Section 50-6-405 of the Tennessee Code Annotated reads, in part:

Every employer under and affected by the workers' compensation law (1) shall insure and keep insured his liability hereunder in some person or persons, association, organization or corporation authorized to transact the business of workers' compensation insurance in this state; or (2) shall furnish to the commissioner of commerce and insurance satisfactory proof of his financial ability to pay all claims that may arise against such employer under this chapter and guarantee the payment of the same in the amount and manner and when due as provided for in this chapter. If the employer elects to pursue the latter course, the commissioner of commerce and insurance shall, without discretion, require the deposit of an acceptable security of indemnity bond to secure the payment of compensation liability as may be insured under such law. Said bond shall be conditioned to run directly for the benefit of the employees subject to the workers' compensation law, and may be enforced by them directly in an action in their name. This chapter shall not apply to policies of insurance against loss from explosion of boiler or fly wheels, or other similar single catastrophe hazards.
