Soddy Daisy Guardsman becomes Military Police Soldier

SODDY DAISY, Tenn. – Pfc. Tyler D. Crowe graduated from the Army's Basic Combat Training and Advanced Individual Training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, on Sept. 9, 2021.

During the intense 20-week program, Crowe qualified as a U.S. Army Military Police Soldier and trained in military intelligence collection, corrections, law enforcement, and security. He then returned to his assigned unit, Oneida's 252nd Military Police Company.

Crowe is a graduate of Sequoyah High School and currently attending the University of Tennessee Chattanooga. He plans to commission as an Army Officer from the university's Reserve Officers Training Corps program.
