

Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement (CMAQ) Program

This initiative focuses on adding or expanding transit service along key commuting corridors in eligible areas. This may include areas not currently served by existing transit service.

- Expanding transit service improves air quality and reduces congestion by promoting the use of alternative transportation, and aims to reduce the need for single-occupant vehicle trips.
- New and improved transit services create additional mobility options that improve the transportation network and close accessibility gaps.

Strategic Initiatives Air Quality Initiatives: New or Expanded Transit Service

