SUBJECT: Minority Teacher Education Awards

ACTION RECOMMENDED: Approval

BACKGROUND INFORMATION: The Minority Teacher Education Grant program is a matching grant program that supports pilot projects designed to expand the recruitment pool for minority teachers throughout the state. All Tennessee higher education institutions with approved teacher certification programs are eligible to apply. Successful proposals included the following components:

- Recruitment strategies targeting non-traditional groups (e.g., teacher aides, substitute teachers, in-school suspension teachers, and ex-military personnel presently not certified);
- Intervention strategies for successful test completion; and
- Partnerships with local k-12 education agencies.

This program, created and funded by the Tennessee Legislature, has been administered by the Commission since 1989. The 2004-2005 appropriation totals $200,000.

An advisory committee reviewed the 12 proposals submitted and recommended nine projects to the Executive Director totaling $200,000. The projects selected represent a variety of innovative approaches in public and private institutions covering a broad geographical area. Summaries of the projects follow.

The Advisory Committee consisted of:

Mr. William Arnold, Director of Interagency Programs and Research, Tennessee Higher Education Commission

Ms. Betty Dandridge Johnson, Director of Policy, Planning and Research, Tennessee Higher Education Commission

Dr. S. Kay Clark, Associate Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs, Tennessee Board of Regents

Dr. Robert Levy, Associate Vice Chancellor and Vice Provost, The University of Tennessee
AUSTIN PEAY STATE UNIVERSITY

Dr. Heraldo Richards

Project MORE: Minorities to be Outstanding, Responsible Educators

Austin Peay State University will work with the Clarksville-Montgomery County School District collectively to increase the number of African-American teachers in Tennessee to identify individuals in the area to enroll in this program. Project MORE will provide a coordinated support system, rigorous teacher education program, placement of practitioners in the school system and provide tutorial support and practice for the Pre-Professional Skills Test (PPST) and the Praxis II.

Project MOST: Minority Opportunities for Success in Teaching

The objective of Project MOST is to identify a pool of potential candidates, who are non-traditional minority students, moving them toward attainment of teaching positions in East Tennessee. Some of the non-traditional minority students will be recruited into the teacher education masters degree program, which will lead to initial licensure. Preference will be given to Tennessee residents. A large number of organizations and individuals will be asked to assist in recruiting potential participants. This program will provide extensive support in academic advising and mentoring, social activities, assistance in preparation for Praxis exams, quality field experiences and student teaching assignments in the partnering school districts.

Minority Teacher Recruitment and Training Initiative

The program will provide the opportunity for highly talented prospective minority teachers to enter the teaching profession and financial and mentoring resources to enable the “brightest and best” minority candidates to teach in Tennessee public school classrooms. Freed-Hardeman University constantly seeks opportunities to encourage highly promising potential teachers to spend their professional careers in Tennessee. The collaborative involvement of the West Tennessee Public School Districts lends a strength that can make this initiative work.

MT-COLORS Program

MTSU, in collaboration with LEA's, will target and recruit African-American males to the teaching profession. The collaborative project will support eight African-American male students during their coursework for earning a degree and professional licensure to teach. The MT-COLORS program will provide mentors within the university and K-12 environment to help students develop the knowledge base and leadership skills necessary to be successful in the classroom. The program will also provide valuable learning experiences, scholarships, and academic support to ensure successful completion and transition into the education profession.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE

Dr. Billye Joyce Fine

Minority Teacher Education Project

Milligan College will utilize a Minority Council to recruit and select participants for this project. The goal of the program is to recruit non-traditional minority students for a two-year certification process. During the Fall and Spring semesters, professional course work will accompany a year long internship in a partner school. In the concluding summer of professional studies, emphasis is on the completion of action research projects and licensure requirements. In addition, the program offers academic advisement, mentoring, and tutoring for national exams.

Preparation of Minority Personnel

This program responds to the shortage of qualified minority teachers. TSU, in collaboration with Sumner County School System, will recruit and support traditional minority undergraduates and students from non-traditional groups (e.g., substitute teachers, teachers aids, community college students, and military personnel) interested in completing the teacher education licensure program. Maintaining effective communication between students and mentors/teachers is a core objective of this program. Students also will be required to attend professional development workshops, utilize the Learning Plus program in the computer lab, and prepare a teaching portfolio.

Project Licensure: Preparing Practicing Non-Licensed Minority Teachers for Licensure and Permanent School Placement

The major goal of this program is to increase the number of African-American teachers in Memphis in collaboration with the Memphis City Schools. A significant component of the program is to better enable the students to pass the required national exams for licensure, which includes participation in intensive clinical experiences prior to teaching. Opportunities are provided for the students to become oriented to the program and to participate in cooperative learning. Project Licensure will give students the skills to positively address the academic needs of children in poverty, demonstrate effective use of strategies for a multicultural population, and demonstrate an understanding of the special needs of urban schools and communities they serve.

African-American Teacher Intern Project

The goal of this program is to fund African-American students who have completed all prerequisites of college and are entering their fifth year in a teaching internship. The layout of the internship has been developed in accordance with state guidelines and by ongoing collaboration of many school-based professionals, system officials and college representatives. During their internships, the students receive graduate credit for the combination of coursework integrated with teaching and conducting research projects relevant to their teaching.

SUPPORT #1, MENTOR #1, GRADUATE #1 (S.M.G#1)

S.M.G.#1’s goal is to increase the quality, quantity and diversity within a shrinking pool of minority teachers through a two-year mentoring program. This program also increases the students’ potential to produce high student achievement in low-performing schools. The program provides at risk minority students access to professionally trained minority faculty, staff and counseling mentors to expand their professional knowledge and skills through the goals of support, mentorship and graduation.
