Welcome!

- Welcome! As you come in, please find a comfortable seat.
- Using the white card stock, please make a name tent.
  - Include:
    - Name
    - District
    - Role
Module 2: Introduction to Shared Reading
Objectives

- Understand the purpose and goals of shared reading and how it contributes to students’ reading growth and achievement
- Understand how shared reading fits into a larger literacy block
- Make connections to past learning, with a specific focus on key similarities and differences between shared reading and interactive read alouds
Shared reading lessons focus on the explicit teaching of Foundational Literacy and Reading standards, while incorporating additional Writing and Speaking & Listening standards through questioning, discussion, and tasks.
TEAM Connection

- Standards and Objectives
- Motivating Students
- Presenting Instructional Content
- Activities and Materials
- Teacher Content Knowledge
  - Teacher regularly implements a variety of subject-specific instructional strategies to enhance student content knowledge.
- Teacher Knowledge of Students
Reflection on your current understanding of shared reading.

- Independently complete the anticipation guide in your manual on page 16.
- In the blank rows, write in your own beliefs about shared reading.
Shared Reading: Video

- Watch a video of a first grade shared reading lesson.
- In a group of three, complete the “Looks Like, Sounds Like, Feels Like” chart in your manual and discuss the following questions:
  - What similarities are there between the shared reading lessons in your school and the approach you saw in the video?
  - What differences are there between the shared reading lessons in your school and the approach you saw in the video?
What is Shared Reading?

- As a table group of eight:
  - Three members from your group will read Section 1
  - Three members from your group will read Section 2
  - Two members from your group will read Section 3

- Highlight or underline key ideas—you’ll need to summarize these key ideas to the rest of your group!
What is Shared Reading?

- With your group of eight, work together to complete a KLQ Chart on a piece of poster paper.
- Be sure to share the most important information from your section with your group.
- You will have opportunities to add to and update your chart throughout this module.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What we know or have learned about shared reading and why it is important</th>
<th>Questions we still have about shared reading</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Definition: An interactive experience in which students join in the reading of an on grade level complex text with teacher guidance and support.
Instructional Strategies for Reading

Purposes of Shared Reading

- Promotes word analysis, fluency, and comprehension skills and strategies
- Uses supported reading structures (i.e., choral reading, echo reading, etc.)
- Develops knowledge and vocabulary

- Provides opportunities for authentic application of skills-based and knowledge-based competencies
- Provides opportunities for teacher modeling
Shared Reading at Different Grade Levels

- Shared reading looks different at different grade levels, given variations in students’ developmental readiness, the expectations of grade level standards, and students’ independent reading abilities.

- At the same time, many features of effective shared reading instruction are consistent across grade levels.
Shared Reading at Different Grade Levels

- Read the following two pages in your manual that explain the traits of shared reading instruction at the grades K–1 level and at the grades 2–3 level.
- Highlight or underline key ideas.
- Then, discuss the following questions with a partner.
  - What are key differences between shared reading in grades K–1 and shared reading in grades 2–3?
  - What are key similarities between shared reading in grades K–1 and shared reading in grades 2–3?
Shared Reading: Video

- Now watch extended video of the first grade shared reading lesson using the book In the Small, Small Pond.
- Consider the research you just studied, and make new connections between this video and your learning.
- As you watch, reflect on the questions in your manual.
- Discuss your responses with your 3 o’clock partner.
Shared Reading and Close Reading

- Read the research excerpt in your manual on page 26.
- Use the annotation guide below to support your comprehension.

- ! – This is a new idea for me
- ✔ – This is an idea I’ve already thought about and agree with
- ? – I have a question about this

- Then, discuss the questions at the end of the passage with a partner:
  - How are shared reading and close reading similar? How are they different?
  - How are shared reading and close reading both effective strategies for meeting the demands of our standards?
Shared Reading and Close Reading

- Update your group’s chart, using information from this article as well as the video you just watched.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What we Know or Have Learned about Shared Reading and Why it is Important</th>
<th>Questions we Still Have about Shared Reading</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

How Do We Support All Students in Accessing Grade Level Texts?

- Review the two research excerpts in your manual.
- Then, find a new partner sitting at your table, and discuss the questions at the end of this section:
  - What kind of instructional setting is required for students to be able to access grade level texts successfully?
  - How can teachers approach instructional planning in a way that ensures students get the differentiation and background knowledge they need?
How Do We Support All Students in Accessing Grade Level Texts?

For Comprehension, Knowledge Matters More Than Reading Ability

Knowledge Matters, accessed 2016
TEAM Connection: Teacher Knowledge of Students

- When teachers utilize appropriate scaffolds during shared reading, all students are able to access grade level texts successfully.
- The use of interactive read alouds to build background knowledge and vocabulary can provide an appropriate scaffold for supporting students in accessing grade level text.
- Providing differentiated supports during shared reading allows all students to master what is being taught.
Shared Reading and the Literacy Block

- Watch how this kindergarten teacher organizes her literacy block.
- As you watch, independently reflect and respond to the questions in your manual.
- Then, discuss your reflections with a partner.

- Break: Let’s take a 15 minute break. We will start back promptly at 2:45.
Making Connections between Read Alouds and Shared Reading

- Independently review the statements on the left side of the manual page that describe traits of read aloud, shared reading, or both.
- Draw a line from the description to the appropriate section on the right side of the page.
Making Connections between Read Alouds and Shared Reading

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Read Aloud</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Texts are above grade level</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teacher reads aloud the text</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Focus primarily on Reading standards</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Focus on the application of comprehension strategies, such as inferring, summarizing, predicting, etc.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Both Read Aloud and Shared Reading</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Texts are selected purposefully, considering both complexity and quality, as well as the use of diverse text types</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Text-dependent questions are thoughtfully scaffolded to guide students to deeper levels of understanding of the text</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teachers model the thinking and actions of proficient readers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Focus on building vocabulary and world knowledge; lessons connect to content area standards, including science, social studies, health, technology, and the arts</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Daily and culminating tasks support students’ comprehension</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Shared Reading</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Texts are on grade level and align with appropriate text complexity expectations</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Students share responsibility for reading the text</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Focus equally on Reading and Foundational Literacy standards, including fluency</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Focus on the application of both comprehension strategies and word attack strategies</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Reflect on all that you’ve learned so far about shared reading.

Then, discuss the following questions with a partner:

– In your own words, what is shared reading? What are the most important characteristics of an effective shared reading lesson?
– How does shared reading support students’ reading achievement?
Synthesis: Shared Reading

- Update your group’s chart

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What we Know or Have Learned about Shared Reading and Why it is Important</th>
<th>Questions we Still Have about Shared Reading</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Use this tool to support your teachers in identifying specific areas of their shared reading practice they’d like to work on.