Cleveland native becomes indirect fire infantryman

CLEVELAND, Tenn. – Pfc. Kaleb Bunton graduated from the Army’s Indirect Fire Infantryman school completing Basic and Advanced training at a One Stop Unit Training at Fort Benning, Georgia, on Dec. 3, 2021.

During this rigorous and intense 22-week program, Bunton successfully qualified as an Indirect Fire Infantryman. Bunton will carry out scout missions to spot enemy troops and gun locations, operate two-radio and signal equipment to relay battle orders. Bunton is assigned to Troop N, 4th Squadron, 278th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

“I’ve enjoyed the Guard and am looking forward to seeing what the future holds,” said Burton.

Bunton is a graduate of Bradley County Virtual School.
