 FTEs for administrative nursing positions. Please note that Naven currently contracts with more than 50 infusion nurses on a part-time basis; this structure gives Naven the flexibility to increase staffing capacity in correlation with utilization volume, without needing to recruit and hire a large number of new employees. Finally, Naven will able to transition to operating as a licensed HHA quickly and efficiently, with minimal ramp-up to care.

Naven, as well as its parent, Option Care, have robust existing policies related to the recruitment, training, assessment, and professional development of its employees. The proposed project will operate under these same policies. Please see Attachment 4C for the relevant policies, including policies related to staffing and employment.

7. Community Linkage Plan: The applicant should provide a community linkage plan that demonstrates factors such as, but not limited to, referral arrangements with appropriate health care system providers/services (that comply with CMS patient choice protections) and working agreements with other related community services assuring continuity of care focusing on coordinated, integrated systems. A new provider may submit a proposed community linkage plan.

   Response: As an existing nursing staffing agency in Tennessee, Naven has existing relationships with multiple specialty pharmacies across Tennessee. These relationships will continue following development of the proposed HHA. Please see Attachment 1N-4. Based on Naven's historical operations, it anticipates that the majority of its referrals will come through its extensive network of specialty pharmacy partners, which also work closely with a wide range of Tennessee healthcare providers.

8. TennCare Managed Care Organizations (MCOs) and Financial Viability: Given the time frame required to obtain Medicare certification, an applicant proposing to contract with the Bureau of TennCare's MCOs should provide evidence of financial viability during the time period necessary to receive such certification. Applicants should be aware that MCOs are under no obligation to contract with home care organizations, even if Medicare certification is obtained, and that Private Duty Services are not Medicare certifiable services. Applicants who believe there is a need to serve TennCare patients should contact the TennCare MCOs in the region of the proposed Service Area and inquire whether their panels are open for home health services, as advised in the notice posted on the HSDA website, to determine whether at any given point there is a need for a provider in a particular area of the state; letters from the TennCare MCOs should be provided to document such need. See Note 2 for additional information.

   Applicants should also provide information on projected revenue sources, including non-TennCare revenue sources.

   Response: Not applicable. Due to Naven's current business model, which is expected to stay the same for the proposed project, Naven does not intend to establish relationships with payors, including with MCOs, as part of the proposed project. Currently, Naven does not directly bill payors for its services. Rather, Naven charges its partnering specialty pharmacies a fee for its services and the specialty pharmacies bill the appropriate payor, which may include Medicare, Medicaid/TennCare, or Commercial payors, among other payors. Notably, as in other past home infusion projects the HFC has approved, the specialty pharmacies are billing payors for the drug and/or the cost of administering the drug rather than for home health services. Naven intends to maintain this arrangement and billing structure following the development of the proposed project. Further, as noted in the response to #7 above, the majority of patients Naven will serve through its HHA will be patients who are referred to Naven from its specialty pharmacy partners. Therefore, the fees charged to these specialty pharmacies are expected to be Naven's primary source of revenue for the proposed project.

9. Proposed Charges: The applicant's proposed charges should be reasonable in comparison with those of other similar agencies in the Service Area or in adjoining service areas. The applicant should list:

    a. The average charge per visit and/or episode of care by service category, if available in the JAR data.

    Response: Please see Attachment 8C, which lists the charges per visit for HHAs in Tennessee that provide home infusion therapy services as listed in the 2025 JAR. Please note that the JAR for Home Health Agencies does not provide average charges specific to the various types of therapies Naven anticipates providing.

    b. The average charge per patient based upon the projected number of visits and/or episodes of care and/or hours per patient, if available in the JAR data.

    Response: Please see the previously referenced Attachment 5N, which contains the visits and hours for the 13 HHAs that reported home infusion therapy services in the 2025 JAR for Home Health Agencies.

10. Access: In concert with the factors set forth in HSDA Rule 0720-11-.01(1) (which lists those factors concerning need on which an application may be evaluated), the HSDA may choose to give special consideration to an applicant that is able to show that there is limited access in the proposed Service Area for groups with special medical needs such as, but not limited to, medically fragile children, newborns and their mothers, and HIV/AIDS patients. Pediatrics is a special medical needs population, and therefore any provider applying to provide these services should demonstrate documentation of adequately trained staff specific to this population's needs with a plan to provide ongoing best practice education. For purposes of this Standard, an applicant should document need using population, service, special needs, and/or disease incidence rates. If granted, the Certificate of Need should be restricted on condition, and thus in its licensure, to serving the special group or groups identified in the application. The restricting language should be as follows: CONDITION: Home health agency services are limited to (identified specialty service group); the expansion of service beyond (identified specialty service group) will require the filing of a new Certificate of Need application. Please see Note 3 regarding federal law prohibitions on discrimination in the provision of health care services.

    Response: For the reasons outlined in response to #4 above, as well as the reasons discussed in detail in the response to Question 4N, the proposed project will promote access to care for various patient populations with special needs. First, the proposed project's service area, which consists of all 95 counties in the State of Tennessee, is highly rural. Rural patient populations have more difficulty accessing healthcare services and higher healthcare needs, and these populations are also more likely to suffer from chronic diseases and worse health outcomes. Because the proposed service area is rural, many patients are located farther away from necessary resources and face multiple barriers to accessing medical care, including longer travel distances to healthcare providers, higher uninsured rates, and lower health literacy.

    Second, patients receiving specialty infusion services – a highly specialized form of primarily intravenous medication administration used to treat and manage more serious medical conditions, such as chronic diseases, autoimmune diseases, and neurological disorders – are often sicker or medically frail. While some patients can tolerate the significant travel requirements involved with receiving infusion services at outpatient ambulatory infusion centers, this is not a viable long-term option for chronically ill patients requiring ongoing nursing care that can be safely delivered in their homes, particularly those who are immunocompromised. These enhanced medical needs limit infusion patients' ability to travel and increase the time sensitivity of receiving healthcare services. Additionally, specialty infusion medications often cost more than traditional pharmaceuticals and require special handling, comprehensive planning, and extensive clinical staff and patient training.

    By developing an HHA to serve Tennessee patients, Naven will address the critical gap in home infusion care that patients of many specialty pharmacies experience. With an additional provider of home infusion services, specialty pharmacy patients – the majority of whom are chronically ill and live in rural communities – have increased access to care.

11. Quality Control and Monitoring: The applicant should identify and document its existing or proposed plan for data reporting (including data on patient re-admission to hospitals), quality improvement, and an outcome and process monitoring system (including continuum of care and transitions of care from acute care facilities). If applicable, the applicant should provide documentation that it is, or that it intends to be, fully accredited by the Joint Commission, the Community Health Accreditation Program, Inc., the Accreditation Commission for Health Care, and/or other accrediting body with deeming authority for home health services from CMS.

    Response: Because Naven is an existing provider of home infusion services to many specialty pharmacy partners, Naven is already accredited by The Joint Commission ("TJC") for "home care," which includes the provision of home infusion services.[8] This same accreditation will apply to the proposed HHA. Naven is also certified as a Health Care Staffing agency through TJC, demonstrating the breadth and quality of its staffing services.

    As discussed in response to #6 above, Naven and its parent Option Care have comprehensive policies focused on monitoring care quality and ensuring that patients receive quality care. Please see the previously referenced Attachment 4C for Naven's quality-related policies.

12. Data Requirements: Applicants should agree to provide the Department of Health and/or the Health Services and Development Agency with all reasonably requested information and statistical data related to the operation and provision of services and to report that data in the time and format requested. As a standard of practice, existing data reporting streams will be relied upon and adapted over time to collect all needed information.

    Response: Naven agrees to provide the Department of Health and/or the Commission such information and data as reasonably requested.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1E. Overview

Please provide an overview not to exceed ONE PAGE (for 1E only) in total explaining each item point below.

- Description: Address the establishment of a health care institution, initiation of health services, and/or bed complement changes.

  RESPONSE:

  Naven Health, Inc. ("Naven") proposes to establish a home health agency ("HHA") limited to providing home infusion services. Naven is a nationwide skilled nursing staffing agency operating in all 50 states and specializing in infusion care for patients with chronic conditions. Naven provides a wide range of infusion services, including Alpha 1 Therapy, Antibiotics, Hemophilia Therapy, Steroids, Enzyme Replacement, Immunotherapies, Biologics, Inotropes, HIV Therapy, and First-Dosing; Naven will not provide chemotherapy infusions through the proposed HHA. Naven's existing footprint in Tennessee includes partnerships with over 30 existing specialty pharmacies and a network of more than 70 nurses. Additionally, Naven currently operates 15 licensed HHAs nationwide, as well as two HHAs with pending accreditation. The proposed project builds upon Naven's existing infusion experience, enabling Naven to provide broadly accessible, home-based infusion care for all patients across Tennessee.

- Ownership structure

  RESPONSE: Naven, which will own and operate the proposed HHA, is 100 percent owned by SPNN Holdings, LLC. SPNN Holdings, LLC is 100 percent owned by Option Care Enterprises, Inc. Naven's complete ownership structure is detailed in Attachment 7A-2.

- Service Area

  RESPONSE: The proposed project's service area is all 95 counties in Tennessee, including CON-exempt Grundy County and Lake County.

- Existing similar service providers

  RESPONSE: According to the 2025 Tennessee Joint Annual Report ("JAR") for Home Health Agencies, there are 175 existing HHAs that are licensed to provide home health services in Tennessee. Only 13 (approximately seven percent) of these existing agencies provide home infusion therapy services. Additionally, many of the HHAs that provide home infusion services can only serve patients of their own specialty pharmacies. Please see the response to Question 5N for additional discussion of existing home health providers in Tennessee. Please see Attachment 5N for a detailed list of HHAs that operate in Tennessee, including those listed as providing home infusion therapy.

- Project Cost

  RESPONSE: Project costs are approximately $142,733. Of note, $38,633 of these costs represent the estimated Fair Market Value ("FMV") for the property that Naven will lease for the proposed project, which is a property that Naven is already leasing. Please see Attachment 1E for the FMV worksheet for the proposed project.

- Staffing

  RESPONSE: The proposed HHA will require 29.00 FTEs in its first project year, including 21.00 FTEs of direct care positions and 8.00 FTEs of non-patient care positions. Please see the responses to Question 8Q and #6 in Attachment 1N for additional staffing information.

2E. Rationale for Approval

A Certificate of Need can only be granted when a project is necessary to provide needed health care in the area to be served, will provide health care that meets appropriate quality standards, and the effects attributed to competition or duplication would be positive for consumers

Provide a brief description not to exceed ONE PAGE (for 2E only) of how the project meets the criteria necessary for granting a CON using the data and information points provided in criteria sections that follow.

- Need

  RESPONSE: The need for the proposed project is driven by multiple factors. First, given the complexity of home infusion care, including the time- and resource-intensive nature of infusion treatments, many existing HHAs in Tennessee, particularly traditional HHAs, do not have the expertise or staffing capacity to provide infusion care. In fact, only 13 of the 175 (seven percent) Tennessee HHAs included in the 2025 JAR for Home Health Agencies provided home infusion therapy services. Second, Naven currently partners with many specialty pharmacies in Tennessee that do not hold home health licenses and, therefore, cannot provide infusion care to patients in the home setting. The proposed project allows patients of these pharmacies to access essential home infusion care in the comfort of their own homes. Third, given Tennessee's significant rural patient population, many patients in the proposed service area struggle to access care, particularly if those patients are chronically ill, medically frail, or have difficulty travelling on their own. Although Naven is already serving many rural patients through its existing arrangements with specialty pharmacies with an HHA license, the project will allow Naven to meet the growing need for accessible care among Tennessee's rural patient population. Finally, the proposed project facilitates more cost-effective care for medically frail patients by limiting potential hospital stays, meeting a need for affordable care among vulnerable patient populations. See #4 in Attachment 1N for a detailed discussion of the need for the proposed project.

- Quality Standards

  RESPONSE: Naven is an established provider of high-quality healthcare services, both nationwide and in Tennessee. It is currently accredited by The Joint Commission ("TJC") for "home care," which includes the provision of home infusion services. This existing TJC accreditation will also apply to the proposed project. Naven is also certified as a Health Care Staffing agency through TJC. Naven already operates under robust policies designed to ensure the provision of high-quality care. These policies are included in Attachment 4C.

- Consumer Advantage
  - Choice

    RESPONSE: The proposed project enhances patient choice by establishing another provider of home infusion services in Tennessee that can serve patients in the comfort of their own homes, regardless of their specialty pharmacy. Few existing HHAs in Tennessee provide home infusion services; of these, even fewer operate across the entire state and are otherwise limited in the patients they can serve. Naven's existing infusion staffing infrastructure in Tennessee will allow it to easily expand its delivery of home infusion services to additional patients who need such specialized care.

  - Improved access/availability to health care service(s)

    RESPONSE: The proposed project will also greatly increase access to home infusion services. First, the project improves access to home infusion services for the existing patients of Naven's specialty pharmacy partners, enabling these patients to be treated in their homes, rather than an outpatient infusion setting. In particular, the project creates much needed access to home infusion services for rural patient populations in the proposed service area. As noted above, Tennessee is a highly rural state. Rural patient populations have more difficulty accessing healthcare services and higher overall healthcare needs, including a greater prevalence of chronic diseases and generally worse health outcomes. Enabling these patients to receive infusion therapy in their homes will reduce barriers to accessing medical care, including longer travel distances to healthcare providers, higher uninsured rates, and lower health literacy.

- Affordability

RESPONSE: The proposed project reduces the cost of care for patients and payors alike by allowing patients to receive timely care that improves management of their chronic health conditions and to avoid higher cost acute care settings. In addition, the project promotes cost-effective care by limiting travel time and transportation costs for patients that require infusion services. Instead of travelling to a hospital or outpatient setting to receive their infusion medications, patients can receive care at home, eliminating unnecessary travel costs for patients and their caregivers.

GENERAL CRITERIA FOR CERTIFICATE OF NEED

In accordance with TCA §68-11-1609(b), "no Certificate of Need shall be granted unless the action proposed in the application for such Certificate is necessary to provide needed health care in the area to be served, will provide health care that meets appropriate quality standards, and the effect attributed to completion or duplication would be positive for consumers." In making determinations, the Agency uses as guidelines the goals, objectives, criteria, and standards adopted to guide the agency in issuing certificates of need. Until the agency adopts its own criteria and standards by rule, those in the state health plan apply.

Additional criteria for review are prescribed in Chapter 11 of the Agency Rules, Tennessee Rules and Regulations 01730-11.

The following questions are listed according to the three criteria: (1) Need, (2) the effects attributed to competition or duplication would be positive for consumers (Consumer Advantage), and (3) Quality Standards.

NEED

The responses to this section of the application will help determine whether the project will provide needed health care facilities or services in the area to be served.

1N. Provide responses as an attachment to the applicable criteria and standards for the type of institution or service requested. A word version and pdf version for each reviewable type of institution or service are located at the following website. https://www.tn.gov/hsda/hsda-criteria-and-standards.html (Attachment 1N)

RESPONSE:

Please see Attachment 1N.

2N. Identify the proposed service area and provide justification for its reasonable ness. Submit a county level map for the Tennessee portion and counties boarding the state of the service area using the supplemental map, clearly marked, and shaded to reflect the service area as it relates to meeting the requirements for CON criteria and standards that may apply to the project. Please include a discussion of the inclusion of counties in the border states, if applicable. (Attachment 2N)

RESPONSE:

Please see the map in Attachment 2N with the proposed service area counties shaded. No counties in border states are included. Please note that CON-exempt Grundy and Lake counties are shaded in blue.

The proposed service area, which includes all 95 Tennessee counties, is reasonable. As discussed in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, Naven is an existing nursing staffing agency that operates in Tennessee and nationwide. Through partnerships with existing Tennessee specialty pharmacies with HHA licenses, Naven provided specialty infusion care to over 300 Tennessee patients across 70 Tennessee counties in 2025. Naven also currently has a network of over 70 nurses to deliver this care. Naven will leverage this strong existing presence in Tennessee to expand the home infusion services it provides statewide.

Further, Naven already cares for patients in rural Tennessee counties. Indeed, some 75 percent of the counties it served in 2025 are considered rural. Given Naven's extensive staffing network and familiarity with the Tennessee and rural patient populations, Naven is well-equipped to deliver infusion care to patients statewide. A statewide proposed service area is critical to Naven's mission to ensure all patients, including those in rural areas, have access to essential home-based infusion services. Indeed, there are not only few existing home infusion providers in Tennessee, but even fewer have the ability to serve all patients across the state.

Please note that the figures below include Grundy and Lake counties, which are CON-exempt. As stated above, the service area for the proposed project is all 95 counties in Tennessee. While not reflected in the table below, Naven projects it will serve patients from all 95 Tennessee counties by 2028, its second full project year, driven in part by its existing experience operating in Tennessee and its expansive network of staff. Please see Attachment 6N for additional discussion.

Complete the following utilization tables for each county in the service area, if applicable.

3N. A. Describe the demographics of the population to be served by the proposal.

RESPONSE:

Given its experience providing specialty infusion services, Naven knows that a wide range of patients, including both pediatric and geriatric (i.e., patients age 65 and over) patients, require infusion services. As such, Naven has assumed that its target patient population is the entire population of the proposed service area – i.e., all patients across Tennessee's 95 counties.

As discussed in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, 78 of the 95 counties in Tennessee classified as rural according to U.S. Census data. Therefore, Naven anticipates that the majority of its patients will reside in rural areas.

B. Provide the following data for each county in the service area:

- Using current and projected population data from the Department of Health. (www.tn.gov/health/health-program-areas/statistics/health-data/population.html);
- the most recent enrollee data from the Division of TennCare (https://www.tn.gov/tenncare/information-statistics/enrollment-data.html),
- and US Census Bureau demographic information (https://www.census.gov/quickfacts/fact/table/US/PST045219).

RESPONSE:

Please see Attachment 3N.

4N. Describe the special needs of the service area population, including health disparities, the accessibility to consumers, particularly those who are uninsured or underinsured, the elderly, women, racial and ethnic minorities, TennCare or Medicaid recipients, and low income groups. Document how the business plans of the facility will take into consideration the special needs of the service area population.

RESPONSE:

As discussed in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, several demographic factors support Tennessee patients' need for broader access to home-based specialty infusion services. Further, Naven's existing operations and staffing network demonstrate Naven is already well-equipped to understand and meet the special needs of the proposed service area.

First, the project's 95-county proposed service area is highly rural; based on the latest available U.S. Census data and as noted in the response to #4 in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, 78 of the 95 counties in Tennessee are rural (82 percent). Rural patient populations have more difficulty accessing healthcare services and an overall greater need for healthcare services, and these populations are also more likely to suffer from chronic disease and worse health outcomes. Because these counties are rural and located farther away from necessary resources, their residents also often face multiple barriers to accessing medical care, including longer travel distances to healthcare providers, higher uninsured rates, and lower health literacy.

Second, patients receiving specialty infusion services – a highly specialized form of primarily intravenous medication administration used to treat and manage numerous medical conditions, such as chronic diseases, autoimmune diseases, and neurological disorders – are often sicker or medically frail. While some patients can tolerate the significant travel requirements involved with receiving infusion services at outpatient ambulatory infusion centers, this is not a viable long-term option for chronically ill patients requiring ongoing nursing care that can be safely delivered in their homes, particularly for those who are immunocompromised.

Given the specialized medical needs of service area patients, the burdens associated with having to travel to an ambulatory infusion center or, worse, to an inpatient hospital setting for necessary infusion medications are significant. Infusion sessions are often lengthy, requiring patients to arrange transportation to and from a facility, secure childcare or eldercare coverage during their absence, and navigate the physical and emotional demands of extended time spent in a clinical setting – all while managing the symptoms of a serious underlying illness. Further, most traditional HHAs do not have the staff or clinical expertise to deliver such complex and time-consuming care. For patients in rural counties, these challenges are compounded by longer driving distances, limited public transportation, and higher financial costs associated with frequent out-of-pocket travel expenses. In addition, for immunocompromised and medically vulnerably patients, receiving infusions in non-home settings, such as ambulatory infusion centers, increases infection risk. Naven's project will offer high-quality infusion services in patients' homes, reducing service area patients' barriers to accessing care and thereby prioritizing the special needs of the service area population.

5N. Describe the existing and approved but unimplemented services of similar healthcare providers in the service area. Include utilization and/or occupancy trends for each of the most recent three years of data available for this type of project. List each provider and its utilization and/or occupancy individually. Inpatient bed projects must include the following data: Admissions or discharges, patient days. Average length of stay, and occupancy. Other projects should use the most appropriate measures, e.g. cases, procedures, visits, admissions, etc. This does not apply to projects that are solely relocating a service.

RESPONSE:

Please see Attachment 5N.

Multiple CON applications to develop HHAs limited to the provision of home infusion services have recently been approved but have not yet initiated services. First, in May 2025, Amerita, Inc. was approved to develop a home care organization limited to home infusion services with a service area of 80 counties (CN2503-008A). Next, in February 2026, River City Infusion, LLC was approved to develop an HHA limited to infusion services with a service area of all 95 Tennessee counties (CN2511-042). Most recently, in April 2026, OPTIV Infusion, LLC was approved to develop a home care organization and initiate home infusion and related nursing services for a 29-county service area (CN2602-006A).

The approval of these projects does not alter the need for Naven's project. Tennessee patients continue to lack sufficient access to home infusion services. As shown in Attachment 5N, of the 175 Tennessee HHAs listed in the 2025 JAR for Home Health Agencies, only 13, or seven percent, provided home infusion therapy services in 2025; the initiation of three additional providers of home infusion services will increase this total to 16, which is still only nine percent of all HHAs in Tennessee (16 ÷ 178 = 0.89 = nine percent). Additionally, these three HHAs were approved with the condition that they would provide home infusion services exclusively to patients of their own specialty pharmacies.[1] Therefore, these approved providers will not provide home infusion care to any patient who may require such care. In contrast, Naven's proposed HHA will have the ability to provide home infusion care to appropriate patients of any specialty pharmacy in Tennessee that contracts with Naven.

[1] As noted in these agencies' respective Letters of Intent, Amerita, Inc. stated that it would "initiat[e] home health services limited to home infusion and related nursing services for patients of pharmacies owned by Amerita, Inc.;" River City Infusion, LLC stated that it would "initiat[e] home health services limited to home infusion and related nursing services for pharmacy patients of RCIV, LLC;" and OPTIV Infusion, LLC stated that it would "initiat[e] home health services limited to home infusion and related nursing services for pharmacy patients of OPTIVRX, LLC."

6N. Provide applicable utilization and/or occupancy statistics for your institution services for each of the past three years and the project annual utilization for each of the two years following completion of the project. Additionally, provide the details regarding the methodology used to project utilization. The methodology must include detailed calculations or documentation from referral sources, and identification of all assumptions.

RESPONSE:

Please see Attachment 6N for the projected utilization for the proposed project, as well as all assumptions used to project utilization.

7N. Complete the chart below by entering information for each applicable outstanding CON by applicant or share common ownership; and describe the current progress and status of each applicable outstanding CON and how the project relates to the applicant, and the percentage of ownership that is shared with the applicant's owners.

RESPONSE:

Not applicable. Naven has no outstanding CONs in Tennessee.

CONSUMER ADVANTAGE ATTRIBUTED TO COMPETITION

The responses to this section of the application helps determine whether the effects attributed to competition or duplication would be positive for consumers within the service area.

1C. List all transfer agreements relevant to the proposed project.

RESPONSE: As an established provider in Tennessee, Naven has existing relationships with other healthcare providers in the state, as evidenced through the letters of support provided as Attachment 1N-4. Given its history establishing relationships and coordinating with in-state providers, Naven will be able to obtain any necessary transfer agreements with other healthcare providers in Tennessee to ensure that its patients receive the appropriate level of care.

2C. List all commercial private insurance plans contracted or plan to be contracted by the applicant.

RESPONSE: As discussed in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, Naven will not establish direct relationships with payors as part of the development of the proposed project. Currently, Naven does not directly bill payors for its services. Rather, Naven charges its partnering specialty pharmacies a fee for its services; these specialty pharmacies bill the appropriate payor, which may include Medicare, Medicaid/TennCare, or Commercial payors, among other payors. Naven intends to maintain this arrangement and billing structure following the development of the proposed project. The fees charged to these specialty pharmacies will be Naven's sole source of revenue for the proposed HHA.

3C. Describe the effects of competition and/or duplication of the proposal on the health care system, including the impact upon consumer charges and consumer choice of services.

RESPONSE:

The proposed project will benefit service area patients and will not negatively impact existing providers of HHA services. As discussed throughout the application, there are few HHAs in Tennessee that currently offer specialty infusion services. Thus, significant gaps in care remain, particularly for rural patients who face greater challenges in accessing timely care. As an established provider in Tennessee with experience serving patients in rural counties, Naven will fill these critical gaps in home infusion services, acting as a provider of accessible care for patients who need it.

Further, Naven is already partnering with many existing specialty pharmacies in Tennessee with home health licenses to provide staffing support for their infusion services. As attested in the letters of support included in Attachment 1N-4, the patients of these existing specialty pharmacies can be conveniently and effectively served by Naven. Given these attestations and Naven's existing presence and history of providing care in Tennessee, home infusion services in Tennessee will not be duplicated through the development of the proposed project.

The proposed project also creates a new choice of provider for specialty infusion patients in Tennessee, one capable of delivering home-based care. As discussed in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, the medications dispensed through specialty infusion therapy are largely for chronically ill patients. Patients who cannot receive these medications at home must travel to – at best – an outpatient setting, imposing substantial time and transportation costs on both patients and their caregivers. In a worst-case scenario, patients who do not receive timely infusions may require admission to an acute care facility on an inpatient basis, a far more costly care setting that can cause undue stress for patients and their families. The approval of an additional home infusion provider, particularly one already experienced with home-based treatment, will minimize these burdens and create a cost-effective alternative that promotes competition in the state.

4C. Discuss the availability of and accessibility to human resources required by the proposal, including clinical leadership and adequate professional staff, as per the State of Tennessee licensing requirements, CMS, and/or accrediting agencies requirements, such as the Joint Commission and Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities.

RESPONSE:

As discussed in response to #4 of the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, Naven is an existing nationwide skilled nursing staffing agency. As such, it has a robust network of staff that will be leveraged to provide home infusion care for the proposed HHA. In fact, Naven has historically provided care in Tennessee through a network of over 70 nurses. This network is supported by robust existing policies related to the recruitment, training, assessment and professional development of Naven's employees. The proposed project will operate under these existing policies. Please see Attachment 4C for the relevant Naven and Option Care policies.

5C. Document the category of license/certification that is applicable to the project and why. These include, without limitation, regulations concerning clinical leadership, physician supervision, quality assurance policies and programs, utilization review policies and programs, record keeping, clinical staffing requirements, and staff education.

RESPONSE:

Upon approval of the proposed project, Naven will seek licensure from the Tennessee Health Facilities Commission as a home care organization providing home health services in Tennessee. As noted above, Naven intends to limit its CON and license to the provision of home infusion services.

As discussed in response to #1 of the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, because Naven is an existing provider of home infusion services to certain specialty pharmacy partners, Naven is already accredited by The Joint Commission ("TJC") for "home care," which includes the provision of home infusion services. This same accreditation will apply to the proposed HHA. Naven is also certified as a Health Care Staffing agency through TJC, demonstrating the breadth and quality of its staffing services.

As discussed in response to #6 of the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, Naven and its parent, Option Care, have comprehensive policies focused on monitoring care quality and ensuring that patients receive quality care. Please see the previously referenced Attachment 4C for Naven's quality-related policies.

Average Net Charge (Net Operating Revenue/Utilization Data)	$0.00	$0.00	$824.07	$824.07	0.00

8C. Provide the proposed charges for the project and discuss any adjustment to current charges that will result from the implementation of the proposal. Additionally, describe the anticipated revenue from the project and the impact on existing patient charges.

RESPONSE:

As discussed in the Standards and Criteria in Attachment 1N, Naven currently charges its partnering specialty pharmacies a fee for its services; in 2025, this fee, on average, was $827. Because Naven does not anticipate the proposed project will change its fee arrangement for services, Naven has maintained this average charge for its first two full project years.

9C. Compare the proposed project charges to those of similar facilities/services in the service area/adjoining services areas, or to proposed charges of recently approved Certificates of Need.

If applicable, compare the proposed charges of the project to the current Medicare allowable fee schedule by common procedure terminology (CPT) code(s).

RESPONSE:

Please see Attachment 8C for a list of the per visit charges for existing HHAs providing infusion therapy services to Tennessee patients.

As evidenced in Attachment 8C, publicly available infusion therapy charge per visit data is very limited, and, for the reasons noted, may not offer useful charge comparisons. Only seven licensed HHAs provided charge per visit data in the 2025 JAR for Home Health Agencies; two of the seven are separately licensed agencies affiliated with Coram CVS Specialty Infusion Services. Additionally, two of the providers for which infusion therapy charge per visit data are available – Meritan INC and Methodist Alliance Home Care – did not report any infusion volume in the 2025 JAR. Finally, it is unclear from JAR data whether the infusion therapy visits reported are for the services that Naven proposes to provide. As such, based on available data, Naven cannot fully compare its proposed charges to those of HHAs in the service area.

Still, based on Naven's infusion experience, as well as recently approved home infusion CON projects, the proposed charges are reasonable. The fees Naven charges specialty pharmacies for infusion services, while not directly incurred by the patient, are comparable to similarly situated home health infusion providers. For example, the average net charge for OPTIV Infusion, LLC, which received a CON to establish an HHA limited to home infusion therapy in April 2026 (CN2602-006A), was $970. The approval of OPTIV Infusion, LLC's CON application confirms the reasonableness of this average charge, as well as the reasonableness of the average net charge Naven proposes in the table above.

10C. Report the estimated gross operating revenue dollar amount and percentage of project gross operating revenue anticipated by payor classification for the first and second year of the project by completing the table below.

If applicable, compare the proposed charges of the project to the current Medicare allowable fee schedule by common procedure terminology (CPT) code(s).

RESPONSE: Option Care Enterprises, Inc. voluntarily self-disclosed conduct to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office of Inspector General ("HHS-OIG") and, on December 8, 2025, agreed to pay $719,265 to resolve allegations that Option Care violated the Civil Monetary Penalties Law by paying remuneration to a health care system and a physician practice in the form of physician services compensation that varied with the volume of parenteral infusion therapy services referred to Option Care by those entities, where such physician services were separately reimbursable. This matter was initiated and resolved through the HHS-OIG's voluntary Self-Disclosure Protocol — a compliance mechanism through which entities proactively report potential violations — and did not result in any finding or admission of wrongdoing, any exclusion or suspension from Medicare or Medicaid, or the imposition of a Corporate Integrity Agreement. No criminal charges were filed in connection with this matter. The matter described above will not impact the proposed project.

LOBELVILLE WATER DEPT. WANTS TO MAKE YOU AWARE OF POTENTIAL CROSS CONNECTION

Over the next few months, the warm weather will bring people outdoors to work in their yards and gardens and begin getting swimming pools ready. The Lobelville Water System would like to ensure that our customers are aware of the dangers associated with these activities. A garden hose submersed in any liquid or attached to certain devices used to spray pesticides or herbicides forms a cross connection. A cross connection is a situation where a possible source of contamination is directly linked to our public water system. If the end of your hose is connected to a chemical container, swimming pool or other contaminant during a water main break or fire, the substance can be siphoned back into the water system. This condition, known as back siphonage, could cause a public health hazard. Devices are available to prevent this problem; however, the best solution is to always be careful how you use your hose.

Please help us provide a safe supply of water to all of our customers. Remember; never stick your hose in anything you would not want to drink. For more information on cross connections and how to protect against them, call Daniel McCoyat 931-622-3981.

THE WORLD'S LIGHTEST WHEELCHAIR

For those of us—or our loved ones—who are finding our mobility slowing down and may need the use of a wheelchair, there's a remarkable breakthrough that's changing lives. The Featherweight Wheelchair, weighing just 13 pounds*, is nothing like the bulky, heavy models of the past that can weigh over 35 pounds. Imagine lifting your wheelchair in and out of a car without straining your back, gliding effortlessly through your garden, joining your family at the park, or going for a medical checkup, without the worry of fatigue. Why not take the first step toward renewed independence with this ultra-lightweight innovation?

In recent years, we've seen great advancements in mobility aids—from canes and walkers to rollators and scooters—all designed to help people stay active and independent. But until now, there hasn't been a truly revolutionary wheelchair. That's changed thanks to a team of engineers who've created something extraordinary: the world's lightest wheelchair, weighing only 13.5 pounds. Aptly named the Featherweight Wheelchair, this breakthrough has already been called a game-changer by those who use it.

The first thing you'll notice about the Featherweight is just how incredibly light it is. At only 13.5 pounds, it's easy for just about anyone to lift into a car, store at home, or take on the go. It's not only lightweight but also strong, stylish, and easy to maneuver. The lighter the chair, the easier it is to push, propel, and lift. With its sleek design and custom color options, the Featherweight Wheelchair isn't just practical—it's something you'll feel good about using every day.

It's so light weight that it's no problem to lift in and out of the back of my car. It's also easy to set up and collapse down. It is very compact and the wheels come off for compact packing alongside luggage or groceries etc. My Mom finds it very comfortable to ride in as well and enjoys the look. We both love it.

GILLENWATER

schools, it came down to UVA Wise for softball or Emory & Henry for basketball," she said. "It is probably the hardest decision I have ever had to make."

There was many reasons for that decision.

"I love to have to control of the game," she said. "I love being there for my teammates."

McCracken thinks she made the right decision, having watched the versatile Gillenwater grow into one of the area's top female athletes.

"She was always talented. She was talented when she got here, but just the grit and determination. She is seasoned now, she has seen it, she has been there and done that," McCracker said. "She is a leader. That is the biggest thing from the time she got here.

"Of course she was freshman when she got here, she had all the tools, but she had to learn to be a leader and she has done that, a great job...She will set the tone and the tempo."

After Dean's triple put the Titans up in the third, Gillenwater settled into her normal routine, retiring eight straight batters at one time and was able to pitch around a first and third with one out jam in the sixth.

"I got a little stressed out for no reason and got a little worked up, but I just trusted in myself and my dad called my pitches to get myself out of there" said Gillenwater, who was seen the most improvement in simply dealing with those pressure situations.

"Definitely keeping my composure with pitching," she said. "I really struggled with that my freshman year. I was also 14 coming out here pitching against seniors. Definitely when I have pressure coming on just controlling my attitude."

Gillenwater has been a key part of Cumberland District and Region 1D success in all three sports at Twin Springs, and hopes to get past that point this season on the softball diamond, having fallen one run short of the Class 1 state tournament season with a 1-0 loss to J.I. Burton.

"That is our goal. We have went one step further every year that have improved. Last year we were within an out, within a run of going to the state tournament. That is our goal this year," McCracken said. ":First is the district and then get into region. We are not looking too far ahead, but we know that is our ultimate goal."

Expect Gillenwater to do all she can to leave one final memory at Twin Springs.

"My goal this year is to make it to the region championship," said Gillenwater, who noted that the last two Class 1 state champions have come from the Cumberland District, Rye Cove in 2024 and Eastside last season. "It is (an inspiration). Last year we did really good and it gave me a new perspective on our team."

TRIBE

the third. The Indians plated three more runs in the bottom of the fourth, including a clutch RBI double by Hinson, before putting up seven runs in the fifth.

Hinson is one of a handful of sophomores who started last year as a freshmen. She said the game is starting to slow down a little bit this season.

"At the plate, I was just looking for my pitch," said Hinson, who finished 2-for-3 with a walk and two RBIs. "I just try my best to play for the team and get on base."

The Tribe is still a relatively young team this year. D-B started two sophomores and two freshmen on Tuesday, and McConnelee is pleased with the production she's seeing from the underclassmen.

"The sophomores this year returning from last year, they've stepped up big time," she said. "Even the freshmen at the bottom of the lineup, they step up when needed. I think we have a really good team."

The youngsters at the bottom of the order were instrumental during the seven-run rally that brought the game to an early conclusion in the fifth. Sophomore Riley Hughes-Lepovich rapped a single, sophomore Mary Kate Lively drew a walk to load the bases, freshman Ashley Chappell drew a walk to bring home a run and freshman Olivia Aldridge came through with a two-run single.

After ending the game with her double, McConnelee was proud of the way her team fought.

"We're a really scrappy team, and I love it," she said.

Rural Development

Northeast Lawrence Utility District: Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact

AGENCY: Rural Utilities Service (RUS), USDA

ACTION: Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact.

SUMMARY: The Rural Utility Service (RUS) has made a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) with respect to a request for possible financing assistance to Northeast Lawrence Utility District for the construction of the Norton Road Water Treatment Plant and Well Project in Lawrence County, TN.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: To obtain copies of the EA and FONSI, or for further information, Vance Hamilton, Area Specialist, RUS, 237 Waterloo Street, Lawrenceburg, TN 38464, 615-783-1351 x5251, vance.hamilton@usda.gov

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The proposed project consists of the construction of a water treatment plant (WTP)facility with a clear well, a finished water line, and a pump enclosure and for the addition of well pumps and associated appurtenances to bring the existing groundwater well into production. Alternatives considered by RUS and Northeast Lawrence Utility District include: No action; Action Alternative 1: site development and construction of a clear well with high service pumps at the water treatment plant on Miller Lane, site development and construction of a pump station at the Norton Road well site, and the construction of an approximately 5,000 linear foot raw water line to convey raw water from the Norton Road well to the Miller Lane water treatment plant. The alternatives are discussed in the Norton Road Water Treatment Plant and Well EA. RUS has reviewed and approved the EA for the proposed project.

The availability of the EA for public review was announced via notice in the following newspaper(s): Lawrence County Advocate on March 4 and March 11, 2026. A 14-day comment period was announced in the newspaper notice(s). The EA was also available for public review at the USDA Rural Development office as well as Northeast Lawrence Utility District's office. No comments were received during the review period.

Based on its EA, commitments made by Northeast Lawrence Utility District, and no public comments received, RUS has concluded that the project would have no significant impact to water quality, wetlands, floodplains, land use, aesthetics, transportation, or human health and safety.

The proposed project will have no adverse effect on resources listed or eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. The Agency has also concluded that the proposed project is not likely to affect federally listed threatened and endangered species or designated critical habitat thereof.

No other potential significant impacts resulting from the proposed project have been identified. Therefore, RUS has determined that this FONSI fulfills its obligations under the National Environmental Policy Act, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.), the Council on Environmental Quality Regulations (40 CFR §§ 1500-1508), and USDA Rural Development's Environmental Policies and Procedures (7 CFR Part 1970) for its action related to the project.

RUS is satisfied that the environmental impacts of the proposed project have been adequately addressed. RUS's federal action would not result in significant impacts to the quality of the human environment, and as such it will not prepare an Environmental Impact Statement for its action related to the proposed project.

Easter symbols and traditions

BY LEANN JUDKINS

In no order, the following are some of the many traditions and symbols of Easter, along with what they represent to faithful Christians worldwide.

EGGS

Eggs represent the new life that's symbolic of Spring, which is when Easter occurs in the northern hemisphere. Christians view eggs as a reminder of Jesus' resurrection. Colored eggs are only for children's fun and have no Biblical meaning.

SPRING CHICKS

Spring chicks hatching from eggs mimic Jesus Christ rising from the tomb. The resurrection of Christ is an allegory of rebirth and new life, aptly symbolized by the emergence of Spring chicks.

THE CRUCIFIX AND THE CROSS

The crucifix symbolizes the crucifixion and the resurrection of Christ. Christians believe that the cross symbolizes Christ's victory over death. Later, the cross was officially made the symbol of Christianity.

BUTTERFLY

The entire life cycle of a butterfly offers a compelling parallel to Easter and stands as one of the season's most powerful symbols.

THE LAMB

John refers to Jesus as the "Lamb of God," so it is another important Easter symbol for Christians. Jesus takes away the sins of the world.

EASTER BUNNY

The hare was a symbol of fertility among the ancient pagans. The spirit of rebirth associated with rabbits, particularly in spring, is also reminiscent of Jesus' resurrection from the tomb.

EASTER LILIES

They symbolize Christ's purity and are common Easter decorations in church and home.

EASTER HAM

Easter ham is a custom that dates to pre-Christian times. It remains a traditional dish during the holiday. In modern times, honey-baked hams are particularly popular.

PASKA

It is a simple cake baked by Christians on Easter as a sign of faith.

EASTER BREADS

For Christians, the resurrected Christ is called.

"The bread of life." The sweet bread is marked with a cross to help the bread rise and as a visible sign that the bread is "blessed."

EASTER CANDY

Chocolate eggs symbolize new life and Jesus' resurrection. This

The tradition dates to the 19th century. More than 16 billion jellybeans are made worldwide each year. The most famous Easter candy today is the marshmallow Peep in various spring colors.

EASTER PARADE

Easter parades have been celebrated since the mid-17th century. Members of the elite class would stroll the streets in Easter bonnets and attend Easter services. Attending services served as a nod to the parade's history.

EASTER BONNETS

It is also a symbol of new life. It was common for Christians to wear new clothes and new hats on Easter Sunday, while celebrating the new life of Jesus after His resurrection.

THE DOGWOOD TREE

It is believed that the cross on which Jesus was crucified was made from a dogwood tree. Dogwood blooms during the spring and is a living memory of the crucifix. The tree symbolizes Christ's crucifixion in many ways. For example, the Dogwood flower's petals represent the four crosses on which Christ was nailed.

Easter is celebrated in different ways and manners across the globe and in DeKalb County. Those celebrations feature many significant religious symbols and traditions that have withstood the test of time.

One Easter, the bunny gave my sister, Lucy, and me a breathing, white, fluffy baby rabbit. When it died a few weeks later, Dad blamed it on our non-stop holding and playing with Mr. Bunny. That was the first and last bunny we ever had, except for fake chocolate bunnies from the candy store. It was never the same.

Easter named after Eostre

BY LEANN JUDKINS

The name of the Easter celebration seems to go back to the pre-Christian goddess EOSTRE in England, who was celebrated at the beginning of spring.

Eostre, a German spring goddess, is believed to be the namesake of the Easter festival in some languages. The Anglo-Saxons worshipped her in April as Eostru.

The Christian holiday of Easter is believed to have taken its name from the Anglo-Saxon goddess Eostre, as mentioned by the 8th-century English monk Bede in his work "De temporum ratione," translated as "The Reckoning of Time." There is limited historical information about Eostre. Much of what is known comes from Bede's writings, which suggests that feasts were celebrated in her honor during the month corresponding to April.

Eostre is often associated with springtime symbols, such as eggs. These animals, bursting with meaning, have become cherished parts of our modern Easter festivities.

In some forms of modern Germanic paganism, Eostre (or Ostara is venerated and celebrated during the spring equinox. Ostara is also known as Eostre or Eastre. Her name is etymologically linked to words related to dawn.

The very sound of her name calls to mind the first light of dawn and the promise of a new day.

A MORE DETAILED EXPLANATION OF THE HOLIDAY INCLUDES

- The holiday is associated with spring, dawn, fertility, and rebirth.
- Eostre is often depicted with hares and eggs, which represent fertility and new life.
- The knowledge of Eostre is primarily based on the writings of the Venerable Bede, an 8th-century monk, who mentions the Anglo-Saxon tradition of "celebrating in Eostre's honor during the month of April."
- The Christian Paschal month, celebrating the resurrection of Jesus, replaced the feasts of Eostre, and the name Easter became associated with the Christian holiday.
- In modern Pagan and Wiccan traditions, Eostre is seen as a manifestation of spring, often associated with the spring equinox.

In conclusion, most evidence suggests that Easter is named after Eostre.

important to self care is our mental health. A healthy mind is the beginning of healing on our grief journey. As we remember, grief is pain of mind that radiates throughout our system. Therefore, we do not need to neglect caring for our mind and thereby make healthy choices for our mind's health as well as our body. At some point introspection needs to be done. An assessment of our mind and body as to whether we have been neglecting our health and if we are not in a position where we are able to assess our health then hopefully someone in our support system is able to support us in our areas that need strengthening. Are we struggling with depression, anxiety, guilt, or something else where we are struggling with unhealthy cognitions? We may need to see our PCP or other health care provider if we are in a deep dark place physically or mentally. "Take care of myself" is essential in my/our journey.

GOOD GRIEF

By David Coy

Self Care

I think we all would agree that during an acute grief journey, we need to take care of ourselves. So often I have seen people neglect their health during their grief journey. You may know of someone who has or is neglecting themselves related to their health. What areas of our health may be at risk? Frequently I have seen people neglect their health both physically and mentally. If we neglect our health, then we impact our healing in our grief journey in a negative way. The obvious is what we can see on the outside and what we cannot see on the inside is not so obvious. Sleep and appetite are what we can see in others - their physical health. If this area is neglected, we usually notice this very soon. Hopefully the mourner has a strong support system around them who will encourage and help them make wise choices to maintain or enhance their physical health to a level they can effectively function on a daily basis.

WITNESSETH:

1. LEASED PREMISES. In consideration of the obligation of Tenant to pay the rent and other charges as provided in this Lease and in consideration of the other covenants, obligations and agreements hereinafter reserved and contained on the part of the Tenant to be observed and performed, Landlord demises and leases to the Tenant and Tenant rents from Landlord those certain premises in Knoxville, Knox County, Tennessee, as follows: Office/Room #6 located within Suite 250 at Executive Plaza, 9041 Executive Park Drive, Knoxville, TN ("demised premises").

2. TERM. The terms of this lease shall be for a period of One (1) year, commencing on the 1st day of May, 2025, and ending on the 30th day of April, 2026.

3. RENTAL. As rental for the demised premises, Tenant hereby agrees to pay to Landlord without deduction, set-off, or prior notice or demand, base rent. Base rent is payable in advance in monthly installments of $550.00 and continuing due and payable on the first day of each and every month for the entire term of the lease at the Landlord's management office located at 9041 Executive Park Drive, Suite 250, Knoxville, TN 37923, or such other place as Landlord may direct in writing. Rental for a portion of a month, if any, (at the beginning and end of the term hereof) shall be prorated. Other remedies for non-payment of rent under Paragraph 15 or elsewhere herein notwithstanding. If the monthly base rent and additional services payment are not received before the fifth (5th) day of the month for which said rent is due, a late charge of TEN PERCENT (10%) of the base rent owed shall become due and payable in addition to the regular base rent owed under this Lease.

4. USE OF PREMISES. The demised premises shall be used for general office purposes and no other business or other purposes without written consent of Landlord. The demised premises shall not be used for any illegal purposes, nor in violation of any valid regulation of any governmental body, nor in any manner to create any nuisance or trespass or tending to disturb any other tenant, nor in any manner to vitiate the insurance or increase the rate of insurance on premises or the building. Tenant will not use or permit upon said demised premises anything that may be dangerous to life or limb. Tenant will not in any manner deface or injure said building or any part thereof, or overload the floors of said building. Tenant and its employees shall have access to the demised premises 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

5. BUILDING OPERATING HOURS. Building Hours are Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and Normal Business hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5.00 p.m., except for Legal Holidays.

No janitorial service shall be provided on legal holidays.

7. CONDITION OF PREMISES. Tenant accepts the demised premises in such condition and repair as they are in at the commencement of the term of the lease, which acceptance shall be conclusive evidence of the good and satisfactory condition of the premises at such time, and shall on its termination surrender them in the same condition and repair, ordinary wear and tear excepted.

8. HEAT PRODUCING EQUIPMENT. Tenant shall not install any equipment or lights in the Leased Premises which will utilize electrical service or generate an amount of heat in excess that is typically found in a normal business office or in excess of five (5) watts per square foot. In the event Tenant utilizes electrical current in excess of five (5) watts per square foot or installs equipment which generates heat in excess of the amount typically found as aforesaid, then the Landlord shall have the right to charge Tenant as an additional charge a reasonable sum as reimbursement for the direct costs of such additional use or service necessary by reason of Tenants use. In the event of a disagreement as to the reasonableness of that amount of such additional charge, the opinion of a qualified local independent professional engineer selected by Landlord shall be binding upon Landlord and Tenant.

9. ALTERATIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS. No alterations, additions, or improvements to the leased premises, except such as may be provided for in this lease, shall be made without first having the consent, in writing, of the Landlord (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), and any improvements, additions or alterations made by the Tenant after such consent shall have been given, including any and all fixtures installed, excepting trade fixtures, shall be removed, unless otherwise agreed in writing remain on the premises as the property of the Landlord, without compensation to Tenant, or shall be removed therefrom and the premises restored to their original condition at cost to Tenant, at the expiration or sooner termination of this lease. 10. REPAIRS. Landlord shall maintain the demised premises in good order and repair, except that Tenant shall repair damages caused by its negligence. Tenant shall at once report in writing to Landlord any defective condition in the demised premises known to him which Landlord is required to repair.

Tenant and Tenant's servants and agents shall at all times observe, perform and abide by the Rules and Regulations attached hereto as Exhibit "B" and Exhibit "C", any additional Exhibits are to be made a part of this lease, together with such other services and further reasonable rules and regulations as Landlord may from time to time adopt.

12. PERSONAL AND PROPERTY RISKS. Landlord shall not be held responsible for and is hereby expressly relieved from all liability by reason of any injury, loss or damage to any person or property on the leased premises except for such injury, loss or damage resulting from the acts or omissions of Landlord. If any such injury, loss or damage shall be caused by the acts of negligence of the Tenant, the Landlord may, at its option, repair such damage, whether caused to the building or the tenants thereof, and the Tenant shall thereupon reimburse the Landlord the total cost of such damage both to the building and to the tenants thereof. The Tenant further agrees that all of Tenant's personal property upon the demised premises shall be at the risk of the Tenant only and that the Landlord shall not be liable for any damage thereto or theft thereof. Nor shall the Landlord be liable for the stoppage or interruption of water, light, heat, air conditioning, telephone service, janitor or elevator service, caused by riot, strike, accident or to make needful repairs, or by any cause over which the Landlord has no control. Tenant shall indemnify Landlord and save it harmless from any and all claims, actions, damages, liabilities and expenses in connection with personal injuries or damage to property occurring in the demised premises to the extent caused in whole or in part by any act or omission of Tenant, its agents, contractors, employees, customers, licensees, or guests. Tenant hereby grants Landlord and Landlord's agent's authority to sign for receipt of overnight courier letters and/or packages addressed to Tenant and agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Landlord and its agents against any claim arising from such actions taken by Landlord or its agents on Tenant's behalf.

13. DAMAGE BY FIRE OR OTHER CASUALTY. If the demised premises or other portions of the building essential to or affording access to them should during the term of this lease be damaged by fire or other casualty so as to render the demised premises wholly or partially unsuitable for occupancy, Landlord shall repair and restore the same as promptly as is reasonably possible, strikes, walkouts, and force majeure excepted, provided, however, that if Landlord shall determine that the demised premises or other such portions of the building cannot be repaired within sixty (60) days from the date of such damage, it shall so notify Tenant in writing and either Landlord or Tenant may then or within fifteen days thereafter terminate the lease by notifying the other party in writing of its election so to do. There shall be a prorata abatement of rental for any portion of the premises that is not usable during the period of repair following damage by fire or other casualty, and no rental shall be charged to Tenant during any period that the demised premises are totally unfit for occupancy or during which there is no access to the demised premises by reason of such damage.

14. TRANSFER OF TENANT. Landlord reserves the right, at its option and upon giving sixty (60) day written notice in advance to Tenant, to transfer and remove Tenant from the premises to any other available rooms and offices of substantially equal size and area of which the premises are a part. Landlord shall bear the expense of said removal, as well as, the expense of any renovations or alterations necessary to make the new space substantially conform in layout and appointment with the original premises.

15. RIGHTS AND REMEDIES ARE CUMULATIVE. Rights and remedies herein given to and reserved by the Landlord are separate and cumulative rights and remedies and no one of them, whether or not exercised by the Landlord, shall be deemed to be in exclusion of any of the others, or in the exclusion of any rights or remedies in law or equity under the law of the state in which the property herein demised is located.

16. DEFAULT BY TENANT. In the event of a breach (as hereinafter defined) by the Tenant of any of the terms or conditions of this lease, Landlord shall have the right, at its option, to either annul and terminate this lease upon written notice sent by registered mail to the Tenant, and thereupon to re-enter and take possession of the demised premises, or shall have the right, upon such notice, to re-enter and relet the demised premises or parcels thereof from time to time as agents of the Tenant, and such re-entry and/or reletting shall not discharge Tenant from any liability or obligations hereunder, except that net rents collected as a result of such reletting shall be acquitted on the Tenant's liability for rents payable and other sums due under the terms of this lease. Nothing herein, however, shall be construed to require the Landlord to re-enter and relet in such event, nor shall anything herein be construed to waive or postpone the right of the Landlord to sue for rents due, but on the contrary, the Landlord is hereby given the right to sue for all rents due and payable at any time after default. The occurrence of any one of the following events shall be considered a breach of this lease: (a) In the event the Tenant should fail to pay one or more of said installments of rents as and when the same shall become due and payable and such default shall continue for as much as thirty (30) days, or for as much as five days after written notice thereof by registered mail; (b) In the event an execution or other legal process is levied upon the property of the Tenant located on the demised premises or upon the interest of the Tenant in this lease unless such execution or other levy be discharged of record within thirty (30) days; In the event a voluntary petition in bankruptcy is filed by the Tenant or the Tenant is adjudged bankrupt or in the event the Tenant makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or in the event of the appointment of a receiver, whether bankruptcy or otherwise, of the Tenant's property, provided such appointment be not vacated or set aside within thirty (30) days or in the event any plan of reorganization of the Tenant which is not satisfactory to or approved by the Landlord shall be approved by any court or any judge thereof, and such approval be not set aside within thirty (30) days; or (c) In the event the Tenant violates any of the other terms, conditions, covenants, stipulations or agreements on the part of the Tenant, herein contained, and fails to remedy the same within thirty (30) days after written notice thereof by registered mail by the Landlord to the Tenant. After an authorized assignment or subletting, the occurring of any of the foregoing breaches shall affect this lease only if caused by or happening to the assignee or sublease.

17. STORAGE. If Tenant shall fail to remove all effects from said premises upon termination of this lease for any cause whatsoever, or when Landlord shall re-enter and relet the premises for account of Tenant, Landlord may at its option remove the same in any manner that the Landlord shall choose and store said effects without liability to Landlord for loss thereof, and Tenant agrees to pay Landlord on demand any and all expenses incurred in such removal, including court costs and attorney's fees and storage charge on such effects for any length of time the same shall be in Landlord's possession, or Landlord may at its option without notice sell said effects or any part of the same at private sale and without legal process for such price as Landlord may obtain and apply the proceeds of such sale upon any amounts due under this lease from Tenant to Landlord and upon the expense incident to removal and sale of said effects.

18. NON-WAIVER. The failure of the Landlord to insist in any one or more instance upon a strict performance of any of the covenants and conditions contained in this lease or to exercise any option herein contained shall not be construed as a waiver for the future of any such covenant or condition or option, but the same shall continue and remain in full force and effect. The receipt by the Landlord of rent in whole or in part, or any other payment due hereunder, with knowledge of the breach of any such covenant or condition, shall not be deemed a waiver of such breach and no waiver by the Landlord of any provision hereof shall be deemed to have been made unless expressed in writing and signed by Landlord.

19. LANDLORD'S ATTORNEY'S FEES. In the event of the employment by the Landlord of an attorney to collect any rents due by the Tenant hereunder or to protect the interest of the Landlord in the event of a breach (as hereinbefore defined) by Tenant of any of the terms and conditions of this lease, Tenant will pay to Landlord the reasonable fees of such attorney and such fees shall be forthwith due and payable upon demand and shall constitute additional rent due and payable by the Tenant hereunder.

20. PEACEFUL POSSESSION. Landlord hereby covenants and agrees that at the time of the delivery of this lease it is the owner of the premises herein leased, and has full right and power and authority to lease the same, and does hereby warrant to Tenant the quiet and peaceful possession of the premises hereby leased during the whole term of this lease so long as all terms and conditions herein are fully performed.

21. HOLDING OVER. If Tenant shall, with the written consent of Landlord, hold over after expiration of the term of this Lease, such tenancy shall be deemed a month-to-month tenancy, which tenancy may be terminated as provided by applicable state law. During such tenancy, Tenant agrees to pay Landlord a monthly payment agreed upon by Landlord and Tenant. If Tenant shall hold over without written consent of Landlord at the expiration of this Lease, such tenancy shall be deemed a month to month tenancy, which tenancy may be terminated as provided by applicable state law. During such tenancy, Tenant agrees to pay Landlord of 200% of the Base Rent which was paid in the last month of the Lease Term, and to be bound by all of the terms, covenants and conditions herein specified, so far as applicable.

22. TERMINATION OF LEASE. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, Landlord may terminate this Lease at any time during the term hereof, or any renewal or extension term by providing Tenant with a minimum of thirty (30) days prior written notice of said termination.

23. SERVICE OF NOTICE. Tenant hereby appoints as its agent to receive the service of all dispossessory or distraint proceedings and notices required or permitted under this lease, the person in charge of said premises at the time of occupying premises; and if no person in charge or occupying the same, then such service or notice may be made by attaching the same on the main entrance to premises. Attention: General Counsel

Notice to Landlord shall be sent to its agent, Freeman Webb Company at 9041 Executive Park Drive, Suite 250, Knoxville, TN 37923, or such other entity as Landlord shall direct.

24. CONDEMNATION. If the leased premises are condemned for public use or if such a portion is condemned so as to prevent Tenant from using the leased premises in substantially the same manner as theretofore used, this lease will terminate on the day prior to the vesting of title in the condemning authority. If a portion of the leased premises is taken or condemned, and if such taking does not prevent the Tenant from using the leased premises in substantially the same manner as theretofore used, then this lease shall terminate as to the portion of the leased premises taken on the day prior to the vesting of title in the condemning authority, but shall continue in effect as to the portion of the leased premises not taken. After the date the Tenant surrenders possession of the portion taken, the rent payable hereunder will be reduced in proportion to the decrease in the fair rental value of the lease premises. The entire award for any taking of the leased premises, whether such taking shall be in whole or in part, shall belong to the Landlord.

25. INSURANCE. Tenant at all times during the Lease term shall, at its own expense, keep in full force and effect comprehensive general liability insurance with "personal injury" coverage and contractual liability coverage, with minimum limits of $1,000,000.00 on account of bodily injuries to, or death of, one or more than one person as the result of any one accident or occurrence and $500,000.00 on account of damage to property. All insurance policies or duly executed certificates for the same required to be carried by Tenant under this Lease, together with satisfactory evidence of the payment of the premium thereof, shall be deposited with Landlord on the date Tenant first occupies the leased premises and upon renewals of such policies not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the expiration of the term of such coverage. All insurance required to be carried by Tenant under this Lease shall be in form and content, and written by insurers reasonably acceptable to Landlord. Landlord shall during the term of this Lease, keep in full force and effect a commercial property liability insurance policy with limits not less than the replacement cost of the Leased Premises, a commercial general liability insurance policy with limits not less than $1,000,000 per occurrence/$2,000,000 aggregate and workers' compensation insurance with limits of liability not less than statutory requirements. Landlord agrees to provide evidence of coverage upon request and will provide Tenant notice of cancellation or material reduction in such coverage.

26. PARTIES INCLUDED. Whenever reference is made herein to the words, "Landlord" or "Tenant", the same shall be construed to be both plural and singular and to include the respective heirs, distributees, executors, administrators, legal representatives, successors and assigns of the Landlord and Tenant.

27. GOVERNING LAW AND SEVERABILITY. This lease shall be interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Tennessee. If any clause or provision hereof should be determined to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable under present or future laws effective during the term of this lease or any renewal term hereof, then and in that event, it is the express intention of the parties hereto that the remainder of this lease shall not be affected thereby, and it is also the express intention of the parties hereto that in lieu of each clause or provision of this lease which may be determined to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable, there may be added as a part of this lease a clause or provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid or unenforceable clause of provision as may be possible and be legal, valid and enforceable.

28. MEMORANDUM OF LEASE. This Lease shall not be recorded.

29. ENTIRE CONTRACT. This lease embodies the entire contract of the parties and shall not be altered, changed, or modified in any respect except by instrument of equal dignity to this instrument.

30. SECURITY DEPOSIT. Tenant has deposited with Landlord the sum of $550.00 as security for performance by Tenant of all of the terms, covenants, and conditions of this Lease upon Tenant's part to be performed. The security deposit shall be returned to Tenant after the expiration of the term of this Lease, provided that Tenant has fully performed hereunder. Landlord shall have the right to apply all or a portion of the security deposit to cure any default by Tenant. If Landlord applies the security deposit, or a portion of it, to any default by Tenant, then Tenant shall deposit with Landlord the amount so applied, with the effect that Landlord shall have the full deposit on hand at all times during the term of this Lease. If the Building is sold or leased, subject to this Lease, Landlord shall have the right to transfer the security deposit to the vendee or Tenant of the Building. Landlord shall thereupon be released from all liability for the return of such security deposit to Tenant. The security deposit shall not bear interest during the term of this Lease and shall not be assigned or encumbered by Tenant in favor of any party other than Landlord. Any attempted assignment or encumbrance of the security deposit shall be void.

31. ACCESS. Upon reasonable advance written notice to Tenant, Tenant shall permit Landlord and its agents to enter into and upon the Premises at all reasonable times for the purpose of cleaning, repairing, altering or improving the Premises or the Park provided that Landlord shall use commercially reasonable efforts to minimize interference with Tenant's operations in connection with any such entry. Further, Landlord shall only enter the demised premises (other than in the event of an emergency) only with a representative of Tenant. Nothing contained in this Section shall be deemed to impose any obligation upon the Landlord not expressly stated elsewhere in this Lease. When reasonably necessary to prevent damage to persons or property or otherwise in the event of an emergency Landlord may temporarily close entrances, doors, corridors, elevators, or other facilities without liability to Tenant by reason of such closure and without such action by Landlord being construed as an eviction of Tenant or release of Tenant from the duty of observing and performing any of the provisions of this Lease upon reasonable advance notice to Tenant. Landlord shall have the right to enter the Premises for the purpose of showing the Premises to prospective tenants within the period of 90 days prior to the expiration or sooner termination of the lease term upon reasonable advance written notice to Tenant.

These data are equivalent to those provdied on the Census QuickFacts webstie. State totals are calculated via weighted average, and as such may not precisely sum.

^ Most recent data set at time of drafting of application is from February 2026.

^^ As noted by the Tennessee HFC, Grundy and Lake counties are the two economically distressed counties in Tennessee that do not require a CON in fiscal year 2025.

Attachment 6N: Projected Utilization and Methodology

As a skilled infusion nursing staffing agency, Naven has partnered with specialty pharmacies across Tennessee since May 2023. Some of these specialty pharmacies currently hold licenses as home care organizations, such as Coram CVS Specialty Infusion Services, Optum Infusion Services, and Option Care, but contract with Naven for home infusion therapy support for their chronically ill patients. These home infusion therapies include immunoglobulin therapy, Tumor Necrosis Factor-alpha inhibitors, and other therapies to treat autoimmune and neurological diseases, the full list of which is provided in the response to #4 in the Standards and Criteria. Table 6N-1 shows the historical home infusion visits that Naven has conducted for existing specialty pharmacies with HHA licenses from 2023 to 2025, as well as the pharmacies' corresponding patient censuses.

^ As noted by the Tennessee Health Facilities Commission (HFC), Grundy County and Lake County are the two economically distressed counties that do not require a CON in fiscal year 2025.
Note: Totals may not equate due to computer rounding.

As shown in the table above, in 2025, Naven provided 1,824 home infusion therapy visits for 303 total home health patients from its specialty pharmacy partners with an existing HHA license. This is more than two times the number of patients Naven served in 2023 and represents a 12.2 percent increase in patients from 2024. While patient visits decreased from 2024 to 2025, this decrease in patient visits represents a year-over-year change in the overall acuity of the patients served – i.e., in 2025, the patient population generally needed fewer home health visits than those in 2024. Still, the strong growth in unduplicated patients served is representative of the growth of Naven's services in Tennessee and the growth that Naven expects to continue in the future.

To project a baseline of its potential utilization in 2027, the first full year of the proposed project, Naven applied the HFC's projected statewide population growth rate for Tennessee from 2024 to 2028 – 2.9 percent – to each county's historical patients and visits for 2025, the most recent full year for which utilization data are available. Not only is this growth rate conservative relative to Naven's actual historical patient census growth of 12.2 percent from 2024 to 2025, it is reasonable because Naven's proposed service area encompasses all 95 Tennessee counties.

Naven's projections are based in part on the number of patients it has served through specialty pharmacies with existing home health licenses. But, based on this experience, another important component of Naven's projected utilization is the number of additional patients it can serve via its specialty pharmacy partners that lack home health licensure. Currently, Naven provides these pharmacies with staffing support in ambulatory infusion centers, as well as other infusion support services, but these providers have expressed a need for their patients to receive home infusion services and to have reliable access to a licensed HHA moving forward. Based on these specialty pharmacies' estimated historical volume of home health-appropriate infusion patients, Naven believes it is reasonable to project an additional 429 patients and 2,547 visits. The total projected baseline utilization of Naven's proposed HHA is shown in Table 6N-2 below.

The second full year of the proposed project is 2028. To grow its baseline projection of patients and visits from 2027 to 2028, Naven once again utilized the projected Tennessee population growth rate of 2.9 percent. This growth is shown in Table 6N-3 below. Although Naven did not serve patients from several Tennessee counties in 2025, given its operational experience, its extensive staffing network, and the added resources of the proposed project, Naven has conservatively estimated it will serve at least one patient from every Tennessee county by 2028. It has assumed that it will provide six visits in each of these counties, which is equivalent to the average number of visits per patient in 2025 (1,824 visits ÷ 303 patients = 6.02 visits per patient in 2025).

Naven's total baseline projected patients and visits for 2027 and 2028, its first two full project years, is shown in Table 6N-3 below.

Although Naven will maintain its strong relationships with existing specialty pharmacies and anticipates continuing to provide home infusion services to many of these pharmacies' existing patients, Naven conservatively projects that it will treat 50 percent of the patients and visits projected in Table 6N-3 above. While Naven's actual home infusion utilization may be higher than this given its experience providing care in the state, Naven believes that this is a conservative estimation of the total utilization of its proposed HHA. This projected utilization is shown in Table 6N-4 below.

Project Name : Naven Health, Inc.

Supplemental Round Name : 1 Due Date : 5/11/2026
Certificate No. : CN2604-009 Submitted Date : 5/4/2026

1. 1E. Overview

It is noted that the applicant currently operates as a staffing agency partnering with pharmacies and existing licensed home health agencies to deliver infusion care.

What operational differences will be implemented in the transition to licensed home health agency rather than a contract staffing agency?

Will the applicant ever accept referrals as a standalone home health agency, or directly admit a home infusion patient under its license? If not, what is the purpose of pursuing statewide licensing?

Please include a note in response to Item 1E. of the application that the applicant proposes a limitation to home infusion therapy as stated in Attachment 1N.

Response : Naven currently operates in Tennessee as a skilled nursing staffing agency, providing specialized infusion nursing support to specialty pharmacies and, in some cases, their affiliated licensed home health agencies (HHAs). As described in the application's response to #4 in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, this care model reflects the clinical demands of high-quality home infusion therapy: it requires a level of nursing specialization, training, and time commitment that most general HHAs are not equipped to independently provide. Infusion therapies are often administered across multiple sessions spanning weeks or months, and require consistent, highly trained clinical staff. This is precisely the nursing care Naven delivers to its current specialty pharmacy partners.

Although Naven effectively serves patients through its current staffing arrangement, it introduces inherent coordination challenges for patients and providers. Care must be managed across multiple entities – the referring provider, the specialty pharmacy, the licensed HHA, and Naven as the staffing contractor – each with its own administrative obligations. The result can be duplicative costs, administrative friction, and, most consequentially, logistical barriers that can delay access to medically necessary therapies for patients.

The proposed project – through which Naven will be licensed as a standalone HHA – addresses these inefficiencies. Rather than functioning as one component within a multi-party chain of care, the proposed project enables Naven to consolidate clinical and administrative responsibilities within its organization. Naven will be able to oversee a patient’s plan of care from referral through discharge, coordinate directly with referring providers, and have full accountability for the care it delivers. This structural change positions Naven to deliver infusion care more efficiently and with greater clinical continuity.

Naven will accept referrals and directly admit home infusion patients under its own HHA license. Naven’s project is designed to allow it to fully support its specialty pharmacy partners who receive infusion medication referrals from a wide network of physicians, hospitals and other healthcare providers. Naven's proposed HHA will be able to serve all patients referred to it via its network specialty pharmacy partners; however, it will have the ability to expand its referral network as a result of the proposed project. Thus, statewide licensure is necessary and enables Naven to meet the identified need for broader access to infusion care across Tennessee.

Naven will comply with all HHA licensure and regulatory requirements under Tennessee law, including annual reporting of patient utilization data through the Joint Annual Reports (JARs).

Naven has altered its response to 1E accordingly.

2. 1E. Overview

Please discuss the extent to which the applicant's existing services are provided through partnerships with pharmacies and home health agencies that have any shared ownership with Option Care Health. Will the applicant partner with and accept referrals from any entities that are not affiliated with Option Care Health?

Where does the applicant currently provide nursing staff for ambulatory infusion centers in Tennessee?

Where are Option Care Health affiliated pharmacies and home health agencies currently located in Tennessee?

Response : According to the 2025 JAR for Home Health Agencies, there is one existing Option Care HHA in Tennessee: Vanderbilt HC Option Care IV Services, located in Nashville. Additionally, Option Care operates specialty pharmacies in Knoxville, Memphis and Nashville. Lastly, Option Care operates ambulatory infusion centers in Chattanooga, Clarksville, Knoxville, Memphis, and Nashville.* Naven provides infusion nursing staffing support to these Option Care locations today, albeit not exclusively; Naven also provides nursing staffing support to other specialty pharmacies and ambulatory infusion centers not operated by Option Care, such as those licensed HHAs and specialty pharmacies that provided support letters for Naven's project, which have been updated as Attachment 1N-4R.

As previously stated, although Naven's relationships with Vanderbilt HC Option Care IV Services, the Option Care specialty pharmacies, and the Option Care ambulatory infusion centers will continue following development of the proposed project, Naven intends to partner with, and accept referrals for home infusion services from, any entity as necessary. As a separately licensed HHA, Naven's patients will be reported under its own HHA license.

* Please see https://optioncarehealth.com/option-care-health-locations?state=Tennessee for the locations of Option Care's specialty pharmacies and ambulatory infusion centers.

3. 2E. Rationale for Approval

Are the home infusion patients historically served by the applicant's contracted nursing staff being reported by the primary home health agency contracting for these staff? What percentage of the overall infusion patients served by these primary HHAs (admitting agencies), are being served by contracted nursing staff provided by the applicant?

Is this model - continuing to function as a contracted staffing agency rather than a primary admitting agency consistent with the applicant's approach in other states where it operates as a licensed home health agency? Are there different models utilized by the applicant in different states?

Please discuss the TJC accreditation for home care. Which licensed entities are covered under the accreditation for home care and where are those entities located? Will the applicant have to admit patients directly as a home health agency before becoming eligible for TJC accreditation in Tennessee?

Response : Because Naven does not currently operate as a licensed HHA, the HHAs it partners with to provide home infusion nursing staffing support are responsible for reporting their own utilization data to the JAR for Home Health Agencies. These HHAs do not, and are under no obligation to, share their detailed utilization data with Naven. As such, Naven is not aware of the percentage of the patients of these HHAs' that are receiving infusion treatments through Naven's nursing staff.

Naven's care model varies based on the services it is licensed to provide in any given state. As stated in its response to #4 in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, Naven is a nationwide skilled nursing staffing agency. It is certified as a Health Care Staffing Agency through TJC, a certification that applies to all 50 states. When operating as a nursing staffing agency, Naven's services and operating model are similar to how it operates in Tennessee today.

Naven also operates licensed HHAs and is accredited to provide home infusion services through TJC accreditation for "home care" in California, Florida, North Carolina, New Jersey, Ohio, Texas, and Virginia. For these HHAs, Naven provides home infusion care through employed registered nurses – not contracted staff operating on behalf of other providers. This is the same model Naven will use as a licensed HHA in Tennessee.

Thus, Naven has experience operating HHAs nationwide and holds the necessary accreditation to provide such services. It will leverage that experience to seek the same TJC accreditation for home care services for its licensed HHA in Tennessee. Naven will comply with any steps TJC requires to be eligible for home care accreditations as it has successfully done in other states.*

* Information on the process for Home Health TJC accreditation can be found at https://www.tn.gov/hfc/certificate-of-need-information/hfc-toolbox/accreditation-agencies.html and https://www.jointcommission.org/en-us/accreditation/home-care.

4. 2N. Service Area

How many of the existing licensed HHAs and recently approved but unimplemented CONs does the applicant currently contract with for nursing services? Does the applicant intend to partner with other licensed providers, or accept patient referrals from new sources once it becomes licensed?

Please discuss how the project will meet the needs of the service area beyond what is currently provided through its presence and relationships in the 70 counties it is already operating in?

How will becoming licensed expand the applicant's ability to address unmet need if the applicant is not altering its business model beyond contracted staffing for existing licensed HHAs?

Are the applicant's existing agency partners not licensed in some of the proposed service area counties? Please clarify.

Response : As stated in its CON application, Naven currently contracts with three existing licensed HHAs to provide home infusion nursing staffing support in Tennessee: Coram CVS Specialty Infusion Services, Optum Infusion Services, and Vanderbilt HC Option Care IV Services. These three HHAs are not Naven's only partnering providers in Tennessee; Naven also partners with numerous existing specialty pharmacies that lack home health licenses. See, for example, the letters of support from some of these partnering specialty pharmacies in Attachment 1N-4R.

The proposed project is for the establishment of a separately licensed HHA that will exclusively provide home infusion services. As such, Naven will be able to accept patient referrals from any source, including but not limited to those it partners with today.

As also discussed throughout its CON application, the proposed project allows Naven to address the unmet need for additional home infusion services across all 95 counties in Tennessee – not just the 70 counties where it currently provides nurse staffing services. Through its expansive staffing network, which the proposed project will be able to draw from, Naven has the ability and capacity to provide home-based infusion care across Tennessee, including in highly rural counties. By operating a separately licensed HHA, Naven can more easily coordinate timely infusion care for these rural patients. The proposed project will also meet the needs of the service area by establishing a home infusion provider that is not limited to serving patients affiliated with its own specialty pharmacies – as is the case with many licensed home infusion providers in Tennessee today. As stated in its CON application, there are only 13 Tennessee HHAs included in the most recent JAR for Home Health Agencies that provided home infusion therapy services in 2025. Many of these HHAs have licenses that are limited to serving patients of their own affiliated specialty pharmacies. Thus, the proposed HHA greatly expands accessibility to home infusion services for patients across Tennessee.

Lastly, please see Attachment 4R for a list of the Tennessee counties in which Coram CVS Specialty Infusion Services, Optum Infusion Services, and Vanderbilt HC Option Care IV Services are licensed to provide care, as sourced from the HFC's list of Home Health Licensed Counties. As shown in that attachment, some of those providers are not currently licensed to provide care in specific counties. As stated above, Naven's proposed HHA will service all 95 Tennessee counties.

5. 3N. Demographics

Please update Attachment 3NB to include the following revisions:

Please use population projections for 2025 & 2028 using data from the Boyd Center which can be accessed at the following link: Boyd Center Population Projections | Tennessee State Data Center

Please provide Median Household Income and % in Poverty Data from the 2020-2024 ACS data available at: U.S. Census Bureau QuickFacts: United States\

Please provide specific details on the demographics of the typical patient population that the applicant will serve. What is the typical age range of patients for different therapies offered by the applicant? What percentage of the applicant's historical patients were pediatric?

Response : Please see Attachment 3NR for revised data.

Based on Naven's experience, the need for infusion therapy spans patients' lifetimes. As such, the demographics of the typical patient population requiring home infusion services are wide-ranging and challenging to approximate across all therapy types, including those Naven has historically provided and may provide through the proposed project.

Naven estimates that approximately 11 percent of its Tennessee patient census is comprised of pediatric patients. Naven anticipates that a similar share of pediatric patients will be served by its proposed HHA.

In terms of the therapies Naven has historically offered, approximately 50 percent were immunoglobulin medications, 20 percent were alpha inhibitor medications, 20 percent were integrin receptor antagonists, and the remaining ten percent were other therapies treating a wide range of conditions, such as Crohn's disease, ulcerative colitis, and various autoimmune diseases. Again, the clinical indications for these medications are patient-specific and are not limited to patient populations with certain demographic characteristics. Naven has skilled nursing staff with the knowledge and experience necessary to deliver high-quality infusion services to this diverse target population.

6. 4N. Special Needs of Service Area

Does the applicant have any data on the percentage of its historical home infusion patients who were covered through Medicare, TennCare or were uninsured?

Does the applicant have a charity care policy?

Response : No, Naven does not have any payor data for the home infusion patients it has served through its existing partnerships. In all cases, Naven's partnering specialty pharmacies are responsible for billing patients' payors, where applicable, and they do not share patients' payor data with Naven. As stated in its application – specifically in Attachment 10C – Naven does not directly bill payors for its services. Naven charges its partnering providers a fee for its nurse staffing services. Naven's partnering providers bill patients' payors, if applicable, which may include various state and federal programs, such as Medicare and TennCare.

For the same reasons noted above and as also explained in Attachment 10C, Naven does not have a charity care policy, as it does not directly offer charity care to the patients of these partnering providers. Again, Naven's specialty pharmacy partners retain responsibility for offering charity care to patients. However, Naven is aware that many of its specialty pharmacy partners offer financial assistance programs to patients meeting certain criteria, and it is supportive of such programs and serving patients participating in them. The proposed project is equally committed to supporting these programs, and Naven remains willing to work with its specialty pharmacy partners to ensure uninsured or patients with financial needs have adequate access to home infusion care.

7. 5N. Unimplemented services

Does the applicant intend to partner with any of the recently approved but unimplemented CON agencies identified on Page 17? If so, in what capacity?

Attachment 5N appears to contain errors with the following:

2025 Infusion Visits - Pain Management - Implanted Pump Management LLC - ID 47452

Response : Naven does not anticipate partnering with Amerita, Inc., River City Infusion, LLC, or OPTIV Infusion, LLC, upon their licensure as HHAs, particularly given that they are limited to serving patients of their own pharmacies. Nevertheless, if approved, Naven's proposed statewide service area would enable it to serve patients of these three HHAs or their affiliated specialty pharmacies.

Naven was unable to find an error for the noted provider in Attachment 5N. As recorded in the individual facility report for Implanted Pump Management LLC, included as Attachment 7R, the total number of visits and hours provided by this licensed HHA were 360 and 102, respectively. These totals are viewable on page 11 of Attachment 7R and match the utilization totals for this provider included in the originally attached Attachment 5N.

8. 1C. Transfer Agreements

Will the applicant ever be responsible for transferring a patient under its proposed business model or will other primary HHAs be responsible?

Response : In Naven's experience, transfers from a home health setting are rare. If a patient receiving home infusion services were to be in need of a transfer, it would likely be due to an emergency that required the patient to be admitted to a hospital. Thus, a Naven registered nurse, the patient, or their caretaker would contact the emergency medical services in their area, and the patient would be transported to an inpatient facility.

If a patient required emergent care during the home infusion process – i.e., due to a reaction to administered medication or for some other reason – Naven's nursing staff would coordinate with emergency resources to ensure the patient received the appropriate care. For example, please see Attachment 8R for Naven's Anaphylaxis Treatment and Management policy, which would apply to the proposed HHA.

9. 5C. License/Certification

Please discuss how the applicant will comply with the following HFC rules given the contract-based operational model:

0720-27-.04 ADMINISTRATION.

0720-27-.05 ADMISSIONS, DISCHARGE, AND TRANSFERS.

0720-27-.06 BASIC AGENCY FUNCTIONS.

Will the applicant ever directly admit or discharge a home infusion patient without a referral coming through another HHA first?

What is the timeframe required for the applicant to become TJC accredited for its services as a licensed HHA in Tennessee? How many patients must be served to become eligible to TJC review?

Response : As stated in Section Q of its application, Naven, as a separately licensed HHA exclusively providing home infusion services, will comply with all HFC licensure requirements. Its fee-for-service arrangements with specialty pharmacies will not impact its ability to comply with these rules. As stated in response to Question #3, Naven will follow the process for TJC accreditation as outlined by both the HFC and TJC.*

As a licensed HHA, Naven will directly admit or discharge any patient receiving home infusion services through its HHA. It will not rely on other licensed HHAs for all patient referrals.

* Information on the process for Home Health TJC accreditation can be found at https://www.tn.gov/hfc/certificate-of-need-information/hfc-toolbox/accreditation-agencies.html and https://www.jointcommission.org/en-us/accreditation/home-care.

10. 4C. Accessibility to Human Resources

What will the clinical supervision structure be for the applicant's home health agency?

Will staff for the project be employed directly or on a contract basis?

Please discuss the geographical distribution of staff for the project currently and how that is projected to expand if approved?

Response : All nurses providing care for Naven's licensed HHA will be direct employees of Naven Health, Inc. Additionally, all nurses will be registered nurses (RNs). These RNs will report directly to a Nurse Manager, of which there will be two for the proposed HHA. These two Nurse Managers will report to a Senior Nurse Manager, who will then report to the Director of Nursing. These positions and their requisite FTEs are listed in response to Question 8Q of Naven's application.

Naven's existing RNs in Tennessee are located across a wide geographic area, and as such have had, and will have, the ability to provide care across the entire state. Specifically, Naven utilizes a geographically distributed nursing model designed to support timely access to care. Nurses are aligned to designated coverage regions based on patient density, referral trends, and geographic proximity, allowing for efficient scheduling and continuity of care while minimizing travel burden and response delays. In higher-volume markets, Naven utilizes dedicated local nursing coverage, while rural and lower-volume areas are supported through a combination of regional nurses and strategically deployed per diem resources to maintain flexibility and responsiveness. To support timely patient care needs, Naven operates through centralized referral coordination and staffing oversight, allowing referrals, scheduling, and urgent patient needs to be monitored in real time. Clinical leadership and staffing teams actively manage daily capacity, prioritize urgent starts of care, and adjust coverage dynamically based on patient acuity, therapy type, and geographic need. This allows Naven to maintain broad statewide reach while continuing to provide responsive, patient-centered care. Naven's nursing response timelines vary based on therapy type, patient urgency, physician orders, and payer authorization requirements; however, most routine referrals are reviewed and coordinated within 24 hours of receipt, with urgent or time-sensitive referrals prioritized for same-day or next-day response whenever clinically appropriate. Current average "Time to Yes" metrics – defined as referral receipt to nurse acceptance and scheduling – are approximately one to two days across the organization, with many Tennessee referrals coordinated more rapidly depending on location and patient need.

As discussed in response to #6 of the Standards and Criteria in Attachment 1N, Naven has the ability to hire additional nursing staff and flex its network of existing nursing staff to full-time status to serve additional patients, as necessary.

11. 6C. Historical/Projected Data Chart

Please explain how bad debt is being calculated if the applicant is only billing other agencies as a contractor.

Response : The costs that Naven tracks bad debt cover rare situations where Naven may not receive full payment from a specialty pharmacy provider. Thus, the projected bad debt in 6C is based on the historical share of Naven's total gross revenue that is accounted for through these occurrences, which, again, are rare. Specifically, it is based on 0.4 percent of the gross revenue for Naven's outpatient services, which is reflected in the table in Question 6C.

12. 8C. Proposed Charges

Please detail the projected average number of hours per visit and visits per patient. How are fees billed, as visits, per hour, by procedure type, etc? What leads to variation in these charges?

Response : As noted in its projections provided in Attachment 6N, Naven provides, on average, six visits per home infusion therapy patient. Although this is a reasonable tool for projecting utilization for its proposed HHA, it is nevertheless an approximation, as the number of visits a home infusion therapy patient needs can vary significantly, from one infusion therapy visit per month to multiple infusion therapy visits per week across multiple weeks. Thus, the complex and specialized nature of home infusion therapy services creates challenges in approximating an "average" visit length. For example, a patient receiving antibiotic home infusion therapy following a serious hospitalization may require daily home infusion therapy following their discharge; these therapies may also take hours to deliver per day. As the patient recovers, however, the cadence of their therapy may change; the patient may eventually only require antibiotic infusions a few days per week, then weekly, then monthly. The length of these home infusions may also vary as the patient regains their health, and their condition can be managed at a reduced level of care.

Similarly, Naven cannot provide an average time or charge for home infusion therapy services, as each visit – and patient – is unique, and requires a case-by-case approach. Naven would note, however, that its fee-for-service charges are based on visit length, with a standard rate for the first two hours, then an hourly rate for every hour thereafter.

13. 9C. Other Facilities Charges

Attachment 9C appears to contain errors with the following:

2025 Infusion Therapy - Other Charge per Visit - Methodist Alliance Homecare - ID 79316 and Accredo Health Group - ID 79456.

Please revise and resubmit Attachment 9C (labeled as Attachment 9CR.)

Response : Because Naven did not include an Attachment 9C with its application, it assumes the question is referencing an error in Attachment 8C. Naven has provided the corrected data in Attachment 8CR.

14. 1N. Criteria and Standards

Attachment 1N. Home Health Criteria and Standards, Criterion #1 Determination of Need

Please utilize the most recent Home Health Need Projections published by the Tennessee Department of Health for the response to this criterion. A copy will be provided via email to the POC for the application.

Response : Please see Attachment 1NR and Attachment 1N-3R for corrected data. Specifically, please see the corrected Table 1N-2R and Table 1N-3R in Attachment 1NR.

15. 1N. Criteria and Standards

Attachment 1N. Home Health Criteria and Standards, Criterion #4 County Need Standard

What are the infusion therapy types driving the 12% annual growth for the applicant? Are there specific regional gaps in existing providers capable of delivering these high demand infusion therapies?

Response : Immunoglobulin (IG) therapy has been the primary driver of Naven's historical growth in home infusion services. IG therapy is among the most resource-intensive infusion therapies to administer. These treatments are typically delivered across multiple sessions, often spanning several hours per visit over the course of multiple weeks. The clinical demands of IG therapy require nurses with specialized training and the scheduling flexibility to manage extended, recurring care episodes. These are precisely the characteristics that distinguish home infusion nursing from general home health services and that have historically made IG therapy difficult for traditional HHAs to absorb into their existing staffing models.

Beyond IG therapy, Naven delivers a broad range of home infusion therapies that also require specialized nursing competencies and sustained care coordination. Thus, effectively administering all infusion therapy types is complex – both clinically and logistically. As a provider exclusively focused on home infusion services, Naven has the clinical resources necessary to navigate these complexities.

Naven's project responds directly to identified unmet need for home infusion services across Tennessee. Based on Naven’s experience, this need is more acute in Tennessee's rural communities where patients requiring IG and other specialized infusion therapies may have limited or no access to a qualified provider capable of delivering care in the home setting. Traditional HHAs operating in these markets frequently lack the specialized nursing staff and care coordination infrastructure that complex infusion therapies demand. By operating as a licensed HHA, Naven will be able to respond directly to referrals from rural physicians, hospitals, and specialty pharmacies without relying on an affiliated partner to hold the license and manage the care relationship. With a statewide proposed service area, the project is sure to expand critical access to infusion services, allowing Naven to serve patients beyond the geographic footprints of its existing specialty pharmacy partners.

16. 1N. Criteria and Standards

Attachment 1N. Home Health Criteria and Standards, Criterion #6 Adequate Staffing

Are the nursing staff hired by the applicant required to maintain any specific credentials related to infusion nursing?

Response : All nurses that will be employed by Naven’s proposed HHA will be licensed registered nurses and are required to have at least one year of experience providing infusion therapy care. Naven does not require its nursing staff to hold any specific certifications, but it does cover the costs of Certified Registered Nurse Infusion certification for nurses who choose to pursue it. This certification, administered by the Infusion Nurses Society, is the only specialty certification for infusion nurses and evidence of a nurse’s knowledge of and commitment to high-quality, evidence-based infusion practices.

17. 1N. Criteria and Standards

Attachment 1N. Home Health Criteria and Standards, Criterion #8 MCOs

Please provide context for the statement that past home health agency CONs have been approved where "the specialty pharmacies are billing payors for the drug and/or the cost of administering the drug rather than for the home health services."

Will the applicant's charges to HHAs vary based on the patient's payor source?

Response : This statement reflects and is consistent with the general reimbursement scheme for home infusion services, particularly when these services are delivered through specialty pharmacies' licensed HHAs. As noted throughout the application, the HFC has approved numerous home infusion projects in recent years, including but not limited to, OPTIV Infusion, LLC (CN2602-006A), Blueberry Health Infusion Nursing (CN2505-019A), and Amerita, Inc. (CN2503-008A). At a high level, infusion services can be broken down into several components: (1) pharmaceuticals and pharmaceutical supplies, (2) durable medical equipment, and (3) nursing, which can occur in a variety of settings, including a patient's home. Generally, payors, including government payors, reimburse pharmacies for pharmaceuticals and pharmaceutical-related supplies. Home health services are not usually covered unless a patient is homebound; therefore, the majority of specialty pharmacies offering home infusion services are receiving reimbursement for the pharmaceuticals and pharmaceutical-related supplies and covering a patient's home infusion services through pharmaceutical-related reimbursement.

Naven's charges will not vary based on the patient's payor source. Again, Naven does not have access to patients' payor information; its specialty pharmacy partners retain this information.

18. 1N. Criteria and Standards

Attachment 1N. Home Health Criteria and Standards, Criterion #12 Data Requirements

How will the applicant handle Joint Annual Report submission to ensure that duplication of reported patients is minimized with the primary reporting HHAs?

Response : Naven will operate as a separately licensed HHA. Any patients that receive care through the Naven HHA will be reported as patients of Naven, and not as patients of any other HHA. As such, no duplication of reported patients will occur.

19. 1N. Criteria and Standards

Attachment 1N. Home Health Criteria and Standards, Criterion #11 Quality Control and Monitoring

What quality improvement data is captured by the applicant currently as a staffing contractor on behalf of HHAs reporting to payors? How is it shared with the applicant's partners? How will the applicant's collection of performance data be altered if the applicant becomes a licensed HHA in Tennessee?

Response : Naven utilizes various quality assurance, risk management, and patient experience metrics to ensure its providers deliver high-quality infusion care. This includes monitoring metrics such as the following for its nursing staff:

- Documentation of Compliance with Lab Draws
- Epinephrine Availability

- Documentation Compliance with Medication Administration
- Total Adverse Events
- Infusion-Related Adverse Event Rate
- Medication Error Rate
- Adverse Drug Reaction Rate
- Supply Event Rate
- Catheter/IV Line Event Rate
- ED Use without Admission Rate
- Hospitalization Rate
- Complaint Event Rate
- Net Promoter Score
- Patient Satisfaction Rating

Naven also has various policies and procedures in place to monitor and ensure the quality of its services, including Naven's Supervision of Clinical Nursing Services policy, its Clinical License Verification Policy, its Competency Assessment policy, its Staff In-Service and Education policy, and its Nursing Orientation, Competency Assessment, and Skills Validation policy. These are included in Attachment 4C as submitted with Naven's initial application.

Naven will use similar metrics to monitor the quality of care at its proposed HHA.

20. 10C. Project Only Payor Mix

It is noted the applicant will not bill payors directly and charge a fee for its services and the specialty pharmacies will bill the partnering specialty pharmacies. Within that billing model, please estimate the percentage of the $1,872,362 gross "fee" revenue projected that will represent Medicare, TennCare, Commercial, and Self-Pay patients.

How is it possible the applicant will be capable to provide infusion services to Medicare and TennCare patients while a majority of existing home infusion home health agencies only serve commercial pay patients?

Why is there no charity care projected especially as noted in Attachment 10.c. by the applicant, "Naven will accept all medically appropriate patients referred from its specialty pharmacy partners, the project is sure to be broadly accessible to Tennessee's most medically vulnerable populations".

Please clarify who will be accredited for infusion home health services for Medicare enrollees, the applicant or the supplier? If the applicant is billing medication pharmacies a "fee" for the nursing component of the infusion therapy service, how will Medicare monitor the applicant for HIT deemed accreditation and quality?

Response : As the question notes, Naven will not bill payors directly for home infusion services. It does not bill payors as a staffing agency, and it also does not intend to bill payors as a licensed HHA. Again, the patients it will serve will come through specialty pharmacies' referrals. As explained in the response to Question #6 above, Naven does not have access to the payor mixes of its partnering pharmacies and does not anticipate gaining access to this information once it is licensed as an HHA. Therefore, Naven is unable to provide the percentage of its gross revenue that will represent Medicare, TennCare, Commercial, and Self-Pay patients.

As noted in the response to Question 3Q, Naven will not seek accreditation for Medicare – like several other previously approved home infusion projects. To the extent one of Naven's specialty pharmacy partners participates in the Medicare Home Infusion Therapy (HIT) benefit, the pharmacy would retain responsibility for complying with applicable accreditation and quality requirements. Naven does, however, comply with terms of its arrangements with specialty pharmacies, which, if applicable, could incorporate requirements a pharmacy must comply with to participate in the HIT program. But, again, the specialty pharmacy would remain responsible for ensuring applicable payor requirements were met. Naven would also note that, for the reasons explained in response to Question #17 above, the lack of HIT certification would not prevent Naven or its specialty pharmacy partners from being able to provide infusion care to all patients, including Medicare and TennCare enrollees.

As stated above, Naven does not have insight into the historical payor mix of its partnering specialty pharmacies. Although many patients in need of home infusion services may be covered by commercial payors, the most recently approved CON proposing the initiation of home infusion services did not reflect this assumption. This CON application was that of OPTIV Infusion, LLC, which projected that only 10 percent of its total gross operating revenue would come from commercial payors.

Regardless, the purpose of Naven's project is to offer broad access to home infusion services for all patients, regardless of payor. And, as stated in the response to Question #5, Naven currently serves and will continue to serve a diverse patient population with wide-ranging demographic characteristics. The clinical infusion experience of its registered nurses differentiates Naven from other home infusion projects, and it is imperative that Naven have the opportunity to serve all patients, including Medicare and TennCare patients. For these same reasons, Naven noted in its application that it would accept all medically appropriate patients. This position is not altered by Naven's charity care projections, which are explained in detail throughout the application and in response to Question #6 above. Again, Naven is aware of and fully supports the charity care programs of its specialty pharmacy partners.

21. 3Q. Accreditation/Certification/Licensure Plans

Please clarify if the proposed accreditation by The Joint Commission is specific to infusion therapy. If so, please listed that type of accreditation.

Response : Naven will seek "home care" accreditation through TJC for the proposed project. This accreditation category includes the provision of home infusion services.

22. 8Q. Staffing

There is no physician listed in the staffing chart. Please explain.

Response : The supervising physician for any patient treated through Naven's proposed HHA will be the physician who orders a patient's home infusion medication. As such, no physician is listed in the staffing chart for Question 8Q. This is also consistent with the staffing charts provided in several recently approved CON applications for HHAs limited to providing home infusion services, including those of OPTIV Infusion, LLC; River City Infusion, LLC; and Amerita, Inc.

Naven's staffing agency does currently employ a Chief Medical Officer who, as a Medical Doctor, oversees the development of policies and procedures related to the provision of home infusion care and is available to provide clinical guidance as necessary. This Chief Medical Officer will also be able to provide such guidance for the services offered through the proposed HHA.

Re: Support for Certificate of Need Application – Naven Health, Inc.

Dear Mr. Grant:

On behalf of Option Care Health, I am writing to express our strong support for the Certificate of Need application submitted by Naven Health to establish a home health agency delivering home infusion services across Tennessee.

Option Care is an experienced leader in delivering a wide range of high-quality infusion therapy treatments and support services to patients nationwide, including in Tennessee. Through extensive partnerships with health systems and payors, we are committed to ensuring that patients have access to critical infusion therapies, including biologics, anti-infectives, parenteral nutrition, and intravenous immunoglobulin medications, in the home and infusion suite settings. This is not possible without specialized infusion nursing support, like that Naven provides.

As a wholly owned subsidiary nursing network of Option Care, Naven is well-equipped with both the clinical resources and expertise needed to expand Tennessee patients' access to home infusion care. Today, Naven already provides home infusion services to patients of Option Care's licensed home health agencies in Tennessee and other states. With its own home health license, Naven can better serve Option Care patients but also patients of specialty pharmacies nationwide who continue to face challenges in securing the nursing support necessary to offer home infusion care.

For patients suffering from acute and chronic medical conditions requiring infusion therapy, timely nursing care improves health outcomes, facilitates consistent treatment regimens, and avoids delayed hospital discharges and hospital readmissions. Approving Naven's project is certain to fulfill a need for healthcare providers and patients, enabling patients to receive higher quality infusion care in the home setting.

For these reasons, Option Care strongly supports approval of Naven's Certificate of Need application. The project will enhance patient access, improve care coordination, and strengthen the ability of infusion providers to safely serve patients throughout Tennessee.

Thank you for your consideration of this important project.

Sincerely,

Sharon Ingros

Re: Support for Certificate of Need Application – Naven Health, Home Health Agency

Dear Mr. Grant:

On behalf of Coram Alternate Site Services, Inc. DBA" Coram" I am writing to express our strong support for the Certificate of Need application submitted by Naven Health to establish a Tennessee-licensed home health agency dedicated to supporting home infusion patients.

Coram is a pharmacy provider that dispenses and manages home infusion therapies for patients across Tennessee. Our patients often require complex medications administered in the home setting, including biologics, anti-infectives, parenteral nutrition, and other therapies that depend on timely, skilled nursing services for safe initiation, monitoring, and patient education.

In practice, one of the most significant challenges we face is securing reliable nursing support for home infusion patients through traditional home health agencies. Understandably, many home health agencies prioritize higher-volume, episodic home health services and are not structured to support the on-demand, therapy-specific nursing visits required for infusion therapy. As a result, pharmacies and patients often experience delays in care initiation, difficulty locating nurses with appropriate infusion experience, and inconsistent availability of services across different regions of the state.

These challenges can directly affect patient access and continuity of care. For patients who are medically appropriate for home infusion, delays in securing nursing support may result in extended hospital stays, delayed discharges, or interruptions in therapy, all of which increase healthcare costs and create unnecessary burdens for patients and families.

Approval of this project would help address these issues by allowing Naven Health to operate a Tennessee-licensed home health agency specifically designed to support home infusion providers and their patients. Naven Health already supports pharmacies in Tennessee that hold their own home health licenses, and it has an established track record of providing nursing support to infusion providers across the country. This experience demonstrates both operational readiness and a clear understanding of the specialized clinical and logistical needs of home infusion therapy.

From our perspective as a pharmacy provider, the proposed project creates several important consumer advantages. First, it improves patient access to home-based infusion services, enabling patients to receive medically necessary therapies in the comfort of their homes rather than institutional settings or outpatient infusion settings. Second, it enhances timeliness and continuity of care by creating a nursing partner that is specifically focused on infusion therapy rather than episodic home health visits. Third, it supports quality and patient safety as nurses experienced in infusion therapy are essential for proper catheter care, medication administration, adverse reaction monitoring, and patient and caregiver education.

We also believe this project will improve coordination of care among pharmacies, physicians, and nursing providers. A home health agency dedicated to infusion services is better positioned to communicate with pharmacy clinical teams, implement timely therapy changes, and ensure patients receive appropriate clinical oversight throughout the course of treatment.

In our view, Naven Health's proposed project responds to a clear need in Tennessee's healthcare delivery system. Pharmacies that provide home infusion services depend on timely access to skilled nurses, yet traditional home health agencies do not consistently meet this need. Establishing a home health agency focused on infusion patients will help fill this gap, while supporting safe, high-quality care in the home setting.

For these reasons, Coram strongly supports approval of Naven Health's Certificate of Need application. We believe the project will enhance patient access, improve care coordination, and strengthen the ability of infusion providers to safely serve patients throughout Tennessee.

Thank you for your consideration of this important project.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Smith

Re: Letter of Support – Naven Health
Certificate of Need Application for In-Home Infusion Staffing Services

January 29, 2026

Dear Members of the TN Health Services and Development Agency,

On behalf of PurposeMed, Inc., I write in strong support of Naven Health's application for a Certificate of Need to provide in-home infusion and skilled nurse staffing services in Tennessee. Our organization identifies a specific, underserved patient population in Tennessee that currently faces barriers to accessing long-acting injectable PrEP, which Naven Health is uniquely positioned to address.

PurposeMed, through our branded service freddie™, has enabled over 40,000 patients access to PrEP across Canada and the United States. Our work addresses a critical gap in healthcare equity. According to KFF's 2023 Racism, Discrimination, and Health Survey, 39% of LGBTQ2S+ adults report negative healthcare experiences in the past three years that discouraged them from seeking future care—compared to just 15% of non-LGBTQ2S+ adults.PurposeMed was founded specifically to dismantle these barriers.

Based on our internal market analysis, we anticipate a significant demand for in-home administration services within our Tennessee patient base. Injectable PrEP requires administration by qualified healthcare providers, and Naven Health has proven to be a competent partner in delivering these services across multiple states, demonstrating professionalism, clinical excellence, and cultural competence. Approval of this Certificate of Need will directly expand access to high-quality, patient-centred injection services for Tennessee residents who need them most.

While PurposeMed maintains its autonomy to partner with various providers to ensure patient choice, our past collaboration with Naven Health suggests that Naven Health's licensure in Tennessee would enable a more efficient, patient-centred delivery model. We believe Naven Health's entry into the market will reduce the burden on existing brick-and-mortar clinics and improve the overall economic feasibility of the state's healthcare infrastructure by providing specialized, at-home care.

For these reasons, PurposeMed strongly endorses Naven Health's application. Their presence as a licensed Home Health Agency is expected to enhance health outcomes for underserved populations and strengthen Tennessee's healthcare delivery system without creating an unnecessary duplication of services.

Please contact me if you require additional information.

Sincerely,

Type of Employee by Service

Please indicate the number of personnel as of June 30 (or the last day of the reporting period). Do not include a type of employee for which you do not provide that type of service. For Example, do not include Physical Therapists unless you provide Physical Therapy services. Record zero where appropriate. Leave the item blank if the value is unknown. Full Time Equivalent (FTE) = Number of hours worked by part-time employees per week/40 hours per week. For example, three Registered nurses, each working 20 hours a week, the FTE would be (3x20)/40=1.5. For the purposes of this calculation, if your agency reimburses employees per visit rather than per hour worked, one visit equals one hour in FTE.

STANDARD OPERATING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
naven health infusion nursing	Anaphylaxis Treatment and Management	NH-PC-036 Effective Date: 02/06/2026 Version: 3 Last Revision Date: NEW Approved By: Sarah Allen, Sr. ADON

PURPOSE:

To provide guidelines for identifying, monitoring, treating, and reporting anaphylaxis reactions. This policy includes information regarding issues that must be taken into consideration when assessing patients that may require readiness to treat anaphylaxis. There are certain comorbidities and drug interactions that, if present, could influence the decision to accept the patient for a first dose in the home setting.

RELATED DOCUMENTS:

NH-PC-030 First Dose Administration

POLICY:

Patients will be assessed prior to the start of care and based on therapies to be administered, appropriate pre-medications will be ordered by the prescriber and dispensed. Life threatening medical emergencies resulting from the prescribed therapy will be treated per the prescriber's orders.

Failure to comply with this Policy may result in disciplinary actions up to and including termination of employment.

PROCEDURE:

1. Please refer to NH-PC-030 First Dose Administration for first dose administration of a new medication and the requirements for anaphylaxis kit prescribing and dispensing at the initiation of therapy. Nursing team members will follow prescriber's orders to treat anaphylactic and adverse drug reactions.
2. During the initial patient visit, the Nurse will educate the patient on procedures to follow in case of medical emergency:
    a. The patient and/or caregiver shall be instructed to call 911 in case of medical emergency or signs of an anaphylactic reaction.
    b. If indicated, the patient and/or caregiver will be instructed on the use and administration of epinephrine or other prescribed medications to treat an adverse drug reaction or anaphylaxis.
3. Indications that your patient may be experiencing an anaphylactic response or adverse drug reaction:
    a. Cutaneous reactions. Flushing, pruritus (especially of the hands, feet, and groin) erythema, urticaria, hives and angioedema. Pruritus and congestion involving the mucous membranes of the eyes, nose and mouth can occur. These symptoms may also be precursors of a more severe reaction

b. Gastrointestinal reactions. Nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal cramping and increased mucous secretions.

c. Respiratory reactions. Uvular edema, hoarseness, dyspnea, tightness in the chest, wheezing, stridor, and acute bronchospasm.

d. Cardiovascular reactions. Dysrhythmias, tachycardia, hypotension, ischemia with chest pain and circulatory collapse.

4. Epinephrine/Adrenaline

a. For severe allergic or anaphylactic reactions such as wheezing, difficulty in breathing, angioedema, or swelling of the eye lids, lips or throat while receiving an infusion and the RN is present:

i. Epinephrine will be administered per prescriber order.

ii. Immediately stop the infusion and completely remove the source of the medication, while maintaining IV access, DO NOT FLUSH the remaining medication from any IV extender tubing once disconnected from the infusion, if necessary, withdrawal any remaining medication and flush with the saline that will be hung for the treatment of the anaphylaxis.

iii. Contact or have the caregiver call 911.

iv. The RN will administer epinephrine or auto-injector per treatment guidelines. the dose may be repeated according to prescriber order.

v. The preferred route of administration for epinephrine during an anaphylactic reaction is intramuscular injection. The anterolateral aspect of the thigh is the recommended injection site. The epinephrine can be administered subcutaneously if intramuscular injection is not possible.

b. For severe allergic or anaphylactic reactions such as wheezing, difficulty in breathing, angioedema, or swelling of the eye lids, lips or throat while receiving an infusion and the RN is not present:

i. The patient and/or caregiver will call 911.

ii. The patient or caregiver will administer epinephrine via Auto-Injector or vial/ampule per treatment guidelines. If a patient requires another dose and emergency medical services have not arrived, the dose may be repeated.

5. Diphenhydramine/Benadryl

a. Administer diphenhydramine per prescriber's orders.

6. Actions after Medications Administered

a. Monitor and document patient's vital signs, including mental status. If hypotensive, place the patient in supine position with lower extremities elevated or in Trendelenburg position to maximize perfusion to vital organs. If breathing difficulty, tilt the patient's head or thrust jaw to relieve airway obstruction. Confirm that emergency medical services have been activated.

 ©2025 Naven Health. All rights reserved.

b. Maintain IV line with sodium chloride 0.9%, if ordered, to keep the line open until the arrival of a paramedic or ambulance.

c. If the patient is stable to do so, notify the patient's prescriber of the adverse event and remain with the patient until the arrival of emergency medical services.

d. Until the arrival of emergency medical services, monitor and document vital signs every 2 minutes until stable, then every 15 minutes as needed.

e. If the patient is not transported for additional emergency care, instruct a family member or a caregiver to monitor the patient for 8 to 12 hours after the onset of the episode as some patients experience a recurrence (biphasic anaphylaxis), also known as a 'rebound anaphylaxis' and instruct the caregiver to call 911 should there be any recurrence of symptoms, difficulty breathing or changes in mentation.

f. Document the occurrence and actions in a progress note and complete an event in event management system.

Project Name : Naven Health, Inc.

Supplemental Round Name : 2 Due Date : 5/14/2026
Certificate No. : CN2604-009 Submitted Date : 5/11/2026

1. 1E. Overview

Is the applicant going to continue operations as a nurse staffing agency if approved?

Which, if any, entity will be billing the patients and payor sources for the home infusion nursing services provided by the applicant's HHA given the applicant's indirect fee-based model? Are home infusion nursing services not reimbursed by commercial payors or Medicare Advantage? Is the specialty pharmacy referring each patient to home infusion services able to bill any payor sources for the cost of infusion nursing care? Which payor sources, commercial or governmental cover the cost of infusion nursing care?

If infusion nursing service are eligible for reimbursement through certain payors, why is the applicant not billing them directly for the scope of its services as a home health agency?

Response : If Naven's proposed project is approved, the majority of its patients will be served through its HHA. All home infusion services will be provided via Naven's licensed HHA, and, as detailed in Naven's Supplemental Round 1 responses, will be reported to the HFC accordingly. When operating outside patients' homes, Naven will retain the ability to operate as a nurse staffing agency, such as when Naven partners with specialty pharmacies to staff their ambulatory infusion centers. Naven currently has the staffing resources necessary to offer these services and, if needed, can recruit and hire additional nursing FTEs.

The specialty pharmacies that Naven partners with will bill patients and payors for home infusion nursing services as permitted under applicable billing guidance. Again, Naven's specialty pharmacy partners, both currently and if the proposed project is approved, manage relationships with payors and are responsible for billing payors. Thus, the specialty pharmacies have more direct knowledge and experience with home infusion nursing reimbursement, including understanding the specific terms of their payor agreements. Generally, it is Naven's understanding that each payor reimburses for the various components of infusion therapy, including nursing services, according to its pharmaceutical agreement with the specialty pharmacy. In many cases, however, payors will not reimburse directly for nursing services.

As stated throughout Naven's application and supplemental responses, Naven does not have information on the payor mixes of its specialty pharmacy partners or access to their payor agreements. As such, Naven does not know the specific components of home infusion nursing care that each payor reimburses. In Question #20 of the first round of supplemental questions, the HFC stated that "the majority of existing home infusion home health agencies only serve commercial pay patients," suggesting that commercial payors are more likely to reimburse for home infusion care than governmental payors. This aligns with Naven's understanding that the Medicare Home Infusion Therapy ("HIT") certification only applies to a very limited number of higher acuity medications – medications that will not represent the majority of Naven's anticipated home infusion volume. For example, according to recent CMS HIT program guidance,* there are 34 highly specialized drugs that may be eligible to have home infusion nursing covered under the Medicare Part B HIT benefit. As shown on page six of that guidance, nearly 70 percent of all HIT service visits were linked to only three drugs, one of which is a Category 3 chemotherapy medication that Naven will not administer through the proposed HHA, and another of which is a Category 1 inotrope, a type of therapy that will comprise a small share of the services that will be provided by Naven's HHA, as discussed in the response to Question #5 of Naven's first round of supplemental responses.

For the reasons stated throughout Naven's CON application and supplemental responses to date, even if payors reimburse for infusion nursing services, billing payors directly is not and will not be Naven's business model. Naven is seeking a home health license to enhance its current business model, better serve its specialty pharmacy partners, and, most importantly, fulfill an identified patient need.

*See https://www.cms.gov/files/document/hit-monitoring-report-feb-2026.pdf, which represents the most recent Medicare HIT documentation available.

2. 2N. Service Area

Since the applicant's projections are based on existing nurse staffing services, are these services projected to continue at the same level, or will the applicant's direct admission patients replace that base of patients who were previously served under the contracted staffing model?

Response : As stated in response to Question #1 above, Naven anticipates that the majority of its future Tennessee patients will be patients served under its HHA license. As such, these patients will "replace" Naven's historical patient base from an operational reporting perspective. This is consistent with the assumptions and projected patient utilization data provided in Attachment 6N of Naven's application.

3. 5N. Unimplemented services

Please list visits and hours in 2025 for Amedisys Home Health Care (Madison) ID 57075.

Response : According to the 2025 JAR for Home Health Agencies, Amedisys Home Health Care recorded 51,785 total visits and 20,358 visits for "Infusion Therapy – Pain Management," specifically. No hours are listed alongside these visits. Because Amedisys does not exclusively provide specialty infusion services – like Naven does – Naven does not view Amedisys as a "similar healthcare provider" under 5N. Regardless, the proposed project is unlikely to affect Amedisys's current or future infusion therapy visits.

4. 8C. Proposed Charges

How many hours is the average per visit charge $827.38 based on?

Response : The average charge per visit charge noted above corresponds to a home infusion therapy visit approximately four hours in length. However, as noted in response to Question #12 of Naven's first round of supplemental responses, the length and complexity of home infusion services can vary significantly, which affects the charges for those services. The figure above is an aggregate of charges across all of Naven's possible home infusion therapy patients. As explained in response to Question #12 of Naven's first round supplemental responses, Naven's fee-for-service charges are based on visit length, with a standard rate for the first two hours, then an hourly rate for every hour thereafter.

5. 1N. Criteria and Standards

Attachment 1N. Home Health Criteria and Standards, Criterion #8 MCOs

Please explain whether any of the infusion nursing costs are being reimbursed through commercial or governmental payor sources or whether the applicant is stating that no nursing costs are ever being reimbursed for home infusion and all costs are simply absorbed under the reimbursement the pharmacy receives?

It appears that many home infusion nursing visits and hours reported under commercial payors in the JAR? Are they not billing and being reimbursed for nursing care provided to patients?

Response : As explained in more detail in the response to Question #1 above, commercial and governmental payors vary in their coverage of infusion nursing costs. Generally, home infusion services are covered through the pharmaceutical-related reimbursement that the specialty pharmacy receives from a payor – commercial or governmental.

In Question #20 of the first-round supplemental questions, the HFC noted that "the majority of existing home infusion home health agencies only serve commercial pay patients." Although Naven has no direct knowledge of how these HHAs are billing and being reimbursed for nursing care provided to patients, based on its experience in the infusion industry, Naven assumes these agencies are billing and being reimbursed for home infusion nursing services as outlined above and in response to Question #1.

Re: Support for Certificate of Need Application – Naven Health, Home Health Agency

Dear Mr. Grant:

On behalf of Coram Alternate Site Services, Inc. DBA" Coram" I am writing to express our strong support for the Certificate of Need application submitted by Naven Health to establish a Tennessee-licensed home health agency dedicated to supporting home infusion patients.

Coram is a pharmacy provider that dispenses and manages home infusion therapies for patients across Tennessee. Our patients often require complex medications administered in the home setting, including biologics, anti-infectives, parenteral nutrition, and other therapies that depend on timely, skilled nursing services for safe initiation, monitoring, and patient education.

In practice, one of the most significant challenges we face is securing reliable nursing support for home infusion patients through traditional home health agencies. Understandably, many home health agencies prioritize higher-volume, episodic home health services and are not structured to support the on-demand, therapy-specific nursing visits required for infusion therapy. As a result, pharmacies and patients often experience delays in care initiation, difficulty locating nurses with appropriate infusion experience, and inconsistent availability of services across different regions of the state.

These challenges can directly affect patient access and continuity of care. For patients who are medically appropriate for home infusion, delays in securing nursing support may result in extended hospital stays, delayed discharges, or interruptions in therapy, all of which increase healthcare costs and create unnecessary burdens for patients and families.

Approval of this project would help address these issues by allowing Naven Health to operate a Tennessee-licensed home health agency specifically designed to support home infusion providers and their patients. Naven Health already supports pharmacies in Tennessee that hold their own home health licenses, and it has an established track record of providing nursing support to infusion providers across the country. This experience demonstrates both operational readiness and a clear understanding of the specialized clinical and logistical needs of home infusion therapy.

From our perspective as a pharmacy provider, the proposed project creates several important consumer advantages. First, it improves patient access to home-based infusion services, enabling patients to receive medically necessary therapies in the comfort of their homes rather than institutional settings or outpatient infusion settings. Second, it enhances timeliness and continuity of care by creating a nursing partner that is specifically focused on infusion therapy rather than episodic home health visits. Third, it supports quality and patient safety as nurses experienced in infusion therapy are essential for proper catheter care, medication administration, adverse reaction monitoring, and patient and caregiver education.

We also believe this project will improve coordination of care among pharmacies, physicians, and nursing providers. A home health agency dedicated to infusion services is better positioned to communicate with pharmacy clinical teams, implement timely therapy changes, and ensure patients receive appropriate clinical oversight throughout the course of treatment.

In our view, Naven Health's proposed project responds to a clear need in Tennessee's healthcare delivery system. Pharmacies that provide home infusion services depend on timely access to skilled nurses, yet traditional home health agencies do not consistently meet this need. Establishing a home health agency focused on infusion patients will help fill this gap, while supporting safe, high-quality care in the home setting.

For these reasons, Coram strongly supports approval of Naven Health's Certificate of Need application. We believe the project will enhance patient access, improve care coordination, and strengthen the ability of infusion providers to safely serve patients throughout Tennessee.

Thank you for your consideration of this important project.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Smith

Re: Letter of Support – Naven Health
Certificate of Need Application for In-Home Infusion Staffing Services

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing on behalf of Cardinal Health Sonexus ™ Access and Patient Support, where we deliver programs and pharmacy operations services to pharmaceutical manufacturers to streamline patient onboarding and increase adherence to prescribed care. This letter is submitted in support of Naven Health and its application for a Certificate of Need to provide in-home infusion nursing staffing services in the State of Tennessee.

Today, Cardinal Health Sonexus ™ Access and Patient Support partners with Naven Health to deliver services to pharmaceutical manufacturers who seek to offer self-administration training for specialty medications to their patients. The ability to deliver this training effectively is dependent on access to qualified, reliable, and clinically competent nursing partners who have experience with a broad range of specialty medications and can provide in-home services in compliance with state and federal regulations.

Based on our evaluation and experience with Naven Health, we believe they are well positioned to meet the clinical, operational, and compliance standards required to safely support specialty infusion patients. The availability of their services would directly benefit patients in Tennessee by expanding access to high-quality home infusion nursing care, particularly for those with complex clinical needs.

For these reasons, Cardinal Health Sonexus ™ Access and Patient Support supports Naven Health's Certificate of Need application and believes its services will be a valuable addition to Tennessee's healthcare delivery system.

Sincerely,

Brittany Kim

Re: Letter of Support – Naven Health
Certificate of Need Application for In-Home Infusion Staffing Services

January 29, 2026

Dear Members of the TN Health Services and Development Agency,

On behalf of PurposeMed, Inc., I write in strong support of Naven Health's application for a Certificate of Need to provide in-home infusion and skilled nurse staffing services in Tennessee. Our organization identifies a specific, underserved patient population in Tennessee that currently faces barriers to accessing long-acting injectable PrEP, which Naven Health is uniquely positioned to address.

PurposeMed, through our branded service freddie™, has enabled over 40,000 patients access to PrEP across Canada and the United States. Our work addresses a critical gap in healthcare equity. According to KFF's 2023 Racism, Discrimination, and Health Survey, 39% of LGBTQ2S+ adults report negative healthcare experiences in the past three years that discouraged them from seeking future care—compared to just 15% of non-LGBTQ2S+ adults.PurposeMed was founded specifically to dismantle these barriers.

Based on our internal market analysis, we anticipate a significant demand for in-home administration services within our Tennessee patient base. Injectable PrEP requires administration by qualified healthcare providers, and Naven Health has proven to be a competent partner in delivering these services across multiple states, demonstrating professionalism, clinical excellence, and cultural competence. Approval of this Certificate of Need will directly expand access to high-quality, patient-centred injection services for Tennessee residents who need them most.

While PurposeMed maintains its autonomy to partner with various providers to ensure patient choice, our past collaboration with Naven Health suggests that Naven Health's licensure in Tennessee would enable a more efficient, patient-centred delivery model. We believe Naven Health's entry into the market will reduce the burden on existing brick-and-mortar clinics and improve the overall economic feasibility of the state's healthcare infrastructure by providing specialized, at-home care.

For these reasons, PurposeMed strongly endorses Naven Health's application. Their presence as a licensed Home Health Agency is expected to enhance health outcomes for underserved populations and strengthen Tennessee's healthcare delivery system without creating an unnecessary duplication of services.

Please contact me if you require additional information.

Sincerely,

Caley Shukalek (Jan 29, 2026 16:19:26 MST)

Management will be responsible for determining where and when professional registration is necessary and will select the team members to become registered. If a team member is required to register at the Company's direction, the cost will be paid by the Company. Team members selected will make arrangements to obtain, complete and submit all the necessary registration forms and must submit any costs for reimbursement.

Recertification Expenses

Team members who maintain the above certifications through continuing education credits may submit recertification expenses for reimbursement.

Performance Evaluation

Full-time and part-time team members will receive Performance Evaluations and development counseling by their supervisor on a bi-annual basis. Per diem team members will receive Performance Evaluations and development counseling annually.

The purpose of the Performance Evaluation is to provide the Company, the team member's manager, and the team member with meaningful information about the team member's work. The process allows for making decisions regarding training, compensation, promotion, assignments, retention, and long-range planning.

Each year, it is the supervisor's responsibility to evaluate the team member's performance. The supervisor should:

1. Establish performance plans and goals and provide on-going feedback throughout the year to avoid surprises at the annual evaluation.
2. Conduct a formal, scheduled, and engaging feedback and coaching session.
3. Document the performance discussion through the Workday process.

The performance evaluation is intended to:

1. Assess performance over the review period
2. Review accomplishment of goals
3. Set future objectives and goals

Team members are generally allowed to respond to the Performance Evaluation and may do so in the Workday performance management process. A team member who is in violation of Company rules, policies and/or procedures, or has a performance problem requiring corrective action, may be subject to disciplinary action.

A positive performance review does not guarantee a salary increase or a promotion. These decisions are made at the discretion of the Company and depend on several factors in addition to a team member's individual performance.

We reserve the right to make any personnel changes (including termination) before or after performance evaluations.

Attachment 10C: Description of Payor Table

As discussed in response to Question 8C as well as the response to #8 in the Standards and Criteria included as Attachment 1N, Naven does not directly bill payors for its services. Rather, Naven charges its partnering specialty pharmacies a fee for its services and the specialty pharmacies bill the appropriate payors, including various state and federal revenue programs. The specialty pharmacies, as in past home infusion projects the HFC has approved, typically bill payors for the costs of administering the infusion medications and not directly for home health services.

Although Naven does not and will not contract directly with Medicare, TennCare/Medicaid, or other state and federal payor programs, the proposed project will serve patients covered under these programs via Naven's arrangements with its specialty pharmacy partners. The foundation of Naven's service and staffing model is, and will remain, partnering with specialty pharmacies to provide infusion nursing care. These specialty pharmacies maintain existing contracts with Medicare, TennCare/Medicaid managed care organizations, and other programs serving medically indigent patients. As a result, Naven anticipates serving a patient population that reflects the payor mixes of its specialty pharmacy partners — including Medicare beneficiaries, TennCare/Medicaid enrollees, and medically indigent patients who might otherwise face significant barriers to accessing specialty infusion services.

Naven will provide home infusion nursing and care services to any patient referred by a contracting specialty pharmacy, regardless of that patient's payor status or coverage source. In line with this, Naven is aware that many of its specialty pharmacy partners provide charity care for their patients. Indeed, 2025 JAR for Home Health Agencies data support that its partnering specialty pharmacies do so. Because Naven will accept all medically appropriate patients referred from its specialty pharmacy partners, the project is sure to be broadly accessible to Tennessee's most medically vulnerable populations.

Finally, because Naven's revenue is generated through its contractual arrangements with specialty pharmacies rather than through direct payor billing, gross operating revenue by payor classification is not directly determinable at the project level. However, to the extent that payor classification data is available through Naven's pharmacy partners, Naven is committed to ensuring that the benefits of the proposed project extend equitably to Medicare, TennCare/Medicaid, and medically indigent patients throughout the entire 95-county service area.

Project Name : Naven Health, Inc.

Supplemental Round Name : 3

Certificate No. : CN2604-009

1. 1E. Overview

Please clarify if the specialty infusion pharmacy holds the primary responsibility for the bundled payment of the infusion (drugs, supplies, and professional services} and the applicant will be contracted for nursing services with a direct payment. If so, does this structure apply for all payors including Medicare/Medicaid?

Response : Yes, Naven's specialty pharmacy partners hold primary responsibility for seeking and receiving reimbursement from all payors. Naven will charge its specialty pharmacy partners a fee for its nursing services. This structure does not vary by payor. Please see Attachment 10C, included with Naven's application, for a more detailed explanation of Naven's arrangement with its specialty pharmacy partners.

2. 5C. License/Certification

It is noted the applicant contracts with over 30 existing specialty pharmacies to provide comprehensive infusion services. Please clarify if the applicant has registered as a temporary health care staffing agency with the Health Facilities Commission. The HFC Temporary Health Care staffing Agency link is located at https://www.tn.gov/hfc/temporary-healthcare-staffing-registry.html

Response : Naven has not registered as a temporary health care staffing agency as this registration does not apply to Naven's services. For several reasons, Naven does not meet the definition of a "temporary healthcare staffing agency" under Tennessee law, including that it does not provide staffing services to nursing homes or assisted care living facilities.
