PETITION TO TERMINATE CEMETERY

NOW COMES Petitioners, TNHomesites.com (“Petitioners”/“TNHomesites”) and pursuant to Tenn. Code Ann. §46-4-101, et seq., file this Petition seeking a court order declaring a burial ground to be abandoned and to terminate the use of, and all rights and easements to use, the ground as a burial ground, and all rights and easements and easements incident or appurtenant to the ground as a burial ground, and further, to remove the remains of those buried therein and reinter them in a more suitable repository to be obtained for that purpose before their removal from the burial ground. As grounds for this Petition, Petitioners would state and show unto the Court as follows:

I. PARTIES AND JURISDICTION

1. TNHomesites is a General Partnership, with partners being Robert R. Horton and Stanley Fields, located at 147 Maple Row, Suite 100, Hendersonville, Tennessee 37075.

2. TNHomesites owns certain real property located at 1919 Long Hollow Pike, Gallatin, Tennessee 37066 (hereinafter "Property"). A copy of Petitioner's Warranty Deed is attached hereto as Exhibit C.
3. The Property contains an abandoned gravesite that has been left in neglected condition. The cemetery contains one headstone that is indiscernible as to render it unmarked. A photo of the headstone is attached herein as Exhibit D.
4. TNHomesites's planned future use of the property is inconsistent with the due and proper reverence for the memory of the persons buried there.
5. Pursuant to T.C.A. §46-4-103(b), necessary respondents in this proceeding are all interested persons who are not complainants. As defined in T.C.A. §46-4-102, "Interested Persons" is defined as follows:

any and all persons who have any right or easement or other right in, or incident or appurtenant to, a burial ground as such, including the surviving spouse and children, or if no surviving spouse or children, the nearest relative or relatives by consanguinity of any one (1) or more deceased persons whose remains are buried in any burial ground.

After a reasonable inquiry, Petitioner affirms that no other potential surviving relatives of the decedents buried within the cemetery, other than potential descendants Clyde Randall Krech, Jr. and Joseph Walton Douglass, Jr. have been identified.

6. T.C.A. §46-4-103(b) states, in part, that: "Nonresident and unknown defendants may be proceeded against by order of publication, and publication, in the manner provided by law." T.C.A. §21-1-204(b) states: "The clerk shall forthwith cause a copy of this order to be published for four (4) consecutive weeks in the newspaper mentioned in the order or designated by the general rules of the court." Accordingly, Petitioners request that the Court cause notice to be made to all unknown Interested Persons by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in Sumner County, Tennessee, for four (4) consecutive weeks.

7. Jurisdiction and venue are proper in this Court pursuant to T.C.A. §46-4-103(a).

II. FACTS

1. Petitioner purchased real property, with the cemetery located thereon, in 2018 with the intent to develop the Property.
2. Petitioner asserts that since acquiring the Property, no one has performed upkeep on the cemetery and it has been in an abandoned state since purchasing the Property.
3. Petitioner contacted Cultural Resource Analysts, Inc. ("CRA") to conduct historical and genealogical research on the cemetery Property.
4. CRA conducted a review of deed records, census records, historic maps, and tax records, as well as completing genealogical research in an attempt to identify a living descendant. A copy of the memo outlining the genealogical research is attached herein as Exhibit E.
5. Through these sources, a list of known addresses for potential descendants was compiled and provided in the genealogical research memo. The list of addresses for potential descendants is attached herein as Exhibit F.
6. Prior to filing this action, Petitioner sent notification letters to the potential descendants' addresses listed in Exhibit F to alert them of Petitioner's intentions to terminate the cemetery at issue. Copies of the notification letters sent to the potential descendants are attached herein as Exhibit G.
7. Petitioner received a response confirming the person, Clyde Randall Krech, Jr., is a descendant of Rufus Smith. However, Mr. Krech informed Petitioner that his wife does genealogy work and that Mr. Krech and his wife know that Rufus Smith and Rufus Smith's family are buried in the Gallatin City cemetery in Tennessee. Mr. Krech also informed Petitioner that Mr. Krech's parents are buried in Smith County, Tennessee. Mr. Krech has given Petitioner authorization to move forward with this Petition. Mr. Krech's response to Petitioner's notification letter is attached herein as Exhibit H.

8. Petitioner did not receive a response from any other potential descendant, including Joseph Walton Douglass, Jr.
9. It is Petitioners belief that there are no potential closer living relatives of any persons buried in the cemetery located on Petitioner's Property.
10. Petitioner has arranged for the disinterment and reinterment of the persons buried in the abandoned Cemetery to be conducted by Crestview Funeral Home, Memory Gardens & Cremation Center, with the final resting place of the persons buried therein at the Gallatin City Cemetery located at 250 Cemetery Ave, Gallatin, Tennessee 37066. A copy of the funeral home contract signed by Randy Nash, Crestview Funeral Home's general manager and a Tennessee licensed funeral director and embalmer, is attached herein as Exhibit I.

WHEREFORE, Petitioners respectfully request that the Court:

1. In accordance with T.C.A. §§ 21-1-204 and 46-4-103, enter an Order authorizing notice to all unknown Interested Persons by publication in Gallatin News, which is Gallatin's local newspaper and one of general circulation in Sumner County, Tennessee, for four (4) consecutive weeks (publication language provided herein as Exhibit J);
2. In accordance with T.C.A. §§ 46-4-101 and 46-4-104, enter an Order finding that the Property is unsuitable as a resting place for the decedents because: (1) the cemetery is abandoned; (2) the cemetery is in an abandoned and neglected condition; (3) the conditions and activities about or near the cemetery are inconsistent with the due and proper reverence for the memory of the dead; and (4) possible development of the Property in the future is inconsistent with the proper respect and reverence due to the memory of the deceased.

3. In accordance with T.C.A. § 46-4-104, enter an Order approving the reinterment of the remains with due care and decency and an appropriate memorial at the reinterment site; and
4. For such further and general relief as may be appropriate.

Respectfully submitted,

On behalf of TNHomesites.com, Mr. Mike Stanton contracted Cultural Resource Analysts, Inc. (CRA) to conduct deed and genealogy research for a historic cemetery that is located on property where plans call for development in Sumner County, TN. A review of current aerial photography as well as photographs of the area indicates that the cemetery has been abandoned and is not maintained by any family descendants. The cemetery appears to not contain a fence or barrier around its perimeter and only one visible headstone is present. CRA has not visited the project area and has not conducted any fieldwork on this project to date. Mr. Stanton has retained TUNE, ENTREKIN & WHITE, P.C. as legal counsel.

CRA was tasked with conducting a review of deed records, census records, historic maps, and tax records, as well as completing genealogical research in an attempt to identify a living descendent.

Deed Research

The earliest known landowner associated with the Newman Property is R.E. Douglass. It is unknown when he first acquired the property, but it is likely that he resided on the property until he sold 315 acres to Rufus Smith in 1883. In the deed it is noted that a 1-acre tract with a stone house on it was to remain in the Douglass family. It is unclear where on the property this house resided.

There is a possibility the grave could belong to a member of the Douglass family for a variety of reasons. First, from the pictures, the headstone appears to date to the 19th century and the Douglass' occupied the land sometime in the 19th century. Second, the Douglass' were an influential family in Sumner County throughout the 18th and 19th centuries and many of them resided along Long Hollow Pike. In a map dated to 1878 there are at least 9 members of the Douglass family living on or near Long Hollow Pike. This includes two structures owned by an R.E. Douglass on the same property that was deeded to Rufus Smith. In addition, there are at least three different cemeteries in Sumner County bearing the name Douglass, but some of the Douglass family members burial places are unknown. The Douglass family is discussed in more detail below.

In 1897, Rufus Smith deeded 18 acres on the west of this tract of land to an F.H. Dunklin. It is unclear exactly where in the west the property deeded to Dunklin is.

Rufus Smith resided on the remaining 297 acres until his death in 1898. He died intestate so his wife received 10 acres, referred to as the homestead tract, and 65 acres, referred to as the dower tract. The remaining 222 acres was distributed among his five children: Mamie S. Hutchison, Gertrude Davis, Ulie Smith, Vallie Smith, and Margaret Smith.

Through various deeds and wills between Rufus Smith's heirs, all 297 acres came to be owned by Vallie Smith, Ulie Smith, and Mamie Hutchison's four children: W. Rufus Hutchison, Robert F. Hutchison, Margaret Hutchison Helm, and Mamie Hutchison Schaars.

In 1937, all 297 acres were deeded to C.C. Yowell. By this time, Vallie Smith (unmarried) was the only heir still residing on the property and it was stipulated that she be allowed to remain on the property until the end of the year.

As the Smith family resided on the property for 54 years and the property was referred to as the "home place of Rufus Smith" in the 1937 deed, there is a possibility the grave could belong to a member of the Smith family. The Smith family is discussed in more detail below.

In 1941, C.C. Yowell split the property and sold 40 acres south of Long Hollow Pike to a C.Y. Hibbett. The cemetery is located south of Long Hollow Pike but there is no mention of a cemetery in the deed.

Between 1941 and 1944 these 40 acres transferred between four different owners (C.Y. Hibbett, I.L. Cothron, R.H. Harah, and Oscar T. Clendenning, in that order).

In 1944, Oscar T. Clendenning deeded the same 40 acres to H.H. Kittrell. In addition, three years earlier, H.H. Kittrell was deeded 108 acres north of Long Hollow Pike by C.L. Lindsay. That 180 acres was part of a tract of land deeded to Lindsay by C.C. Yowell.

Kittrell resided on the property until his death in 1977. In his will he left all 148 acres to his two daughters Mary Frances K. Law and Anne K. Smith. His wife, Mary, had died several years prior in 1962. It is highly unlikely that the grave belongs to either H.H. Kittrell or Mary Kittrell as both are buried in Crestview Memory Gardens in Gallatin, Tennessee.

In 1977, Mary and Anne deeded 5.42 acres of their land to Donald O. Riddle and his wife Linda Faye. In this deed it is noted that a cemetery is located on the deeded tract of land. This is the first instance of the cemetery being mentioned in a deed.

Twenty years later, in 1997, the Riddles deeded the same 5.42 acres to John F. Newman. In 2018, the property was sold to TNHomesites.com, who is the current owner of the property. It is again noted in the deed that a cemetery is located on the deeded tract of land.

Although the cemetery is not mentioned on any deed prior to 1977, that does not necessarily exclude the possibility that the cemetery existed prior to then as it has not always been legally required to include such information on deeds. In addition, based on the morphology of the headstone and degree of degradation, the grave likely well pre-dates 1977.

Genealogy

Through census data, burial records, marriage records, death records, and obituaries, CRA was able to assemble the Douglass and Smith family trees and identify multiple living relatives for each family. Both families are discussed in detail below.

Douglass Family

The first of the Douglass family to move to Sumner County were Col. Edward Douglass (1713-1795) and his wife Sarah George (1724-1797) (see Figure 1a-c). They moved to Sumner County from the Colony of Virginia around 1785 and were very influential in the community. It is said that the first court of Sumner County was held in his barnyard. In addition, two of his sons, James and Edward, participated in the writing of the Constitution of Tennessee. In total, Edward and Sarah had nine children together. Both Edward and Sarah, along with their daughter Elizabeth Douglass Cage, are buried in the Cage Family Cemetery in Sumner County, Tennessee. Their two youngest sons, James and Reuben, are buried in the Douglas-Pardue Cemetery in Sumner County. The grave locations of their three oldest sons: John, William, and Elmore; and the grave of their youngest daughter, Sarah Douglass Blakemore, are unknown.

Edward and Sarah's youngest son Reuben (1763-1832) married Elizabeth "Betsy" Edwards (1774-1839) in 1791 and together they had eleven children. Their youngest daughter, Emma (1810-1881), married William Fulton Sanders Clark (1806-1847) who was also influential in Sumner County. Together they occupied the Clark House which was constructed in 1781 and still stands in its original location, approximately one half mile west of the unmarked grave. William and Emma had four sons together: Reuben, Charles, David, and Edward. Charles was the only son to survive the Civil War. Charles is buried in the Douglass-Pardue Cemetery along with his parents and one of his brothers, Reuben. The other two brothers' burial locations are unknown. The surviving son (Charles) did marry and have two children but it is unclear if either of them had any children of their own.

Reuben and Elizabeth's eldest son William "Willie" Douglass (1792-1866), also variously referred to as Wyley and Wyllis, was married two times. His first wife, Elizabeth "Eliza" Wakins (1802-1832) is buried in the Douglass-Pardue Cemetery, while his second wife Lucinda Grimm (1818-1901) is buried in the Gallatin City Cemetery. Willie has markers in both cemeteries so it is unclear where he is actually buried.

Willie Douglass had six children by his first wife. His second eldest son was named Richard E. Douglass and is likely the R.E. Douglass that sold 315 acres to Rufus Smith. It is of note that in her will, Sarah Douglass willed her estate to her grandson, Wyllis Douglass, likely Richard's father. It is unclear if the 315 acres Richard sold were part of the original Col. Edward and Sarah Douglass estate. However, it is a possibility.

Richard Douglass (1825-1896) married Sarah Walton (1827-1923) in 1849, in Sumner County, and together they had eight children. Both Richard and Sarah are buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery in McKenzie, Carroll County, Tennessee. Six of his eight children are also buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery including his eldest son Josiah Douglass (1851-1931) and Josiah's wife, Isola Biles (1858-1916).

Josiah Douglass married Isola Biles in 1877 and together they had one son, John M. Douglass. Josiah Douglass was a professor who taught in various schools across Tennessee and Kentucky, but ultimately settled back in Carroll County. At the time of his death, his son was a well-known newspaper man in Lawrenceburg, Tennessee.

John Douglass (1902-1983) married Mamie Kraus (1905-1999) in 1929 and together they had two children, a son, Joseph W. Douglass (1935-2019), and a daughter, Isola Tucker (1941-1972). John and Mamie, along with both of their children, are buried in Calvary Cemetery in Lawrenceburg, Lawrence County, Tennessee.

Joseph W. Douglass (1935-2019), was a professor like his grandfather. Also like his grandfather, Joseph taught in many places across Tennessee and his time in the military took he and his wife Victoria Jane overseas for some time. Ultimately Joseph and his wife settled back in Lawrenceburg and had six children together. Joseph's obituary indicates that there are a large number of living Douglass relatives, most of them residing in Lawrenceburg, Tennessee (see attached contact information for Joseph's son, Joseph Walton Douglass, Jr.).

Smith Family

James Rufus Smith (1840-1897) and his wife Rebecca McDaniel (1844-1928) were the first of the Smith family to live on the property previously owned by the Douglass family (see Figure 2). Rufus purchased the property in 1883 and resided on it with his wife and their five surviving children for 14 years until his death in 1897. Rufus is buried in the Gallatin City Cemetery in Sumner County, Tennessee. Rufus's wife Rebecca remained on the property for an additional 31 years until her death in 1928. She is also buried in the Gallatin City Cemetery.

Rufus and Rebecca's youngest child and only surviving son, Ulie Smith (1888-1964), was one of the siblings who ultimately sold the property in 1937. In 1937, Ulie was living in Nashville, Tennessee while his older sister, Vallie Smith (1880-1963), remained on the property until it was sold. It is unclear where she moved, but she is buried in the Gallatin City Cemetery alongside her mother and father and two of her sisters.

Ulie Smith married Laura Pugh (1882-1956) in 1915 in Davidson County, Tennessee. Together they had two children: a son, Lloyd Smith (1916-2003), and a daughter, Mary Smith (1925-2018). Ulie and Laura lived in Davidson County from their marriage until their deaths and both are buried in Woodlawn Memorial Park, Nashville, Davidson County, Tennessee.

Ulie and Laura's daughter, Mary, married twice. She first married Clyde Krech (1924-1966) and together they had two sons, Clyde Krech and Paul Krech. Three years after her first husband died, Mary got remarried to John Henderson (1922-1986) but they had no children together. Mary and both of her husbands are buried in Woodlawn Memorial Park.

Mary's obituary indicates that there are a large number of living Smith relatives, most of them residing in Nashville, Tennessee (see attached contact information for Mary's son, Clyde Randall Krech Jr.).

Re: Unmarked Cemetery Located on 1919 Long Hollow Pike, Gallatin, Tennessee,

Dear Mr. Clyde Krech, Jr.,

I represent the owner of a piece of real property located at 1919 Long Hollow Pike, Gallatin, Tennessee 37066. Located on this property is an unmarked headstone that appears to date to the 19th century. The deed indicates that a small cemetery is located thereon. The earliest known landowner associated with the property is R.E. Douglass. It is unknown when R.E. Douglass first acquired the property, but he likely resided on the property until he sold 315 acres to Rufus Smith in 1883. You are receiving this letter because a genealogical survey indicated that you are a potential descendant of Rufus Smith, and thus a potential descendant from one of the persons buried in the unmarked cemetery.

It is my client's intention to terminate and move the cemetery pursuant to T.C.A. §46-4-101 et seq. Currently, the cemetery sits on property at the corner of Long Hollow Pike and Big Station Camp Boulevard in Gallatin and is in an abandoned state that is unfit to be the final resting place of the persons buried. My client intends to file a petition with the Chancery Court of Sumner County to terminate the cemetery and have the persons buried therein professionally disinterred and reinterred at a more suitable location. Pursuant to the procedure set for in the Tennessee Code, we are reaching out to you as a possible descendant.

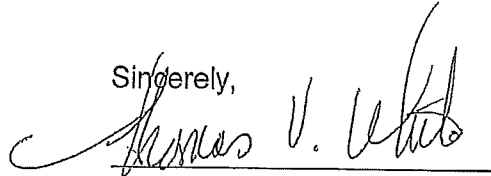

If you believe that you have descended from one of the persons above, have information on persons who may be descendants, or have an interest in the termination of this cemetery please contact me within ten (10) days of receipt of this letter.

TUNE, ENTREKIN & WHITE, P.C.

You may reach me via email at: tvwhite@tewlawfirm.com or by phone at: (615) 244-2770.

Sincerely,

Subject: Smith Family

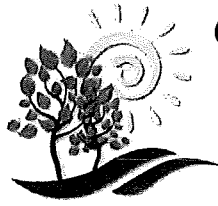

I am one of the great grandsons of Rufus Smith. My wife does genealogy work and we know that Rufus and his family are buried in the Gallatin city cemetery. His parents are buried in Smith county. They did have a small child that died but we think it was before they owned this property. We do not know whom this headstone belongs to.

This is your authorization from me to move forward with what ever needs to be done to accommodate the owner of the property. If you need to contact me you can at 615.406.0852.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.
