Note: Most of this information to this point in the presentation and all of the preceding charts were drawn from the Federal Education Budget Project, a non-partisan source of information about federal education funding whose goal is to help heighten the quality of debate on federal education funding and to support development of fiscally responsible proposals to improve federal support for education. http://febp.newamerica.net/about
Tennessee’s constitution makes funding public schools the General Assembly’s responsibility.

“The state of Tennessee recognizes the inherent value of education and encourages its support. The General Assembly shall provide for the maintenance, support and eligibility standards of a system of free public schools.” Article IX, Section 12

“The constitution . . . imposes upon the General Assembly the obligation to maintain and support a system of free public schools that affords substantially equal educational opportunities to all students.”

Funding public schools in Tennessee is the General Assembly’s responsibility.

- “The means whereby this obligation is accomplished, is a legislative prerogative.
- “The system may include the imposition of funding and management responsibilities upon counties, municipalities, and school districts, within their respective constitutional powers.
- “However, the constitution does not permit the indifference or inability of those state agencies to defeat the constitutional mandate of substantial equality of opportunity.”

The BEP Formula

- determines the amount required to fully fund the BEP based on more than forty components.
- divides responsibility for funding the formula:
  - Instructional costs: 70% state; 30% local
  - Other classroom costs: 75% state; 25% local
  - Non-classroom costs: 50% state; 50% local
The BEP Formula

State Funding Sources

- #1 Source: State Sales Tax

- Lesser Sources:
  - Cigarette Tax
  - Mixed Drink Tax
  - Litigation Privilege Tax
The BEP Formula
Local Funding Sources

- Property Taxes
- Sales Taxes
- Lesser Sources:
  - Wheel Taxes
  - Local Share of Mixed Drink Tax
  - Other State-shared Taxes
  - TVA Payments in Lieu of Taxes
The BEP Formula

Local Funding Sources

- Counties must share all local revenue raised for schools.

- Cities and special school districts must raise additional revenue and are not required to share it.
The Financing of K-12 Education

The General Assembly alone is responsible for meeting Tennessee’s constitutional requirement to afford “substantially equal educational opportunities to all students,” including ensuring equity between and among cities and counties.
