

Davina B. Seaborn
United States Department of Labor
Disabled Veteran Outreach Specialist
Clarksville, TN

Davina B. Seaborn's work experience includes administration, customer service, public relations, federal government and military service. Davina has been with Tennessee Department of Labor & Workforce Development since May 2014 housed at the Clarksville American Job Center where she began as an intern while completing her degree in Public Management from Austin Peay State University (APSU). After being hired as a Disabled Veterans Outreach Program Specialist or "DVOP", she began networking with several entities within Montgomery County, Humphreys County, Cheatham County and Williamson County to include the APSU Military Student Center, Women Veterans of America (WVA), Disabled Veterans Of America (DAV), County Veteran Services Offices, and the Montgomery County Veterans Coalition for the purpose of gathering resources that will aide Veterans with significant barriers to employment in their paths to finding meaningful employment. Though her focus has been to assist military veterans as it pertained to her duties, many of those resources are and have been able to help all Tennesseans.

As for education and training, Davina is a veteran of the US Air Force Security Forces where she served to protect and defend resources vital to U.S. National Security, both nationally and internationally. She holds an Associate's in Administration of Justice, Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice with a concentraion in Homeland Security and a 2nd Bachelor of Science in Public Management. She is also a Certified Workforce Development Professional (CWDP), Offender Workforce Development Specialist (OWDS) and Global Career Development Facilitator (GCDF).
