

STATE OF TENNESSEE

PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, every year Tennesseans face severe weather threats including flash floods, flooding, hailstorms, lightning, thunderstorms, wind, and tornadoes; and

WHEREAS, severe weather is a danger to life, health and property; and

WHEREAS, public awareness and education about the threat of severe weather is necessary to help every Tennessean prepare to protect themselves, their families and their neighbors; and

WHEREAS, local, state and federal departments and agencies, along with elected leaders, news media, professional associations and volunteers, are committed to informing and educating all Tennesseans about severe weather preparedness; and

WHEREAS, all Tennesseans need to understand the importance of preparedness and to have awareness about the threats around them; and

WHEREAS, the Tennessee Emergency Management Agency, the Tennessee Association of Broadcasters, and Tennessee's National Weather Service offices in Memphis, Morristown, Nashville, and Huntsville, AL want all Tennesseans to learn about severe weather safety;

NOW THEREFORE, I, Bill Lee, Governor of the State of Tennessee, do hereby proclaim the week of February 23 to February 29, 2020 as in Tennessee and encourage all citizens to join me in this worthy observance.

Severe Weather Awareness Week

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the State of Tennessee to be affixed at Nashville on this fourteenth day of February, 2020.

Bill Lee

Governor
