2) Universal Service Schools and Libraries Program

> Provides discounts for affordable telecommunications and Internet access services to ensure that schools and libraries have access to affordable telecommunications and information services.

Additional Information:
> This program is also known as "E-Rate" and is administered by the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) under the direction of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), and connects the nation's schools and libraries to broadband. When E-rate was established in 1996, only 14 percent of the nation's K-12 classrooms had access to the Internet. Today, virtually all schools and libraries have Internet access. The FCC began updating E-rate in 2010 and in July 2014, released the E-rate Modernization Order expanding Wi-Fi networks in schools and libraries across America while ensuring support continues to be available for broadband connectivity to schools and libraries.

Eligibility:
> To be eligible:
> 1) Schools must provide elementary or secondary education as determined under state law.
> 2) Schools may be public or private institutional day or residential schools, or public charter schools.
> 3) Schools must operate as non-profit businesses.
> 4) Schools cannot have an endowment exceeding $50 million.
> 5) Libraries must be eligible for assistance from a state library administrative agency under that Act.
> 6) Libraries must have budgets completely separate from any schools (including, but not limited to, elementary and secondary schools, colleges and universities).
> 7) Libraries cannot operate as for-profit businesses.

3) Rural Health Care Program

> The Rural Health Care Program, which includes the new Healthcare Connect Fund, provides funding to eligible health care providers (HCPs) for telecommunications and broadband services necessary for the provision of health care. The goal of the program is to improve the quality of health care available to patients in rural communities by ensuring that eligible HCPs have access to telecommunications and broadband services. Funding for the Rural Health Care Program is capped at $400 million annually.

Additional Information:
- ➤ The Rural Health Care Program of the Universal Service Fund makes discounts available to eligible rural health care providers for telecommunication services and monthly Internet service charges. The program is intended to ensure that rural health care providers pay no more for telecommunications in the provision of health care services than their urban counterparts. The Rural Health Care Program is currently made up of four programs: the Healthcare Connect Fund, the Telecommunications Program, the Internet Access Program, and the Rural Health Care Pilot Program.
- ➤ The Rural Health Care Program reimburses telecommunications and Internet service providers for services provided to rural health care providers. While health care providers apply for these discounts, USAC works in conjunction with service providers to make sure these discounts are passed on to program participants.

Eligibility:
- ➤ Eligible organizations include:
  - Post-secondary educational institutions offering health care instruction, teaching hospitals, or medical schools
  - Community health centers or health centers providing health care to migrants
  - Local health departments or agencies including dedicated emergency departments of rural for-profit hospitals
  - Community mental health centers
  - Not-for-profit hospitals
  - Rural health clinics including mobile clinics
  - Consortia of HCPs consisting of one or more of the above entities
  - Part-time eligible entities located in otherwise ineligible facilities

Appalachian Regional Commission

The Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) is a regional economic development agency that represents a partnership of federal, state, and local government. Established by an act of Congress in 1965, ARC is composed of the governors of the 13 Appalachian states and a federal co-chair, who is appointed by the president. Local participation is provided through multi-county local development districts.

Each year ARC provides funding for several hundred projects in the Appalachian Region, in areas such as business development, education and job training, telecommunications, infrastructure, community development, housing, and transportation. These projects create thousands of new jobs; improve local water and sewer systems; increase school readiness; expand access to health care; assist local communities with strategic planning; and provide technical and managerial assistance to emerging businesses.

1) Appalachian Regional Commission Project Grant Program
  ➤ This program awards grants to projects that create jobs and improve infrastructure, enabling the people of Appalachia to compete in a global economy. These grants include funds that may be used to improve broadband access, such as distance learning, telehealth/telemedicine, e-government, and e-business applications and workforce development.

Additional Information:
  ➤ Most ARC project grants originate at the state level. Potential applicants should contact their state's ARC program manager, whose contact info is below, to request a preapplication package.
  ➤ ARC project grants can be used for business development and entrepreneurship, education and training, health care access, physical infrastructure, including broadband, and leadership development and civic capacity.

Eligibility:
  ➤ Only New York counties included in the Appalachian Regional Commission are eligible for funding. These counties include Allegany, Broome, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Chemung, Chenango, Cortland, Delaware, Otsego, Schoharie, Schuyler, Steuben, Tioga, and Tompkins. Interested organizations must contact the New York State Department of State to discuss individual project eligibility requirements.

United States Department of Commerce:
Economic Development Administration

The Economic Development Administration (EDA) was established under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 (42 U.S.C. § 3121), as amended, to generate jobs, help retain existing jobs, and stimulate industrial and commercial growth in economically distressed areas of the United States. EDA assistance is available to rural and urban areas of the Nation experiencing high unemployment, low income, or other severe economic distress.

In fulfilling its mission, EDA is guided by the basic principle that distressed communities must be empowered to develop and implement their own economic development and revitalization strategies. EDA helps distressed communities address problems associated with long-term economic distress, as well as sudden and severe economic dislocations including recovering from the economic impacts of natural disasters, the closure of military installations and other Federal facilities, changing trade patterns, and the depletion of natural resources.

1) Economic Development Facilities and Public Works
  ➢ Provides funding for construction of infrastructure in areas that are not attractive to private investment. Most funding is for water and sewer infrastructure but some has been designated for communications projects.

Additional Information:
  ➢ Public Works and Economic Development investments help support the construction or rehabilitation of essential public infrastructure and facilities necessary to generate or retain private sector jobs and investments, attract private sector capital, and promote regional competitiveness, including investments that expand and upgrade infrastructure to attract new industry, support technology-led development, redevelop Brownfield sites and provide eco-industrial development.

Eligibility:
  ➢ An Eligible Applicant that is a non-profit organization must include in its application for Investment Assistance a resolution passed by (or a letter signed by) an authorized representative of a general purpose political subdivision of a State, acknowledging that it is acting in cooperation with officials of such political subdivision.

Institute of Museum and Library Services

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), an independent government agency established by Congress in 1996, promotes innovation, lifelong learning, and cultural and civic engagement in libraries and museums. IMLS supports the exemplary stewardship of museum and library collections, with emphasis on the use of technology to facilitate the discovery and dissemination of knowledge and cultural heritage.

1) Library Services and Technology Act Grants to States
  ➢ Provides funds for a wide range of services including installation of fiber and wireless networks that provide access to library resources.

Additional Information:
  ➢ Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) Grants to States has been the largest grant program run by IMLS for 50 years. LSTA encourages proposals that expand the traditional mission of collecting and circulating physical holdings to one that provides access to computers, software, and other digital information services.

Eligibility:
  ➢ Any New York State library administrative agency is eligible to submit a five-year plan.

2) Native American Library Services Grant
  ➢ Provides grants to support library services including electronically linking libraries to networks.
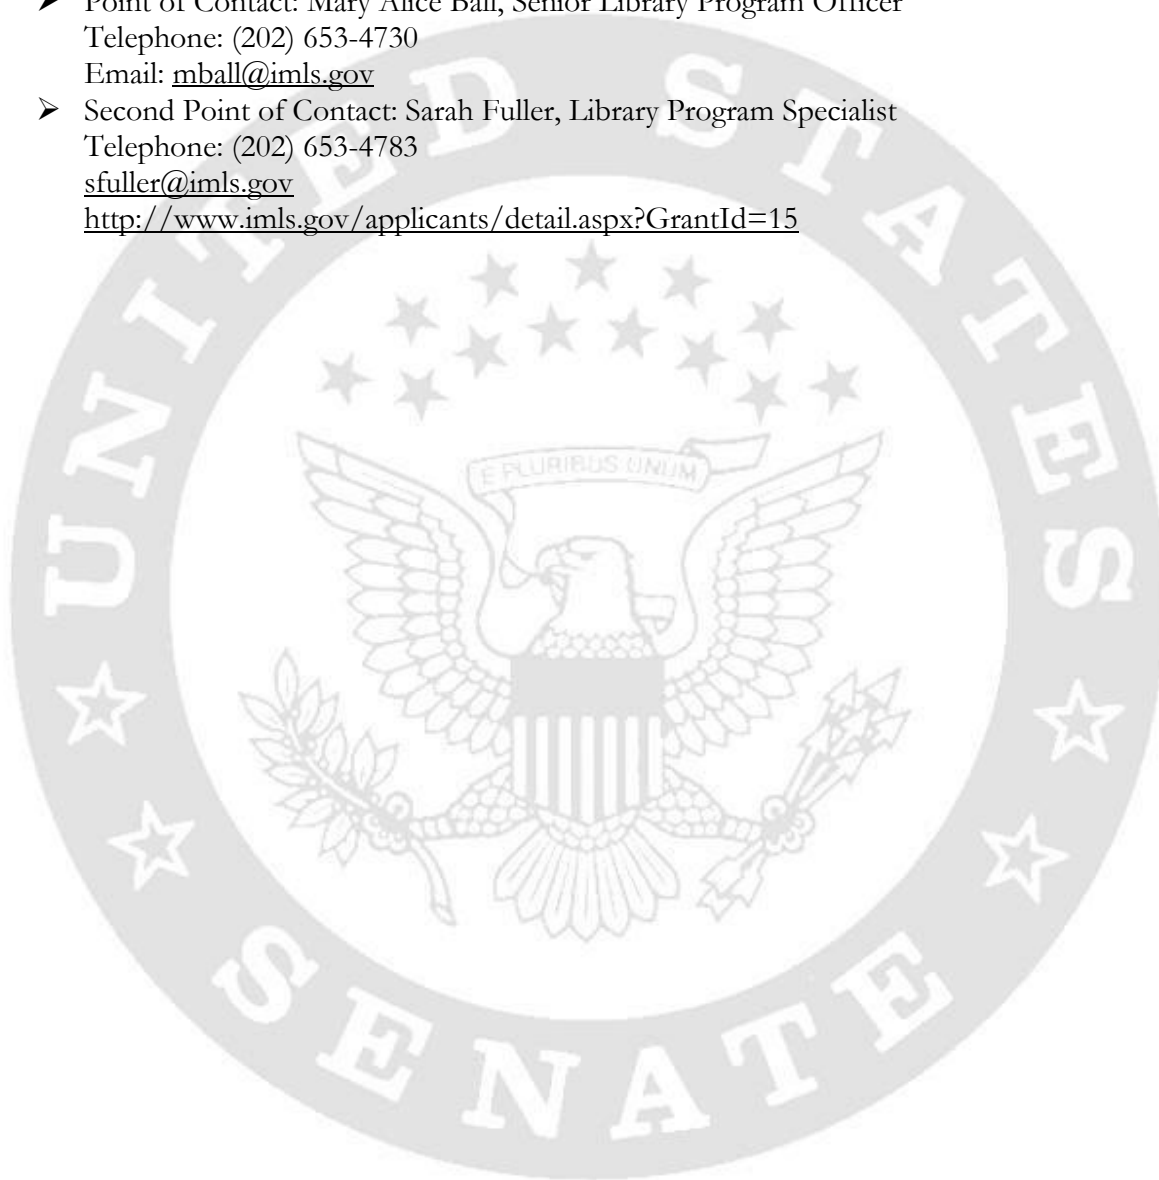

Additional Information:
  ➢ The Native American Library Services (NALS) Basic Grant is noncompetitive and distributed in equal amount among eligible applicants. NALS Basic Grants are available to support existing library operations and core library services. The Education/Assessment Option, a supplemental grant to the NALS Basic Grant, supports library staff to attend or give presentations and to hire a consultant for on-site assessment.

Eligibility:
- ➢ Indian tribes, Alaska native villages, regional corporations, and village corporations are eligible to apply for funding under the Native American Library Services grant program. Entities such as libraries, schools, tribal colleges, or departments of education are not eligible applicants, although they may be involved in the administration of this program and their staff may serve as project directors, in partnership with an eligible applicant.
