Troops to Teachers

1. What Is It?

Troops to Teachers (TTT) helps current and former military personnel begin teaching careers and find teaching positions in secondary schools, K-12.

2. How Do I Qualify?

All current and former members of the Armed Forces with an "honorable" discharge are eligible to receive counseling and employment facilitation services.

3. What Do I Get?

Counseling and Referral Assistance:

- Individual counseling to assist the participant in exploring and selecting the best pathway to teaching based on their unique needs, goals, and skills, (NOTE: As of August 2018, local TTT assistance is provided in 31 states via grant funding).
- Guidance on how to meet state teaching certification regulations and choose a certification program.
- Transcript evaluation for state certification.
- Insight on licensing options, to include substitute teaching licenses.

Employment Assistance:

- Conduct resume reviews.
- Connect qualified participants with hiring officials.
- Financial assistance in the form of a $5K stipend or $10K bonus may be available to participants who meet military service, education, and application requirements. For more information, visit <https://www.proudtoserveagain.com/Participants/financialassistance>
- Application must be submitted within 3 years of retirement/separation/release from the Armed Forces.

4. How Do I apply?
