Justification for Removal
The Peter Paul Shule Barn was listed in the National Register of Historic Places on May 13, 1982 for its significance in Architecture under Criterion C. Aerial images show that the building is extant in 2004 but had disappeared by 2011. Due to its destruction, the Peter Paul Shule Barn has lost the characteristics for which it was listed. Therefore, it should be removed from the National Register of Historic Places.
