REZONING: School board chooses Plan A

DOUG MOORE, left, and Michael Khars, supervisors in the Cleveland City Schools system, provided members of the Cleveland Board of Education with specific differences in the two proposals for rezoning of the school system's elementary schools Thursday afternoon. After months of discussion, and community meetings, the school board approved the Zone A proposal, with the zoning change to take effect at the start of the 2019-20 school year.
